House Bill No. 1752.

To amend section one of an act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen entitled "An Act to increase the powers of courts in proceedings for desertion and non-support of wives children or aged parents and in proceedings for failure to comply with orders of court in fornication and bastardy proceedings or other proceedings for the support of illegitimate children directing that imprisonment in such cases be at hard labor in such institution as the court shall name providing for the payment by such institution or in certain cases by the county from which the defendant was committed of the sum of sixty-five cents per day to be paid to the person designated by the order of the court providing for the issuance of attachments and for the disbursement of moneys collected on forfeiture of bonds bail bonds or recognizances and providing for the payment by the county of the expenses incident to carrying out this act"

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments. The Clerk then read the amendments, as follows:

Amend by striking out entire title, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"To amend section one of an act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen entitled "An Act to increase the powers of courts in proceedings for desertion and non-support of wives children or aged parents and in proceedings for failure to comply with orders of court in fornication and bastardy proceedings or other proceedings for the support of illegitimate children directing that imprisonment in such cases be at hard labor in such institution as the court shall name providing for the payment by such institution or in certain cases by the county from which the defendant was committed of the sum of sixty-five cents per day to be paid to the person designated by the order of the court providing for the issuance of attachments and for the disbursements of moneys collected on forfeiture of bonds bail bonds or recognizances and providing for the payment by the county of the expenses incident to carrying out this act"

Amend section one by striking out the entire section, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever in any proceedings brought against any man wherein it is charged that he has without reasonable cause separated himself from his wife or children or from both or has neglected to maintain his wife or children or in any proceedings where any father of an illegitimate child has neglected to comply with the order of court made against him in fornication and bastardy proceedings or in any other proceedings for the support of such child for the payment to the mother of expenses incurred at the birth of the child or in any proceedings where any child of full age has neglected or shall neglect to maintain his or her parents not able to work or of sufficient ability to maintain themselves the court having jurisdiction shall commit the defendant to imprisonment for want of a bond with security or otherwise the court may order the defendant to be imprisoned at hard labor under existing laws or laws that may hereafter be passed in such penal or reformatory institution in this Commonwealth as the court shall direct or the court may discharge a defendant upon his own recognizance in the custody of a desertion probation officer or other person subject to such conditions as the court may in its discretion impose

"Whenever any defendant shall be ordered to be imprisoned at hard labor under the provisions of this act there shall be paid by the official in charge of the penal or reformatory institution in which such defendant is imprisoned to the person designated in the order of the court as the proper recipient of such money to be disbursed by the said recipient as the order of court may direct the sum of sixty-five cents for each day Sundays and legal holidays only excepted during which he remains imprisoned Such sum shall be paid as wages and shall be paid at such times and in such manner as other wages are paid by cities and counties and shall be charged as one of the general running expenses of such institution and if the labor done in such institution is not sufficient to pay the running expenses of such institution such sum shall be charged to and paid by the county from which such defendant was committed" be amended to read as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever in any proceedings brought against any man wherein it is charged that he has without reasonable cause separated himself from his wife or children or from both or has neglected to maintain his wife or children or in any proceedings where any father of an illegitimate child has neglected to comply with the order of court made against him in fornication and bastardy proceedings or in any other proceedings for the support of such child for the payment to the mother of the expenses incurred at the birth of the child or in any proceedings where any child of full age has neglected or shall neglect to maintain his or her parents not able to work or of sufficient ability to maintain themselves the court having jurisdiction shall commit the defendant to imprisonment for want of a bond with security or otherwise the court may order the defendant to be imprisoned at hard labor under existing laws or laws that may hereafter be passed in such penal or reformatory institution in this Commonwealth or in any almshouse or poorhouse within the jurisdiction of the court as the court shall direct or the court may discharge a defendant upon his own recognizance in the custody of a desertion probation officer or other person subject to such conditions as the court may in its discretion impose

"Whenever any defendant shall be ordered to be imprisoned at hard labor under the provisions of this act there shall be paid by the official in charge of the penal or reformatory institution in which such defendant is imprisoned to the person designated in the order of the court as the proper recipient of such money to be disbursed by the said recipient as the order of the court may direct the sum of sixty-five cents for each day Sundays and legal holidays only excepted during which he remains imprisoned Such sum shall be paid as wages and shall be paid at such times and in such manner as other wages are paid by cities and counties and shall be charged as one of the general running expenses of such institution and if the labor done in such institution is not sufficient to pay the running expenses of such institution such sum shall be charged to and paid by the county from which such defendant was committed

"Whenever any defendant shall be ordered to be imprisoned at hard labor in an almshouse or poorhouse under the provisions of this section there shall be paid by the proper officers in charge of such almshouse or poorhouse to the said recipient the sum of one dollar for each day that such defendant performs actual work in and about such almshouse or poorhouse or the farm or farms connected therewith to be disbursed by the said recipient as the order of court may direct.

Amend on page 11, line 4, by striking out the figure "3" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "2." Also in line 4 by striking out the word "the" after the word "all."

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, June 26, 1917.
Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 335, entitled An Act to amend section two thousand thirty-four of article twenty of an act entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven by authorizing and empowering the State Board of Education to make purchases and sales of real estate for normal schools purchased by the State and prescribing the disposition of the proceeds of any such sale, be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution from the Senate? It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, June 26, 1917.
Whereas, The Honorable George Wilkins Guthrie died in Tokio, Japan, March 8, 1917, and

Whereas, In his life he rendered to this his native State invaluable services both in position of public trust and as a private citizen; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the State of Pennsylvania desires to place upon its records its appreciation of the character and accomplishments of Mr. Guthrie, and to express to his family and friends its recognition of the loss the State has sustained in his death. He was a man of distinguished ability. He was prominent in the affairs of the Democratic party for many years; a graduate of the Western University, he was made an LL. D. of the University of Pittsburgh in 1905. In 1876 he served as associate counsel for the Tilden electors in Florida. In 1902 he was the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of the State, and was later made a delegate to the Democratic National Convention. In 1906 he was elected Mayor of Pittsburgh, an office which he filled with distinction. In 1915 he was sent to Japan—being one of the first Ambassadors appointed by the President. He was highly honored by the Japanese and rendered signal service in strengthening the friendly relations between that country and the United States. The Japanese Cabinet paid him the compliment of sending his body to the United States on the warship Asuma with all the honors that could possibly be shown. Mr. Guthrie was active and prominent as a Mason. In the midst of his activities as a lawyer and business man he found time to serve as director of financial institutions, to act as Trustee of the University of Pittsburgh and as manager of hospitals, and was an active member of the Chamber of Commerce of that city. He was a man of the highest integrity and his loss will be felt seriously in the many associations where his industry, ability and honesty played an important part.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution from the Senate? It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, June 26, 1917.
Whereas, The National Government erected at Valley Forge an imposing arch commemorative of the sacrifice and suffering of our forefathers therein 1777-78, and

Whereas, On Tuesday, June 19, 1917, the 139th anniversary of the evacuation of the camp at Valley Forge by Washington and his incomparably brave men, the National Government formally transferred this arch to the care and custody of this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The Honorable Champ Clark, the Speaker of the National House of Representatives, made on this occasion the presentation address, and Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh accepted the same on behalf of the Commonwealth in an address on the "Spirit of Valley Forge," which address has attracted unusual interest and much favorable comment, and

Whereas, The Congress of the United States has requested the Governor to allow said address to be printed in the Congressional Record; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor be requested to furnish a copy of his address at Valley Forge on June 19, 1917, for publication in the Legislative Journal and that the Superintendent of Public Printing be directed to publish in pamphlet form one hundred thousand (100,000) copies for distribution in the public schools of Pennsylvania and elsewhere.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution from the Senate? It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 893, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the City of Philadelphia for the construction reconstruction and repair of suburban roads and highways

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, this bill appropriates five hundred thousand dollars to the City of Philadelphia for the purpose of building so-called suburban roads. I don't believe that the bill should pass. I am aware of the fact that there is a mileage of what may be called rural roads in the County of Philadelphia. I am aware of the fact also that the City and the County of Philadelphia are co-extensive and that the Highway Department has no authority to spend the money that is appropriated to it within the limits of the City and, therefore, no part of the road appropriations can be expended in the County of Philadelphia. Notwithstanding the fact that the County of Philadelphia pays a large proportion of the State tax from which the Highway appropriation money is derived, I am informed that there are probably somewhere near three hundred miles of road in Philadelphia County that may be considered rural roads, a portion of which is improved and there are probably somewhere near a hundred miles of unimproved rural roads in Philadelphia County. I wish to treat my objection under two heads: In the first place there is no specific road appropriation to any county in the State and there should be no specific appropriation to any county, I think. Second, the State is behind on its obligations to pay money to the townships throughout the State on what is known as the cash road tax bonus, and the State being behind in that obligation almost two million dollars, that that obligation should be met before new obligations of a local character are undertaken. In the third place if an appropriation is to be made to Philadelphia, the proportion is altogether wrong. We have some ten thousand miles of highway in the State, and the Highway Department proposes to expend the money appropriated to the Department among the different counties in proportion so that the Highways in each county bear a like proportion to the total highways of the State. Taking the estimate of one hundred miles of unimproved roads in Philadelphia County the proportion that that hundred miles bears to the ten thousand miles of the State would be one per cent. If we consider three hundred miles it would be three per cent. We have appropriated a total of nine million dollars—that is the bill that passed the House appropriating a total of nine million dollars to the Highway Department for road purposes exclusive of the maintenance fund. Three per cent. of that nine million dollars would be two hundred and seventy thousand dollars, and one per cent. would be seventy thousand dollars, so that in either event the proportion here is all out of relationship to the proportion of the Highway appropriation that will go to the other counties. My fourth objection is upon general principles. I have always felt that the City of Philadelphia was to be very highly commended for the statesmenlike position that they have taken on the road question. In spite of the fact that they are paying such a large proportion of the taxes of the State the City of Philadelphia has felt that the road problem is a State problem and that this money should be spent on the really rural roads, and I believe that that policy should be continued, because, after all, the main reason for improving country roads is that we may improve the possibilities from an agricultural standpoint, and the people who are most interested in increasing agriculture are the people from the large city sections because we of the rural cities are much closer to the markets and are not in need of increased protection to the same degree that the large centers of population are, which are more remote from the centers of agricultural production. For these reasons, I think that the bill is unwise at this time.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Mr. J. O. Campbell.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Campbell permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he knows that this Act provides that the City of Philadelphia shall appropriate a like amount of five hundred thousand dollars for the improvement of its suburban roads?

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I do.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Do you know how much taxes the City of Philadelphia pays into the treasury of the State of Pennsylvania each year?

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. I do not know.

Mr. REYNOLDS. If I was to inform you that they are paying in the neighborhood of three million dollars, would you be surprised?

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. No, I have stated that they pay a large proportion.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, the object of the present act imposes upon the City of Philadelphia an obligation which it voluntarily assumes, and when my friend speaks of suburban roads I wish to say that the City of Philadelphia is taking upon itself a burden for the improvement of the country roads, but because they are adjacent to the City of Philadelphia that city feels that in order that the improvement may be permanent, of course, it is necessary that they are willing to assume a like responsibility with the State of Pennsylvania. I think that this is a fair proposition. I think there is not a gentleman in this House who would say if his county appropriated half of the money and the State the other half, it would be a good measure for his county, but most of your counties cannot afford to pay that amount of money and therefore the State of Pennsylvania must pay for the entire improvement of the roads. Now the City of Philadelphia pays into the State Treasury every year approximately about three million dollars and I think that this is a very small appropriation. I think the argument of the gentleman from Butler is far-fetched when he says that the City of Philadelphia is to be benefitted by it.

Now in the City of Philadelphia there is a farming district adjacent and the City of Philadelphia uses the roads on which the traffic is enormous and which is increasing not every year but every day. I submit to you gentlemen that this is a small appropriation under the circumstances and should be passed without question by this House.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I don't question the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia about the City of Philadelphia or the County of Philadelphia as to the amount of money it pays into the State Treasury,—three million dollars a year, but I would like to ask him the character of the taxes that makes up that amount?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Do I understand the gentleman to say that he wants me to enumerate the different phases of taxation which goes to make up the State Fund which is paid by the City of Philadelphia into the State Treasury?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Yes sir, in a general way.

Mr. REYNOLDS. It would only take me until tomorrow morning.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Very well, we will remain here.

Mr. REYNOLDS. I will take one item—the collateral inheritance tax and that is all from the City of Philadelphia and comes directly from the City of Philadelphia, and that collateral inheritance tax in 1915, as near as I remember correctly, was in the neighborhood of one million dollars alone, and that is simply one phase of the taxation of the City of Philadelphia.

Take then, Mr. Speaker, the automobile license, and take the various taxes that are placed on the citizens there, and it is proportioned in the state in the same proportion that comes to other sections. If I would go on enumerating, it would take almost a volume, Mr. Speaker, to answer the question of the gentleman, but I think that will satisfy him, that is, only taxes that the citizens of Philadelphia alone must pay.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, what I had in mind, particularly was, whether the corporation taxes paid by the corporation having offices in the city of Philadelphia entered into the amount of $3,000,000 which the gentleman referred to in his first remarks.

Mr. REYNOLDS. No, Mr. Speaker, the corporation taxes were not included in my thought at all because the corporation tax is a separate tax paid by the corporation and of which I have absolutely no knowledge, that is outside of the $3,000,000 entirely.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman how much money the city of Philadelphia receives from the state for schools and hospitals and public home purposes?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Well Mr. Speaker, I do not know that that would have any bearing on public roads, but I do know, and I think the gentleman from Butler will bear me out, in proportion to the number of institutions of a charitable nature in the city of Philadelphia, and in proportion to our school facilities and our educational facilities in Philadelphia we receive only a small part of what is due to us, the same in proportion as his county receives.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman what the appropriation to the University of Pennsylvania and Temple University is?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Well, Mr. Speaker, as those appropriations have been passed upon by Mr. Woodward, and the gentlemen of the Appropriations Committee, I feel that the question is entirely irrelevant and immaterial as to good roads, and as some gentleman suggests to me here to my left, a member who has been a member of this House for a number of years, the two appropriations combined would not amount to as much as State College of our state receives.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, if we get down to a real selfish basis in the distribution of taxes for public roads, then every city in this Commonwealth will come in for its share of taxes from the state. When you come right down to the basic question, almost every city in this Commonwealth pays practically all the state taxes that are paid in that county, and if we are going to pay it back to the people, who pay the taxes in the first place by means of appropriating money, then, why not appropriate it and pay it back to every city in this Commonwealth. All the large towns and cities, especially in the rural districts, pay practically all of the state taxes, but they do not get one dollar of it in return for public roads. Now, I am afraid, Mr. Speaker, that we are straying a little away from the main purposes which the state has in building state highways. It is for the benefit of the whole people of the Commonwealth and not for the benefit of the great centers of population only, but for all the people regardless of who pays the money in the first place in the way of taxes. The purpose is to accommodate everybody who uses, or has occasion to use the public roads, I would say to my friend the gentleman from Philadelphia, that all the highways in the eastern part of this state are used and are very convenient for the residents and the citizens of the great city of Philadelphia, and they ought to help to pay the bill for making those roads. The same way in the western part of the State. The city of Pittsburgh pays an immense sum in the way of state taxes, and they do not get back this money for their own use within the confines of their own city, and they ought not to. They use the roads in western Pennsylvania from the New York line to the South line, and they use all of those highways even more than the people who live in the immediate neighborhood of those highways. Those highways are not for the people in the counties through which the highways are built, but are for the use of all the people and all the people ought to help to build them and maintain them. I think we should look upon this question in a broader way, look upon it as a state proposition and not simply to return the money to those who have paid it, that is not the policy of our state and never has been. Now I do not have in my county, Mr. Speaker, a single mile of state highway improved, and I have just as much right, Sir, to come into this Legislature and ask that the state of Pennsylvania appropriate me some money for my county to build public highways as has the city of Philadelphia. I would be perfectly willing, after have all the counties in this state have had an opportunity to get some roads constructed, to help out the city of Philadelphia in improving their rural roads within their city limits, but here they are coming before this Legislature to appropriate $500,000 in money when there are not going to be any highways built in the Commonwealth worth mentioning. For sometime to come we are not going to appropriate but a small sum of money for building highways in the Commonwealth. This session of the Legislature, it is going to be very small, and owing to the conditions of labor in this State, we are not going to build any roads. Then why should we at this time appropriate to the city of Philadelphia a large sum of money, and when I say "a large sum," I say it is so large that it is out of all proportion to what they should receive if they were entitled to receive according to the number of miles of unimproved highway in their city as compared with the number of miles of unimproved highways in the other counties of the state. Mr. Speaker, I think this is a dangerous precedent to establish. I think the men from the other counties of this state ought not to be over-generous at this time, but ought to go slow. We do not wish to appropriate any money to build roads in Philadelphia until every county in the state of Pennsylvania has an opportunity to enjoy at least some of the advantages of the public highway system.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I am only going to take a couple of minutes in answering my friend from Lawrence. He reminds me of the old saying that "when the devil is sick, the devil a monk would be." Just about a week ago this House, and the Philadelphia delegation practically, unselfishly donated one million of dollars for the Pymatuning Swamp, in which my friend was interested. Mr. Speaker, furthermore, when he says that all of the cities of the State of Pennsylvania will come in here and ask for highways, and that the cities of the State of Pennsylvania pay the taxes, and that is the reason they will ask for the highways and the appropriation, let me call his attention to the fact that the city of Philadelphia happens to be co-extensive with the county of Philadelphia, and we have, as the gentleman from Butler said, about two hundred miles of rural roads in the County of Philadelphia. Furthermore, let me tell the gentleman from Lawrence if what he says is true, that all of the cities of the State of Pennsylvania will come here later on and ask for appropriations for roads, on the ground that they pay most of the taxes, let me at this time call to his attention and warn him that if they assume that attitude, if that is the attitude they are going to take on this bill and vote against it, then the members from the cities will congregate together and vote against the roads asked for by the people from the rural districts. Let us play fair in this matter and let Philadelphia county have its share.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am very glad to hear the attorney for the rural league advocate the interests of the rural members. But let me say, that the first bill that was introduced in this session in this House was a bill introduced by myself, providing for a certain piece of road in Armstrong County, where we pay a large state tax, and get none of it back. In vetoing that bill the Governor of the Commonwealth said that it was against public policy that the money appropriated for roads should be paid into the State Treasury and to be at the disposal of the Highway Department, where they could use it to the advantage of the greatest number of people. I believe that is his language, the words of the veto, as near as I can quote it, and we members who are taking the Governor's advice and supporting him ought to take his advice on this measure. I for one am with him again, and shall vote no on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. CHESTNUT. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified as follows:

TIME OF MEETING.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move you that when this House takes a recess this afternoon it be to meet this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. WICKMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1052 (Senate Bill No. 35), entitled

An Act to provide for certain improvements to that certain tract of land known as the "Paoli Parade Ground" situate in Malvern Borough Chester County and making an appropriation therefor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is anyone who can explain this bill and tell us how much it would require.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, who has just told me since he made the inquiry that he does not want information about the bill, but merely wants to give notice that he is going to oppose every appropriation bill, and for the information of the House I will say that this is an appropriation to the Paoli Memorial Parade Ground, land which was donated to the State by individuals many years ago, and which has not been maintained in the proper manner. The Appropriation Committees have reported favorably upon this bill for many sessions. The gentleman from Philadelphia has voted for the bill before—

RECESS.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker. I call for the orders of the day.

The SPEAKER. The orders of the day having been called for, this House will now take a recess under the motion previously passed until 8:30 o'clock this evening.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 8:30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Richard J. Baldwin), in the Chair.

Whereupon,

The Speaker in the presence of the House signed the same.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. When the House adjourned we had under consideration House Bill No. 2052 (Senate Bill No. 35), File Folio 4721, entitled and Mr. Whitaker was addressing the Chair. The gentleman will now resume.

An Act to provide for certain improvements to that certain tract of land known as the "Paoli Parade Ground" situate in Malvern Borough Chester County and making an appropriation therefor

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, this afternoon when I was interrupted by adjournment I was explaining, in response to a question, the provisions of this bill. This bill provides an appropriation of twenty thousand dollars for the maintenance of the Paoli Memorial Association Ground. It does not provide for the purchase of any land.

It provides for nothing new, barely for the maintenance and upkeep of the association ground known as the Paoli Memorial Association Grounds which was given and dedicated by private individuals to this association some ninety-five years ago. During all that time, ninety-five years, it has been maintained as a historical park and this, it seems to me, would be a very inappropriate time for the State to change its position and to abandon the upkeep of this park. This land was declared as a memorial to General Wayne and his little army which, on this very spot, one hundred and forty years ago was surprised and massacred by the British army. I think this bill is just in line with the general appropriation acts and it probably would not have been questioned in the general run of these appropriation acts in the ordinary course, and I think that this is not a proper time or occasion to start reprisal because of ill-feeling on account of the defeat of another bill and I hope the House will look at this bill in that way and not aid anyone in carrying out that feeling.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Bell, Benchoff, Burnett, Drake,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2053 (Senate Bill No. 40), entitled

An Act providing for the deepening widening and improvement of French Creek in Crawford County vesting certain powers in the Water Supply Commission including the taking of land and materials by eminent domain and making an appropriation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN P. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I want to explain this bill. This is a bill providing for an appropriation of twenty-five thousand dollars to protect the city of Meadville from floods in French Creek. We have ice gorges there every spring on account of the stream being so crooked below the City of Meadville and because of this the flow is much hampered and the ice gorges up and the waters back up into the city and this appropriation is intended to be used to straighten that stream of water and let the flood waters and ice and so on pass on down without doing the damage that has heretofore been occasioned.

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the Third Reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2091 (Senate Bill No. 518), entitled

An Act providing for the establishment of a Pennsylvania State Building in the City of Philadelphia authorizing the purchase or lease of a site providing for plans and specifications and for test borings and surveys for such building and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill appropriates forty thousand dollars for the purpose of beginning the acquisition of a tract of land in Philadelphia for the purpose of establishing a branch capitol in Philadelphia.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the experience of Pennsylvania in building capitol buildings has been fortunate in some respects and unfortunate in others; at any rate, for one, I believe that the business of the State ought to be concentrated at Harrisburg as far as possible. Some years ago there was an active agitation to remove the capitol to Philadelphia and that was voted down. We have now committed ourselves to Harrisburg as the capitol city; millions are being expended on the State Capitol Yark and plans are being made to house all the departments of the Commonwealth in and about the park and I trust, therefore, that the State will not begin, by appropriating this forty-thousand dollars, to do something which may call for large sums of money and will tend to divide the headquarters of the State's business between Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered. That the Clerk present the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and cosnideration of House Bill No. 1326 (Senate Bill No. 273), entitled

An Act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes; defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes; exempting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the provisions of this bill explained. It is a lengthy bill and I would like to understand it so as to be able to vote on it intelligently.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Armstrong, this is a bill to establish a State-wide retirement fund for public school teachers. I do not know of any proposition that will be presented to this House in the closing days of the session or that has been presented in days that have gone by that embraces within its scope such matters of wide importance and which deserves the careful and earnest consideration of this House to the extent that this bill does. To my mind it is a matter of very great interest in the sort of attention which the State of Pennsylvania has given to its public school system and realizing how much our attention to our schools is open to criticism. For instance, we sit here day after day, in the closing days of this session, and appropriate millions and millions of dollars to institution which are not controlled by the State but which are controlled by outside parties; for instance, hospitals, universities and so on, while, as a matter of fact, the State Normal school to-day have mortgages on them to the extent of perhaps a million dollars upon which I am informed the State pays interest at the rate of six per cent. And yet we never consider the advisability of paying off mortgages on the properties which the State owns itself.

Now, let us consider this matter of the advisability of a State-wide retirement fund for teachers. Do you gentlemen realize that the public school teachers of the State of Pennsylvania, on the average, receive less remuneration than it costs yearly to maintain the inmates, the single inmates of a State insane asylum, yet that is a solemn truth. The laborer in front of your house who spends his days digging a sewer receives on the average more money than the school teacher who trains your little boy and your little girl and mine. The man in the trench digging the sewer works with the man of brick and clay; the school teacher who trains your boy and mine works in the training of desires, of characters, of perhaps the great future of the boys and girls who lie so dear to our hearts. You take the curly headed boy who is in your family and his mother looks over him until he reaches the age of six with all the tenderness that a mother can, and when he reaches the age of six years she takes him to the door wipes from her eyes a tear and sends him off to the public school. I say, wipes from her eye a tear because she wonders whether the new influences that he will learn will make the kind of impression upon him that she hopes they will make, and from the time he goes to school at six years until he is a young fellow wearing his first full dress suit at the age of seventeen you depend upon that public school teacher for the training of that boy in all that goes to make for a good man and a useful citizen. That teacher has upon his future as much influence as his father, and perhaps far more because we fathers don't give very much consideration to the training of our boys in the home; he depends upon the public school teacher and the care of the mother. We may throw our chests back when our boy graduates from the high school and we may talk about the wonderful results we have achieved but we haven't had as a fact much to do with it; it is the mother and the public school teacher who deserves credit for whatever that boy may become. Now, this proposition to night has to do with the establishment of a State-wide fund for the retirement of public school teachers; it is a pension proposition to this extent. The teachers themselves, understand, pay one-half the cost; the State pays one-fourth and the local school district pays one-fourth. The system is not to go into operation until 1919 and the money to be finally appropriated will not be appropriated until two years hence. In order that the matter may be thoroughly tested out by the State this appropriation referred to in this bill is only an initial appropriation to start the project. Let us consider for a moment the advisability of the pension system. I say to you that it is an enlightened public insofar as civilization has advanced today that those who are incapacitated and who have given years of useful service that they should receive from the State the benefit that can be given through a pension system, especially where the proposed party who may become the beneficiary for a pension is willing himself or herself to contribute a portion of the cost. This is a matter of interest to the effect that twenty-one States of the Union have already established State-wide retirement systems. Almost all the countries of Europe have similar systems in operation. We sometimes hear the pension system criticised on the broad ground that people ought to take care of themselves. Public opinion to-day, if it is directed along the right lines, does not believe in any such thing, because society, as a whole is coming more and more to believe that it is up to us to take care of the people who are unfortunate, and it ought to be so. I tell you it is in line with the teaching of the Great Carpenter of Nazareth, "That ye who are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak." The time will come when we will consider very carefully matters of pensions for the aged and similar propositions. It may not strike a very responsive cord in your hearts now, but it is true and we will come to it in the days that are to come. The benefit of this system is this: It directs capable school teachers to our schools; it improves the teaching forces and eliminates incapacity and the whole effect of the idea is to make a better teaching force in our public schools; to see to it that we have better teachers and more thoroughly equipped teachers to help our boys and girls to produce the result of a finished product that will reflect credit upon the State and upon our school system. This plan has been carefully worked out upon the best actuarial basis; the plan has been carefully considered and regarded by educators who have gone into it as the best State-wide retirement system that has been suggested in any State in the Union. Up until the present time Massachusetts was considered to have the best system in operation in this country; but Massachusetts, today, is already making amendments along the lines that will bring it in consonance with this present State-wide retirement system that is suggested here. In view of the importance of the idea; in view of the fact that the teachers themselves are ready to contribute one-half of this fund and gladly avail themselves of the proposition; in view of the fact that the major appropriation for this purpose will not go into operation until 1919 and that the matter will have a thorough test in the next two years, I commend this bill to your favorable consideration. I think it ought to have the approval of every member of this House. I don't know whether I have answered everything up to the ideas that may have occurred to the gentleman from Armstrong and if there is any small feature to which I can add a word I will attempt to do so. I hope that the House will support this bill.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I want to say at the outset that I agree with everything that the gentleman from Montgomery has said regarding the value of the teacher and the necessity of training the child. I feel in advocating his address a good deal like the gentleman who was laborious during the day but didn't seem to be able to give the necessary time to his devotions at night and he had the Lord's Prayer printed and placed at the foot of his bed. Every night when he went to bed he would say, "O Lord, them's my sentiments." They are mine with regard to the teacher and the value of the child. I am not arguing to convince any member of this House, if I could, to vote against this bill. I am here at this time to give three reasons why I can't support the bill and have those reasons placed upon the Journal of the House. First, it has been mentioned by the gentleman from Montgomery that twenty-one other States of this Union have honored the teaching profession by establishing a Teachers' Retirement Fund. Those States no doubt look upon the Act with a great deal of pride and they can say, "We are taking care of our teachers." When I have an opportunity to vote for a Teachers' Retirement Bill, I will gladly do it but I will vote for a bill the title of which we can be proud in years to come; one in which we can point to with pride and have our children point to with pride. This bill is establishing a public school employees' retirement system, not a teachers' retirement system. The gentleman from Montgomery has spoken with regard to the value of the teachers of this Commonwealth but he has failed to say anything about the janitors or the stenographers or the lawn-mowers or the hod-carriers or anybody else that is connected with the public schools. That is the weak point of this bill and is really why I cannot vote for it, because it is not a teachers' retirement bill but is an employees' retirement measure. Another reason is that it places one-fourth of the cost on the district. I presume that any of you gentlemen who represent large cities or medium sized boroughs will have to contend with the members from the rural districts if we vote for a measure that places one-fourth of the cost of a pension bill on them for the pensions of school janitors and stenographers and so on, as we have, when you go out into the rural districts and put this burden upon the townships. That is the second reason why I cannot vote for the bill. The third reason is that when we are sending out into foreign countries thousands and thousands of young men to fight for the freedom of the world and for the democracy of the world and no doubt then after a few years many of them will come home minus a limb, sick and disabled, and it will then be necessary for us as our first duty to create a pension system to take care of these people. It is an unfortunate time, it seems to me, as far as my personal idea is concerned, to pass a bill of this kind and will not permit me to vote for this measure. The fourth, and another, reason is that I discussed this bill with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, with the secretary of the board of education with all or nearly all of the officials who are up in the educational system in this state and not one of them can explain to me what it means, or what it cost. That is my own personal view without trying to convince any one else, but I want to square myself with the teachers of my county by giving these reasons for voting against the bill, and I want to square myself with the taxpayers of the farming district of my county for not supporting it.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I hope the members will look with favor on this bill. I think of all the public servants in this Commonwealth that are deserving of our best and most kindly treatment, our public school teachers come first. They have a task to perform, and they are performing that task for the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in a manner that is most worthy, and for the best interests not only of the state, but for the boys and girls of this Commonwealth who will in the future be the citizens who will have the burden of state on their hands. This Commonwealth has not been backward about pensioning their employees. You men all know that the judges of this state who are paid no small sums for their services are entitled to pension. They make in this State anywhere from $6,000 to $12,000 a year and we pension them when they become disabled or when they become of sufficient age to retire; yet our school teachers who have a duty to perform for this Commonwealth not second to that of our judges receive the little paltry sum of $500 and up. We have a great army of most worthy women in this Commonwealth, gentlemen, who have spent the best portion of their lives instructing the boys and girls of this state and when they have finished their course with such instruction in the public schools, there is nothing for them to do but to retire, and if they are fortunate enough to have saved a little for old age there is nothing left for them to do but to spend what they have saved out of their little competence. There is no service in this Commonwealth that is so nerve-racking as teaching in our public schools. You men all know that in every school district in this state we have noble women who have been following the profession of teaching for many years, and have sacrificed their health in that service for the benefit of your children and of mine. Are you going to deny these persons who have served the public year after year for forty years and have arrived at the advanced age of sixty-two years, as provided in this bill, are you going to deny them some assistance from the Commonwealth? Are you going to say to them now we are through with you, you are no longer of any value to the state as public servants, shift for yourself, make the best of it! Is that the way we should treat our faithful public servants? There is no use in getting scared about this proposition. The cost of it is going to be so small that no one can consistently say that we ought not to pass this bill on account of the cost. In your individual district at home, you men who come from the country districts, how many school teachers do you have that have taught for forty years and have arrived at the age of sixty-two? How many have you? If you will consider that, you will find that you have very few, but I want to say to you if you have them, it is the solemn duty of this state to provide for them in such a way that they will not suffer in their old days. We have a number of school teachers in this House, men who have in times past taught in the public schools of this Commonwealth, and by reason of the fact that they left the profession of teaching most of them now are provided for in their old age. They are on the safe side financially. They have laid up for a rainy day, but not through what they have earned while teaching in the public schools. The great state of New York has just recently passed a teacher's retirement fund that puts on the state four times the burden that this bill will put on the state of Pennsylvania. Some of the members of the House seem to be objecting to this bill because one-fourth of the cost is placed upon the local school districts. I take it that that is no objection to this bill for the reason that it makes no difference to the local community whether the state pays half the entire cost of the retirement system or puts the burden of one-half upon them, and lets them pay it out of the appropriation made by the state. It is only indirectly paid by the local community, because the state after this becomes a law, can appropriate a larger amount for school purposes, and in that way will it not become a burden on the local districts. I am most sincere, gentlemen, in my advocacy of this bill, because I believe it is one of the worthiest bills we have had before us, and it is strictly a humanitarian proposition.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, each year we have combinations of people coming here to Harrisburg asking a peculiar advantage over every other class of people. Some of these people are willing to render an adequate service for what they receive. Some of them expect to get their advantage without rendering any service whatsoever, and that is the situation here. There is not one member in the House that has more respect for the school teacher than I have. There is not one member of the House that has more admiration for the work which they are doing than I have, but the importance of that work and the standpoint of that work depends largely upon your point of view. When we are face to face with a famine, when the ghastly spectre of starvation is stretching its merciless wings over our people, we realize that the tiller of the soiler is an important factor. When our child becomes sick and is tossing upon the death bed, hovering between life and death, then we realize that the physician is an important factor in our civilization. When we come to the end of our career, when our work, when our mission on earth is ended and we have come to death's cold threshold, we look back over our career and we realize that the man of God perhaps is performing the greatest and best work of all. Why then, gentlemen, why then select the school teacher and point to the school teacher and say that they ought to be pensioned, to the disadvantage of every one of these other people? Why pension the school teacher rather than you and me? What claim have they over and above you and me? As a matter of fact, the answer that they give—Gentlemen of the House, I have not taken up much of your time in speech making. I have refrained from occupying any time which I deemed unnecessary, and I shall endeavor to be brief in this. I am very much in earnest in this matter, and I think that it is important.

Now the answer which the teachers give on the question as to why they should be pensioned rather than these other people, is that they have never received adequate compensation for their work, but, gentlemen, let me say to you that I taught school and taught for the reason that I could earn more money at that occupation than I could in any other, and I want to say to you that that is the reason why every teacher in the State of Pennsylvania is teaching to-day. Give them better pay at some other occupation at which they are willing to work, and every one will quit. Give them better opportunities along their lines, yes, even opportunities for matrimony, and I venture to say that they will quit before the day is out. They are teaching school for the reason that they are making more money at that than they could make at anything else. Yet in the face of all that they come here and ask us for a pension for the balance of their lives. Now I agree with the gentlemen who have preceded me that they deserve better wages, but by the granting of this pension it will be impossible for them to get a better wage. When that bill was up for bettering the teacher's wages, the raising of the minimum salary, I tried to get the members of the House to raise that to a higher figure, and I endeavored to get a number of teachers interested in order that they might get a reasonable minimum figure. I think they ought to have better wages, but this will not give them better wages. It will take down their wages in order that you may pension a few of them who have served past their usefulness and who have reached sixty-two years of age. Now the thing that annoys me in the granting of these pensions is this: Who under the sun is going to pay all this money? Day after day, we have been appropriating money for this and for that, and we have appointed committees to find something that we may tax that has not already been taxed. We have taxed the farmer to death, and it has come to the place where we cannot profitably own real estate any more. Nay more, we have entered the home where death has been, and we have laid our clammy hands upon the money which the wage-earner has laid aside, and we are taking it from his children in order to raise a fund. What for? To pension some more people. That is what we have been doing. The taxes are as high as we possibly can make them anywhere. Who is going to pay this? Nay more, we cannot raise the taxes, consequently there is only one thing else to do, and that is this: It must be taken either from our school fund or else it must be taken from our appropriations to the hospitals. Surely you would not ask us to take this money from the school fund. Will you take it from the hospitals? I want to say to you, gentlemen, if there is one thing that makes my heart bleed, it is the fact that at Mount Alto there are children on the waiting list who have tuberculosis and who enter the institution, and who cannot receive treatment. Why? Because we have not the money to help them. And yet we go on and give this money. To whom? To some people who have received just exactly what they have contracted to work for, and have been working for all along the line. Nay more, they have received, as I said before, more money at the occupation they are working at than they can at anything else. Now then, is it fair, is it just, is it right? There is another proposition. An appeal has been made here for the teacher who has not laid by any money. I want to say to you as a lawyer that I have been for a number of years loaning money for teachers who are teaching at the average rate, teachers who are taking the special courses in the summer, teachers who have been attending colleges in the summer, teachers who take their summer vacations at some summer resort, and yet they have been able to lay up some money and I am loaning it out for them. Nay more, this bill pensions not only the school teachers who are poor, but it pensions those who may be rich and who may have inherited money. Is it fair; is it fair and right that we should take this money and give it to the teacher?

Now, gentlemen, let us look at this from another standpoint. A few years ago in the home of a widow woman in my town the children were all sick almost unto death with a contagious disease. The poor woman struggled along as best she could until she came to the place where she had to have the clothes washed. She tried everywhere to get somebody to wash her clothes. She asked another washer woman if she could not do it. This washer woman said, "My time is all taken up, I cannot do it"; but she thought a little; she said, "No, next Sunday I will have the Sunday off and I will come to your home and I will wash your clothes." And she went there before daylight on Sunday morning and she worked all day until night and when night came the woman with the sick children wanted to pay her out of her little fund and the washer woman said, "No, no, I would not take anything for what I have done; I want to help you"; but this washer woman that did that work has saved enough money to own a little property worth perhaps nine or ten hundred dollars and you are going to tax that, gentlemen of the House, in order to pay the school teachers. I want to say to you that in face of that, that at this particular time I know a school teacher in that town that has considerable money and that day he was out in his automobile riding around. Now then you are going to tax that poor woman to pay that school teacher and it will not be long until that school teacher will be entitled to a pension. Is it fair? Is it right? I am going to finish right here. There are a few gentlemen right here that have been annoying me from the time I began and I am going to quit right here with this proposition.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has a perfect right to take all the time he wants to wait until he gets order. This House should maintain order and not delay the proceedings.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, there have been one or two gentlemen here that have been annoying me since I began. I think it is unfair and if necessary I can name them out.

Now I want to close with this: This bill provides that you take one quarter of this money out of the treasuries of your local districts and you give it to the school teachers and if there is anything that is going to make every man who goes to his home unpopular it is the fact that you have taken a lot of money,—money that will eventually amount to millions of dollars because this is only the entering wedge; money that will eventually amount to millions of dollars—you are going to take it out of your local districts, out of your own treasuries, and you are going to give it into the hands of the school teachers. I say to you Mr. Speaker and I say to you gentlemen of the House that there is nothing that I know of that will wreck your political ambitions any quicker.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I will not detain you long. I want to reply to my friend Mr. Snyder, from Westmoreland, when he says that he sees no reason why the teacher should have pensions and we sitting here should not have pensions. Every pension bill when drawn from an actuarial standpoint is technical, so technical that the ordinary lay mind cannot understand it. The teachers and those who are interested in this bill foresaw that well when the bill was introduced here and have circulated among you a very comprehensive and equally technical pamphlet covering every provision of this bill. As I read it, however, in short, this bill provides for the retirement of teachers and employes in the State's school system when those teachers and other persons arrive at the age of sixty-two years, provided they have served forty years in the school system. The amount of the pension may interest you. It amounts approximately to fifty per cent. of their annual salary; in other words, a teacher who has averaged eight hundred dollars during the last ten years he or she has taught school would receive a pension of four hundred dollars; one who has taught and received during the last ten years of that teaching a thousand dollars would receive five hundred dollars, and so on down to the maximum figure for the basis of this pension, which is two thousand dollars, and such a person would receive, provided he or she has taught for forty years, the sum of one thousand dollars. The basis of this pension, that is to say, the maximum figure upon which the pension is based, is two thousand dollars so that the most that any person could receive under the pension system would be one thousand dollars.

My friend from Westmoreland, Mr. Snyder, has called your attention, inconsistently, I believe that the experience he has had has been that he could earn more money teaching school than he could doing anything else and yet in the next breath he tells you that when during this session a bill was before you to increase the salary of teachers he was most vigorously in its favor.

It might interest you to know that one-fourth of the teachers in this state receive two hundred and eighty dollars a year, less than a half receive five hundred dollars a year, and that the average salary is five hundred ten dollars a year.

Something has been said about the effect of the contribution of the local district. I want to call the attention of the House to this fact,—that an increased appropriation has been made to the school districts of three million dollars, sixteen million dollars having been previously appropriated and nineteen million dollars now being appropriated. That, I believe, itself will answer the rural district question.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERLING. When I am through, Mr. Milliron.

In answer to one of the causes or reasons why Mr. Milliron cannot vote for this bill, he calls attention to the fact that other employes are included in the bill other than the teachers. Is not that a highly unfair reason? Can you gentlemen suppose the effect on anyone of your schools in the winter time without a janitor or those of you who come from the larger school districts, can you imagine, with the highly technical system now necessary in the schools because of the increased number of students, and the developed system of teaching that teachers can get along without their clerical assistants?

I am told that there are five teachers in the system requiring the service of one clerical assistant in order to bring work up to its proper efficiency. The gentleman from Westmorland, Mr. Snyder, approached this subject as if only the teachers in the system and those who are otherwise employed in the system were benefitted. I don't agree with him nor do I believe that you will agree with him. As a matter of fact, this great Commonwealth is benefitted and benefitted to a degree greater because of the improvement of the teachers upon whom we depend for the better development and the better training of the citizenship of our children who attend our schools. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I ask you to vote affirmatively upon this bill.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, there is a question that I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, and it is this, in reference to the gentleman's statement—

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that this bill has been on the calendar for several months and every man knows what its provisions are, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members:

Messrs. Albee, Bechtold, Cox, Fess, Lafferty, Lauck's, Luppert, McCaig, Neary, Ramsey, Scott, Sinclair, Edgar R. Smith, Spangler, Swartz, Taylor, Thomas, Ulrich, Wells, Wobensmith and numerous other members.

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. BOVEE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 54 of today's calendar, Bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 940 (Senate Bill No. 262)

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 940 (Senate Bill No. 262), entitled

An Act authorizing county controllers in counties having a population of more than one hundred thousand and less than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants appoint a solicitor prescribing the duties of said societies and fixing his salary.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have some one explain the provisions of this bill and the reason why it should be passed at this time.

Mr. BOVEE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as I understand this bill, it is a well known fact that in a great many counties of the State a county controller, if he starts any proceedings, has to hire a solicitor. The provisions of this bill are that the salary shall not be over five hundred dollars for the solicitor. This is Senator Nason's bill, of Erie County. Personally, I am not interested in it and I have not looked over the provisions until at the present time. We believe in our county that it should be passed.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 56 of today's calendar, Bills on Final Passage Postponed, House Bill No. 1866 (Senate Bill No. 834)

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1866 (Senate Bill No. 834), entitled

An Act making it a misdemeanor for a parent wilfully to neglect to support a child born out of lawful wedlock whether such child shall have been begotten or shall have been born within or without this Commonwealth providing punishment therefor and empowering the court to make an order for support and to enforce the same and making it a misdemeanor to make false declarations as to who is the parent of the child and providing punishment therefor.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, lines 7, 8 and 9 by striking out the following: "And making it a misdemeanor to make false declarations as to who is the parent of the child and providing punishment therefor," and inserting in lieu thereof "And declaring persons making false statements in certain cases guilty of perjury."

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 6, by striking out the word "one" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "the."

Amend Section 2, page 2, lines 7 and 8, by striking out "or by any other person having knowledge of the facts."

Amend Section 6, page 3, lines 16, 17 and 18 by striking out the following: "A misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisonment not exceeding one year" and inserting in lieu thereof "the crime of perjury."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE UNITED BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time desires to ask the Clerk to read a telegram received by the Speaker.

The Clerk read the telegram as follows:

Philadelphia, Pa., June 26, 1917.

Richard T. Baldwin,
Speaker of the House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pa.

The United Business Mens' Association again express their cordial approval of the pending transit bills and earnestly urge that you use your influence as Speaker that every fair and honorable means be employed to insure their passage at once as demanded by the seventy-five associations connected with the united body. We would be pleased to have this telegram publicly read to the members of the House.

EDW. A. NOPPEL, Prest.

MOTION DROPPING ALL HOUSE BILLS FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the following bills be dropped from the calendar: House Bill No. 753, file folio 8065; House Bill No. 1693, file folio 9337; House Bill No. 1793, file folio 9545.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to state that I am the sponsor of all these bills.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the motion to read that all House bills be stricken from the calendar and that we consider only Senate bills up to the time of adjournment.

Mr. REICHENBACKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, the reason I offer that motion is because I understand that the printer has to print this calendar for us before 11 o'clock tomorrow. It is impossible for us to consider any House bills, why not, therefore, take them off the calendar and save the printer the work of printing all these bills. We cannot get any House bills through.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion as amended?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1542 (Senate Bill No. 823), entitled

An Act validating proceedings by town councils in boroughs for the paying and curbing of public highways and validating municipal liens filed therefor.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend by adding after the word "curbing" "Provided That this act shall not apply to any proceeding, suit or lien wherein a final order or judgment of any court of record has already made or entered."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1335 (Senate Bill No. 628), entitled

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1839 (Senate Bill No. 867), entitled

An Act authorizing George F. Pawling Company a corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania with its principal place of business in the City of Philadelphia Pennsylvania successor to Bergdoll and Pawling to bring suit in the court of common pleas of Dauphin County against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Insert in line one of the title after the word "Pawling" the word "and."

Insert in section 1, line 4, after the word "pawling" the word "and."

Insert in section 1, page 2, line 2, after the word "pawling" the word "and."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered. That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

NAYS—1.

McKinney,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1828 (Senate Bill No. 816), entitled

An Act providing for the formation and regulation of stock corporations having either or both preferred or common shares without nominal or par value and authorizing such corporations to issue shares without par value upon formation reorganization merger or consolidation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, with respect to this bill I desire to call the attention of the House to the fact that it creates a radical change in the law relating to corporations. I am not sufficiently informed upon the subject to say whether the changes are beneficial or otherwise, but I do believe that it ought not to be passed in a great hurry. It permits corporations to be organized with capital stock having no par value. It would certainly interfere if corporations would be organized in that manner with the present methods of securing tax returns in the Auditor General's Office. Insofar as I have examined the bill there is nothing in it indicating the changes necessary to secure the proper returns from a corporation whose capital stock has a par value. I am informed that the principle of this bill, or the methods of issuing capital stock under this bill accords with modern high finance, and is in line with the corporation laws of our sister state, Delaware. Now I am not sure that it would be a step in advance to adopt the corporation laws of the state of Delaware, because a great many get-rich-quick-corporations are incorporated under the laws of that state. I hardly think it is safe for the House to pass this bill with little or no knowledge on the subject, and in view of the very important matters involved.

I therefore move that it be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker. I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1847 (Senate Bill No. 793), entitled

An Act extending to the county of York the provisions of an act entitled "An Act granting the courts of this Commonwealth the power to appoint viewers to view certain streets and alleys in this Commonwealth" approved the fifteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and forty-five and repealing so much of the proviso to the third section of said act as excludes from the operation of said act the County of York.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Benchoff,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1868 (Senate Bill No. 905), entitled

An Act validating certain elections of counties, cities, boroughs, townships, school districts, and other incorporated districts, held pursuant to the provisions of an act, approved the twentieth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, entitled "An Act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities, to provide for the redemption of the same, and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof" and the amendments thereto, and validating bonds issued, or authorized to be issued, in pursuance of such elections.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, If there is any person who is sponsor for this bill, I would like to have some explanation of it. It is a Senate bill and certainly some person in the House represents that portion of the state where this bill has its origin, and there certainly ought to be an explanation of a bill that is as radical in its import as this bill is. If there is no person who desires to sponsor this bill, I would move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

MR. WHITAKER IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1541 (Senate Bill No. 837), entitled

An Act authorizing appeals from the courts of common pleas to the Supreme and Superior Courts from orders granting new trials.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, with respect to this bill I make the following point of order: The bill No. 837, File of the Senate 2067, is identical with Senate Bill 143, File of the Senate 393, which was duly passed by the Senate, messaged to the House, referred to the Committee on Judiciary General, and reported to the House with a negative recommendation on March 14th, 1917. The bill now before the House was introduced in the Senate on April 11th, 1917, and is identical in every particular with the bill now up for consideration. House Rule No. 37 provides that no bill negatively by a committee shall be placed upon the calendar of the House unless a motion to place such a bill on the calendar be made within five days after such bill is reported from the committee. The bills being identical, I contend that this rule applies, and the House has no right under the rules to consider this bill.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman raise the point of order?

Mr. WALTER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides the point of order of the gentleman from Franklin as well taken.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1890 (Senate Bill No. 915), entitled

An Act to amend section one thousand four hundred and four of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same; and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by giving justices of the peace, aldermen, and magistrates jurisdiction in certain actions between school districts.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1509 (Senate Bill No. 622), entitled

An Act to amend section one and further amend section two of an act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and three, entitled "An Act to designate a uniform date when the commissioners of the several counties shall issue their precepts to assessors to make the triennial assessments and the reassessment between the periods of the triennial assessment of property and fixing the time for the return thereof" by providing for a quadrennial assessment instead of triennial assessment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

Mr. SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, this House is within forty-eight hours of its adjournment sine die. There is much important legislation on our calendar, and I want to make a personal appeal to each and every member to try and be as orderly and quiet as possible, so that we may consistently continue our work. I think that it would be a great help in the closing days of the Legislature, both to the Speaker and to the Clerks, as well as to the honor and integrity of each individual member.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 56 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage postponed, House Bill No. 1227 (Senate Bill No. 513), File Folio 4229.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1227 (Senate Bill No. 513), entitled

An Act regulating the collection of county taxes in counties containing over one hundred thirty-five thousand and less than one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants creating the office of receiver of taxes in such counties and prescribing the powers and duties of said office.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, if the House will indulge me for a few moments, I will try to be as brief as possible in stating my objections to this bill. This bill provides that a receiver of taxes shall be substituted for the old way of collecting taxes in counties with a population of one thirty-five thousand to one hundred and fifty thousand. At this time there are but two counties affected by this bill in the State of Pennsylvania, namely, York and Dauphin, but there are a number of counties that will come under this act at the taking of the next census. At the present time the county taxes are collected by tax collectors who are elected in the various boroughs and townships and are either appointed or elected in the cities. These collectors, Mr. Speaker, collect all of the taxes. They collect the school taxes, the road taxes, and the county taxes. This receiver of taxes, however, would not collect the school taxes or road taxes, but simply the county taxes, leaving the road and school taxes to be collected in the old way, this you see there would be two sets or departments doing the same work. So, in the interest of economy—

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, my object in calling up the bill was for the purpose of asking for an extension of time, as the time was up today.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I understood from the Chair that I was in order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair misunderstood the call of the gentleman from Dauphin.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for an extension of one day's time on this bill.

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection. The Chair hears none, and the extension of one day is granted.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1863 (Senate Bill No. 873), entitled

An Act to amend section two hundred and twenty-six of an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special, or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Session 1917

122nd of the General Assembly

Vol. 4.

HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27, 1917.

No. 77.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, June 27, 1917.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Frank B. McClain) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the brave young women and young men who have responded to our country's call. They are fighting our battles. They are following our flag. They have unfurled upon the firing line of Human Freedom the stars and stripes of America. They dare not fail. They cannot falter. Every ounce of strength we possess in this great country of thought, of feeling, of song, of prayer, of work, of self-sacrifice must be consecrated to their assistance, to their sustenance, to their inspiration and their enthusiasm. We pray, oh God, that when this great war is ended that the new capitol that shall be built for the world's democracy shall have flying from its highest pinnacle the stars and stripes of America; not standing second, but first in this great and terrible struggle. These blessings we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. WEAVER, from the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, reported as committed the following resolution, which was laid upon the table.

In the House of Representatives, June 21, 1917.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, believing that the scarcity of the food supplies of the nation and the prevailing high prices of necessities require action on the part of Congress for the welfare of the inhabitants of the United States, hereby petition the Congress of the United States to adopt the Food Control Bill now pending before said body.

That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

Mr. J. FRANK GRAFF. Mr. President, I understand that there is reported from the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation the resolution that was referred to it last evening, and upon this I move you that we proceed at this time to the consideration of this resolution and upon the question, when it comes to it, I call for the yeas and nays.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. If the Senator from Armstrong will consult Rule 39 he will discover that his motion to proceed to the consideration of the resolution and his call for the yeas and nays are both out of order at this time. If the Senator from Armstrong desires to have the resolution considered by the Senate the only route open to him is to move the suspension of the rule. Does the Senator ask unanimous consent for the suspension of Rule 39? If he fails to secure unanimous consent he can ask for a vote on a motion to suspend the rule, and if two-thirds vote in the affirmative the rule will be suspended. Then his motion to proceed to the consideration of the resolution will be in order, and only then.

Mr. J. F. GRAFF. Mr. President, may I talk on the question?

The PRESIDENT. You may talk on the question. You must ask unanimous consent for the suspension of the rule and, for the information of the Senate, the Chair will indulge the Senator from Armstrong and permit him to make such remarks as he chooses to make, but there is nothing before the Senate now that is in order. Does the Senator ask for the suspension of the rule?

Mr. J. F. GRAFF. Mr. President, I do.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, asks unanimous consent to have Rule 39 suspended in order that the Senate may proceed to the consideration of the resolution reported from the committee by the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Weaver. The Chair will hear what the Senator has to say in order that the Senate may know why he asks unanimous consent.

Mr. J. F. GRAFF. Mr. President, this resolution is one of vital importance and I do not feel that the upper body of the Legislature of Pennsylvania can go on record as opposing such a measure. We are placing at the disposal of those who are going out to battle for the success of democracy in the world the resources of this country. Many of us are givers to the Red Cross to help them take care of those who are going out to fight our battles for us and it is nothing more than right, it is nothing more than reasonable, that the food supply of these United States should be placed at the disposal of those who are helping in those battles. There are those of us who are sending our sons to fight, and I refer to the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Sproul, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Semmens, the Senator from Clearfield, Mr. Miller, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Whitten, and possibly others here whom I do not know; we are sending our boys out to fight these battles and one of this honorable body, Colonel McKee, from the First Pennsylvania Field Artillery, will soon leave us to battle for this country. He is a representative of our body of the Legislature. Are we going to say to Colonel McKee, "We are not going to support you when you are out on the field of battle in France by backing you with the resources, and its food supplies?" Are we going on record here as not going to take this measure? Gentlemen, I hope that this Senate will go on record here. It is not a liquor question, it is a food proposition and the liquor end of it should not enter into it in the least. It is a patriotic duty that every Senator of this body has here to stand foursquare on this subject and I hope that this entanglement will be unraveled here. I am not familiar with the mode of procedure to bring this about, but I hope that the Senate will go on record and that we will say to the people at Washington, "We will help you in this legislation," and we will say to our own brother Senator here as he goes out, wishing him Godspeed and a safe return, with honor, from the field of battle in France, and we hope to have him with us again should we meet here. Let the Senate stand this morning for this resolution, eliminate all party factional or liquor problems from this question and take it upon us as a patriotic duty.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I will object to the suspension of the rule, for the simple reason that in reading the papers this morning I find in every newspaper printed in the City of Philadelphia an article in which it says it has been decided by Congress, both the House and the Senate, to place in the hands of the President absolute control over all the matters referred to by the Senator who has just taken his seat. His patriotic allusions to the duties of the citizenship of Pennsylvania, and particularly the members of this Senate, we all subscribe to, but if the members of the House and Senate at Washington, who have been laboring upon this question for the past six weeks, have come to a conclusion which is satisfactory to them, the representatives of all the people of this great nation, what do we want to do after the matter has been absolutely and positively settled, not only in the House, but in the Senate, to subscribe to a resolution that has no meaning or no purport, or no weight upon the question whatever, because the one man, as I read it in the papers to-day, who is entitled to the full authority and the full operation of the conditions necessary to bring about what he has just stated should be brought about, is the President of these United States.

Therefore, that having been accomplished in the halls of Congress why at this late date, should we, for the purpose of merely a little bit of advertisement on the part of some people to go upon record for something that has already been adjusted and adjudicated. We have in the United States Senate representing the State of Pennsylvania two of the most influential, foremost and competent leaders in that body, whose absolute attention for the last six or eight weeks has been diverted into channels of doing just what the Senator has referred to should be done, to wit, protecting the interests of the people of the United States, and more particularly providing the ways and means and the ammunition to provide the soldiers who are going to the front to absolutely defend the interests of this great country. We are already prepared in every way, shape and form. But for the purpose of the sentimental proposition underlying this resolution I do not think this Senate at this late day should suspend rules for any unnecessary legislation.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President,—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair cannot permit this debate to go on indefinitely. He has no desire to choke off the Senator from Blair. He has indulged the Senator from Armstrong in order that he might present reasons why he would like to have the rule suspended and the objector to the suspension has been likewise accorded the same courtesy. The Chair cannot entertain any further debate on that question.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I do not wish to debate at this time. I understood you to say that a rule can be suspended by a two-thirds vote. Mr. President, I therefore move you that this rule be suspended so that we can take action on it.

Mr. J. F. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SNYDER and Mr. J. FRANK GRAFF and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—16.

Craig,	Hindman,	Nason,	Snyder,
Eyre,	Jones,	Phipps,	Stewart,
Graff, J. F.,	Leiby,	Semmens,	Vare,

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That upon application to the Governor of the Commonwealth the said Governor is hereby authorized immediately after the passage of this act and at any time during the continuance of the present war with Germany or in any war in which this nation may become involved to appoint and commission at his discretion such number of volunteer police officers to serve without pay in the several counties as may be deemed necessary In all cities boroughs and townships where there is a duly constituted police department or police commission such volunteer police officers shall be under and subject to the authority and direction of such department or commission In all other cases the said Governor shall designate and appoint such officials or official person or persons to advise and direct the said police officers and services to be by them performed

Section 2 All police officers so appointed shall take and subscribe the oath provided by article seven of the constitution Such oath shall be administered by an officer duly authorized to administer oaths and shall be filed together with the certificate of appointment in the office of the recorder of deeds

Section 3 The police officers when so appointed and qualified shall have and possess all the powers of police officers of the several cities boroughs and townships of the Commonwealth and are authorized to arrest upon view with or without warrant any person apprehended in the commission of any offense against the laws of the Commonwealth or of the United States

Section 4 The police officers herein provided for shall be organized and disciplined especially for the purpose of the suppression of riots and tumults and to preserve the public peace and safety and shall be used whenever necessary to guard protect and preserve from injury and destruction by enemies of the nation in the present war with Germany or in any war in which this nation may become involved all railroads railways mines oil wells chemical plants light heat and power plants water works and plants iron works steel plants ammunition plants manufacturing plants and all other industries as well as all public works and public buildings

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—33.

Baldwin,	DeWitt,	Lynch,	Sassaman,
Bidleman,	Endsley,	Martin,	Schantz,
Buckman,	Graff, J. F.,	McKee,	Semmens,

			Weaver,

NAYS—0.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1747 (House Bill No. 1145), as follows:

An Act authorizing James H Mowrer and Ida Mowrer his wife of the borough of Athens Bradford County Pennsylvania Carrie N Steck of Elmira New York Mabel E Nicholas and Mary Agnes Nicholas of Renovo Clinton County and Alice E. Nicholas, of Renova, Clinton County in her own right and in right of her children and Ross Chestnutt in his own right and in right of his minor daughter Florence and Esther Chestnutt James Chestnutt Clarence Chestnutt and Robert Chestnutt of Chicago Illinois and Ralph Chestnutt of Toledo Ohio to bring suit against the Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That James H. Mowrer and Ida Mowrer his wife of the Borough of Athens Bradford County Pennsylvania are hereby authorized to bring suit in the court of common pleas of Dauphin County against this Commonwealth for any sum or sums of money that may be legally due the said James H. The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1735 (House Bill No. 1292), as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania to continue the work upon the Pymatuning Swamp Reservoir commenced under the provisions of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act providing for the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp and the establishment of a reservoir to conserve the waters thereof providing for the taking of land and materials necessary thereto vesting certain powers and duties in the Water Supply Commission and making an appropriation" and the act amendatory thereof entitled "An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act providing for the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp and the establishment of a reservoir to conserve the waters thereof providing for the taking of land and materials necessary thereto vesting certain powers and duties in the Water Supply Commission and making an appropriation' approved the twenty-fifth day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen amending sections four and eight of said act providing for the payment of the necessary compensation for waivers of damages from owners of lands in the State of Ohio which will be submerged or injured by the construction of such reservoir and making an appropriation for the erection of such dam and the establishment of such reservoir" approved the eighteenth day of June Anno Domini nineteen hundred and fifteen Appropriation Acts page one hundred and ninety-six

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania for the purpose of continuing the work upon the Pymatuning Swamp Reservoir commenced under the provisions of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred seventy) entitled "An Act providing for the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp and the establishment of a reservoir to conserve the waters thereof providing for the taking of land and materials necessary thereto vesting certain powers and duties in the Water Supply Commission and making an appropriation" and the act amendatory thereof entitled "An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act providing for the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp and the establishment of a reservoir to conserve the waters thereof providing for the taking of land and materials necessary thereto vesting certain powers and duties in the Water Supply Commission and making an appropriation' approved the twenty-fifth day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen amending sections four and eight of said act providing for the payment of the necessary compensation for waivers of damages from owners of lands in the State of Ohio which will be submerged or injured by the construction of such reservoir and making an appropriation for the erection of such dam and the establishment of such reservoir" approved the eighteenth day of June Anno Domini nineteen hundred and fifteen Appropriation Acts page one hundred and ninety-six

The said appropriation shall be available for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen at the rate of three hundred and fifty thousand ($350,000) dollars for each fiscal year and shall be payable by warrant of the Auditor General upon the State Treasurer on order of the chairman of the Water Supply Commission countersigned by the secretary and accompanied by itemized and verified vouchers

Any unexpended balance or balances remaining from any previous fiscal year or years shall be available for the uses and purposes of this act during any subsequent year or years

No portion of the seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000) appropriated by this act shall be available until the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has full power and authority to submerge lands in the State of Ohio necessary for the establishment and maintenance of the reservoir to conserve the waters of Pymatuning Swamp nor shall any money hereby appropriated be available until the title to all property located in the State of Ohio and necessary in the opinion of the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania to be acquired for the erection and maintenance of said dam and reservoir has been transferred clear of all incumbrances to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 2 That in addition to the amount hereinabove appropriated the further sum of twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary being the unexpended balance of the amount appropriated to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania by the General Assembly under the provisions of the act approved the eighteenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Appropriation Acts page one hundred ninety-six) be and the same is hereby specifically re-appropriated to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania and shall remain available for the purchase of said lands and for otherwise carrying out the purpose of the act of the General Assembly approved the twenty-fifth day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred seventy) and the act amendatory thereof said amount to become available upon requisition of the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania during the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I do not think it is good policy to eliminate eighteen thousand acres of the best land in the world, if it is properly drained, in the agriculture class, and that is what is proposed in this bill, cover it with water. I think it is wrong. If the appropriation was made for the drainage of this land, I think it would be a wise appropriation, indeed. The question of the supply of food for the world by and by will be a great question in the future, if not at present, and it ought to be conserved. When it is all used up where are you going to get more land? We can always get water from other sources, and I do think that it is a mistake to take this land from the agricultural class in favor of any other industry without mentioning any name.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Greene, Mr. Stewart.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Greene, Mr. Stewart, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if he has ever seen this Pymatuning Swamp.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, no sir.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask him how many acres of tilled ground would be taken by this?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, they tell me eighteen thousand acres.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the Senator is entirely wrong, it is only a few hundred.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I want to know if Senator Buckman has ever seen the property.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, indeed I have, sir. I spent a whole day going over this project going from one end to the other in company with the engineer of the Water Supply Commission also in company with the people representing the manufacturing interests from the Shenango and Beaver Valleys also in company with the people of the immediate vicinity of Linesville and other parts of Crawford County.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, could this land be drained?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I understand in one of the earliest sessions, probably 1909 or 1911 there was an appropriation made to the Water Supply Commission for the purpose of draining this swamp, but it was reported by their expert engineer that the project was not feasible, that the land could not be drained. I was also informed by the expert engineer of the Water Supply Commission who was with us that the swamp is in such condition that they could not make a survey except in winter time when the ground was frozen. It is nothing but a big swamp extending over twenty to twenty-five miles they raise nothing but tadpoles and bullfrogs.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, do I understand that there are covered with water four hundred farms in that section?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, that is absolutely not true. There are only a few farms at the end immediately adjacent to Linesville, a few little truck farms where they raise onions and celery, and that is very fertile, otherwise it is what might be called a dismal swamp and they can raise nothing there, it can't be used for anything whatever.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I have no desire to dispute Senator Buckman's word, I would not do that, but I have been informed otherwise. He says it is a dismal swamp, then it needs to be drained out and I am sure it can be used if properly drained. I never saw a swamp in my life but what could be drained.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the swamp could be drained if you could get a drainage, but water cannot run up hill. That is what you would have to do if you drained this swamp.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I do not think Senator Buckman is thoroughly pested concerning drainage. There are other ways of draining land besides draining it out over the land. You can drain land now by using dynamite, by breaking up the lower strata of the soil and letting this water go through and that possibly could be done out there.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, the passage of this bill is of vital importance to the people of the district which I represent, Beaver and Lawrence Counties, as well the County of Mercer, which is in the Senatorial district represented by Senator Smith are in the Shenango and Beaver Valleys. Most of you know the Shenango and Beaver Valley is one continuous industry from one end to the other there is hardly a mile on either side of the stream that does not contain some manufacturing plant and one hundred and fifty thousand men in round numbers are employed in the industries in that valley. Now here is just the situation: In the winter time and in the early spring when the rivers are high these plants are in good shape, but just as soon as the warm weather comes the streams and springs which feed these rivers dry up and the plants along the banks of these streams have to shut down frequently for two weeks at a stretch. At that time the water in these rivers becomes so stagnant and foul that it becomes unfit for use in the vicinity of some of these mills and it is almost unbearable for the men who work near it. I cannot give you the number of days actual time lost last summer but weeks at a time are lost by the men who work in our mills out there because they cannot run for lack of water. I realize as the Senator from Greene has said if this land could be used for farming purposes it would be a great benefit to the people of the State. I ask you to consider on the other hand that the shutting down of these factories and mills means a loss, not to the men who operate these mills who may make a profit out of the manufactures but to the men who work in these mills for their families, it means a loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars every summer because there is no employment for them because it is impossible to operate the mills and mills without water. I do not care to make a long speech about the matter but the appropriation is one in which the people and industries out there are very much interested and I hope every Senator here will vote for this bill because we need it. This is not a selfish proposition. The people of this district have found themselves and this bill provides that they shall acquire and deed to the State of Pennsylvania 5,000 acres of this swamp which lies in the State of Ohio and that they shall secure the State of Pennsylvania against any damage which may arise by reason of the construction of this dam. The money for carrying out this project must come out of the pockets of the people of our community and we are very willing to give it and not a single dollar of this appropriation becomes available until that has been done. We are going to do all we can and go into our pockets to further this proposition and we think the State is doing just the right thing in conserving the water of this swamp at the time when it is high that we may have when we need it to run our mills. I hope the Senate will vote for this bill.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Craig.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Craig, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I would like to know if after you build this dam you can retain that water until it is needed.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I do not know of my own personal knowledge but I am informed by the engineers who have charge of this project and the engineers of the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania that it can be done very easily.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, do you not think the people so much interested in this water supply could move the mills somewhere where there is an abundance of water at a less cost than to pay for all these damages you speak of?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, it would indeed be a calamity to my Senatorial district if all these mills moved away. I do not think it is a physical possibility or at all desirable.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I hope the bill will not pass.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would just like to say for the benefit of the Senator from Greene, that what the manufacturing interests of these two valleys are asking the State to do they are entirely willing to do themselves if the State would give them permission to do so. They have offered to bear the entire expense provided the State would give up its rights to this river. Naturally the State would not do that, it would not be policy for the State to give up this river, in order that they might do it, but they are not asking the State to do anything they would not do themselves if the State would give them permission to do so.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would ask that the Senate non-concur in these amendments. In order that the bill may be sent to a Conference Committee so that proper consideration may be given. This bill has been amended in the House in such a way that it is doubtful whether it is workable. In addition, I am told by those who are interested that it would cost the State of Pennsylvania anywhere from three million to five million of dollars until the next session of the Legislature to carry out its provisions. Surely we do not want to go into a provision of this kind without the proper consideration. I hope, therefore, that the Senate will non-concur in these amendments and that it will go to a Committee of Conference, to be appointed, to consider and work out something that may be feasible and workable.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I desire to read a message from the teachers' association to which the Senator who proceeded me referred:

"Hon. W. J. Burke, Senate Chamber,
Harrisburg, Pa.

The Pittsburgh Teachers' Association, representing three thousand teachers, earnestly ask you to concur in the action of the House on the amendment to the teachers' retirement bill.

PITTSBURGH TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION."

Therefore, I say that the teachers are heartily in accord with the amendment, and I hope this bill will pass.

Mr. BUCKMAN. I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Burke.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Burke, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, no, sir.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Burke, refuses to be interrogated.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. President, this bill was presented in February and we have had ample time to investigate the matter. No one has asked that the bill be sent to conference committee, or any other committee, until today. We are all familiar with the contents of the bill. It simply provides that our teachers get some of the money that they have been earning in years past. Pennsylvania is not paying her school teachers as much as other states now pay. We have twenty-one states in the United States working with laws of this kind, and they, to our knowledge, are all satisfactory. The records of our schools show in a great many cases the janitor gets more money than our school teachers. We feel that Pennsylvania should get into line at this time and let our teachers have a small portion of the money we think they have earned in years past.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I never oppose bills in this Senate taking their proper and due course, but I certainly cannot see any good that can be accomplished by referring this bill to a Committee of Conference. The sole purpose, as disclosed by the Senator from Bucks, as indicated when he was interrogated a few moments ago, is purely and simply to endeavor to kill this bill. The amendments that were put into this bill in the House make far less expense to the State of Pennsylvania. The bill as it provides now, with the House amendments, is that it will not go into effect until the first day of July, 1919, and the only moneys to which the Senate now commits itself by the passage of this bill is an expenditure of not exceeding twenty thousand dollars, and there cannot be anything in the way of an expenditure before the meeting of the next session of the Legislature shall have adjourned. The bill cannot be in effect until after we have been in session two years from now, and if it is determined at that time that it will cost too much money for the State to carry this fund, then the session of 1919 can correct it. There is not anything complicated in the amendment. Before it went to the House it provided that it should become effective at once. It did not provide that the money should be postponed until July, 1919, and at the time it passed the Senate it passed by an almost unanimous vote and surely there cannot be anything accomplished in the way of good in an effort to kill this bill by referring it to a Committee of Conference instead of its consideration at this time.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I yield to no one in my respect to the school teachers of this State, and there is no one in this State who would like to do more for them than I would, but when we consider a proposition of this magnitude, before we commit the State to future payments of two millions of dollars, there should be something provided with which to meet those payments. Any where from three to five millions of dollars will be called for at the next session of the Legislature and I doubt very much the wisdom of this legislature putting itself on record committing that session to the payment of so large a sum without providing the money with which to meet the appropriation. I realize every one of us are interested in this matter by having so many of our constituents directly concerned but in view of the attitude that the Senate has taken upon the matter I do not wish to pursue further my motion. I simply want to go on record as being against an appropriation or committing the State to an appropriation where there is no money to meet such an appropriation, and in view of the apparent attitude of the Senate, I withdraw my objection to the concurrence of the Senate in the House amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Whereupon,
The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. E. E. Beidleman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 46.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1701 (House Bill No. 46), entitled was defeated on final passage.

An Act requiring employers to permit all employes to have a leave of absense of two hours on election day without any deduction in wages.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. LYNCH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LYNCH. Mr. President, I voted "no."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. LYNCH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT SENATE BILL NO. 1524.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1524 (House Bill No. 953), on second reading, entitled be recommitted to the Committee on Elections.

An Act authorizing appeals to the Superior Court in all habeas corpus cases involving the custody of children.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I would like to know the purpose of recommitting the bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, for the reason that I have information that the higher courts do not desire this additional work placed upon their shoulders and I assumed the best way to dispose of it was to put it back into committee.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I think this is a bill that has some merit to it and if the higher courts object to it, it is only because it will give them more work, if any error is made in any proceeding this will permit an appeal and the higher courts will review it and reverse it certainly it would be carrying out the ends of exact justice. The bill has merit to it, and should receive the consideration of this body and I think every attorney here will admit the fact that in all proceedings the aggrieved party should have the right of appeal. That is the reason why we have appellate courts. This bill provides for that in certain proceedings they are denied, and now these proceedings are largely based on matters of fact and the higher courts could not review them and therefore there is nothing before them. It would only be in the case of abuse of discretion that any one would think of taking an appeal in a matter of habeas corpus. This is a matter of vital importance I believe to justice in Pennsylvania. I can easily see why courts are only human and try to escape all labor that will be imposed on them, and in view of that fact I think this motion should fall and the bill should come before the Senate for passage.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I am glad to receive the suggestion from the Senator and if this was a bill that pertained to the whole state I would not ask for recommitting this bill, but as I understand it, as the matters are going along in this particular branch of judicial authority, the people are receiving the justice that the Senator referred to, and as to the members of the higher court, who have been talking in reference to this matter, it has always been my custom to accept the wisdom of their advice and act accordingly. If it is such a good bill why not incorporate its provisions over the whole state, and then the matter can embrace every part of the State of Pennsylvania, but there is nothing that I know of in the City of Philadelphia where there has been any great demand for this legislation, and there can be no harm done, if it does develop in the next 18 months, that there is a demand for it, it certainly will not deprive any one of their rights judicially in the time intervening.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I do not believe that in my experience as a State Senator or in my capacity as a lawyer or in any matter whatsoever that there has been a bill before this body that is of more importance than this bill. If there is anything that is near and dear to the hearts of all the people of this Commonwealth and particularly to fathers and mothers, it is the possession of their children, that is the closest, the dearest and the most sacred thing that any man or woman, or any person whatsoever can fight for and we ought to have the right, and every father and every mother ought to have the right, to fight for that possession, right or wrong, until the last ditch. It is a very sacred belonging and I can see no reason why this Senate should stop for a single moment to give the fathers and the mothers of the children of this Commonwealth the right to fight with the last drop of blood in them, or with the last resources in their possession, to have it finally decided whether the wife or the husband under all circumstances should have the possession of that child, and any interference with the passage of this bill, at this or any other time, would be the greatest injustice. It is the most important piece of legislation that has ever come before my notice and I hope there will not be a man here who is the father of children who will stop for a single moment to put one straw in the road of its passage.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, in his experience of practice in the courts has there ever been in the operation of the municipal court any injustice practiced in any case that he knows of?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I have no knowledge of any injustice. My experience has been that justice has been meted out to its fullest extent in every case. I have the highest regard for the men who mete out the justice in this court and handles the cases. There does not sit anywhere in any state in the Union a man who has a bigger heart, or a deeper feeling or a more kindly disposition towards children than our present Judge of the Municipal Court. I do not stand on that question. That is not my theory. My idea is that every father and mother love their children, but there may be dissension at home and they ought to have the right to fight for what they think is their right, though they be wrong, to the last moment in order that they may be satisfied, in order that they may be satisfied that they at least have done their best toward trying to find out what they think was right, and my best thought on the subject is that the courts and the judges and the lawyers all ought to feel that which every party should have lost in the lower court, should have the right to go and see whether or not proper justice has been meted out. I cast no reflection on any man. It is immaterial to me whether it applies to the municipal court or any other court and if it is not a law all over the State it should be a law. I find no fault with any man, any set of men, or any court and I again want to pay tribute to this man who is giving out this justice in the court of Philadelphia to-day. In the whole State of Pennsylvania you cannot find a bigger-hearted, more able, or better man to handle the situation.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I desire to call your attention to the fact that this bill applies to every county in the Commonwealth. Every Senator in the chamber is concerned. I cannot add to the weight or the aptness of the remarks of my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus. This bill in my opinion is a bill that should become a law by all means. It tends to justice. It is no derogation to either the learning, the wisdom or the character of the judges of the Commonwealth, to grant the right of appeal from their decisions in this respect. That right lies in other matters and should lie in this. This bill is a good bill and gives the right of appeal in every county of the Commonwealth.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, my information about this bill we are passing on now is that it gives the right to the father and the mother to appeal from a wrong decision if a wrong decision should be made for the custody of their children. For instance, Judge Brown, and I acquiesce in everything Senator Salus said about him, has the power now to take your child from you and give it to your neighbor half a square down the street and you have no redress. No matter how nearly perfect Judge Brown's decisions may be suppose one of those decision or two of them would happen to go astray? Certainly that poor mother and father should have the right to appeal to a higher court to get the custody of their own child rather than to have Judge Brown or any other judge give it to a neighbor down the street.

Now if that is not in this bill I will vote against the bill. If it is in the bill I will vote for it. I hope there is never any occasion that the mother and father of the child has to go to a Supreme Court or a higher court to get the custody of a child but certainly it ought not put an important matter of this kind where one man's decision is absolutely final and no appeal. If this is not true as the conditions now are in Philadelphia, I would like Senator McNichol or somebody else who is familiar with it to explain. If Judge Brown has not the power to take a child from one person and put it in the hands of another without any redress on the part of the mother or father of that child.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, it is certainly delightful to hear the interest and concern the members of the Senate take in the mothers and fathers and especially in the children. I do not take second position to any man in my duties and obligations to the children and I also want to say to this Senate that the operations of this court for the past four years and the operation of the similar courts throughout this Commonwealth are establishing a high standard of efficiency in not only looking after the welfare of the parents but also the children and are also trying to prevent the bringing in to court of these parents and these children for the simple reason that they shall not have the stigma upon their reputations in their future concerns and conditions in this Commonwealth. If the learned Judge of the Municipal Court in the last four years in the operation of this law deems it ill advised that there should be more of a turmoil further accentuated by an appeal, and that in the operation of this court for the past four years there has not been a single appeal from the judgment of this court which is not only surrounded by the lawyers which constitute the judiciary of this court but all societies connected with every denomination, institution or organization throughout the City of Philadelphia, are gathered in meeting rooms wherein the cases are considered, the characters and types of the parents are absolutely taken into consideration, the temperamental conditions of these people, their habits and their ideals are there considered not alone by the court previous to the trial, by organization engaged in that business for the past one hundred years. Now every Senator in this chamber recognizes the right of appeal in matters pertaining to disputes in corporation matters or things of that kind, but when we come to the family what a blessing it would be to this Commonwealth and every other commonwealth if we could say there was no necessity for any court matter pertaining to family disputes, but that in each home the individual disputes of the parents and children could be then and there adjusted without a public exhibition of that condition. That would be the true manner of paying our mead of respect and appreciation of the family and not to push them, and absolutely throw them in the hands of attorneys and with all due respect to attorneys-at-law, and I have a high regard for them if we grown folks in our experience of a lifetime, who have been in the turmoil of litigation, figured that if it comes to our lot a second time we will exhaust every effort to absolutely resist getting into that turmoil again, now the poor children of the wife and the husband certainly, if it can be adjusted and if it was merely a matter of the court of justice, I would say there is certainly some merit to the bill, but the cases referred to in this appeal are practically adjusted in combination with the people who have made a life work of the proposition and if they can bring about an adjustment outside of the turmoil of the court room every Senator in this chamber and every person in this Commonwealth will consider that the sanctity of the home and family will best be conserved by leaving these people attend to this work. If not now let them have their experience in the next eighteen months. If there has been some dereliction in the performance of their duties I certainly would not be here defending the action of that court. I think you men will consider that for the short period of four years with the co-operation, as I said before, of the best citizenship of this Commonwealth. Let them have the experience of an additional eighteen months and then we can come back and if there is any necessity for an appeal then no one will be found voting for it more readily than I will myself.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Philadelphia, I want to say these appeals have been taken in cases similar to this, but not to my knowledge from the present Municipal Court. Now on this proposition I have no grievance against the Municipal Court or any grievance against its work or any grievance against the various women and bodies connected with the Municipal Court, who are doing good work, but appeals have been taken and the upper courts have invariably found that there is no law authorizing an appeal in this matter and that the decision of the court below is final. Cases are brought there, they are looked up and considered by the various bodies connected with our courts and they make the decision. Finally the judge makes his decision. Now I say whether that decision be right or wrong it is immaterial. When a man or woman is fighting for the possession of their children they should at least have the same right that a burglar has, that a murderer has, that the worst convict may have. He has the right to fight to the last ditch for his rights although they be wrong, and as I said before parents should have that same right to fight to the last ditch for their children. There is no complaint here by any lawyer from Philadelphia, you cannot find one who would make a specific complaint against this court. It is simply a fight for right, that is all.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, just one more word and I am through with this thing. It would seem to me that Senator McNichol grasps the right in this thing in disputes over money affairs and other matters which have the right to go to a higher court, yet up to now the mother and the father of these children have no right to go to a higher court. I ask every gentleman sitting in this chamber if he thinks that is fair, no matter how good the decision of the court may be. I want to repeat I have no complaint about any decision that I ever heard of from Judge Brown, of Philadelphia, but Judge Brown may not always be there and that is not asking too much for the mother and father the privilege of going to a higher court, as Senator Salus has explained, that every criminal has and every man in disputes over finances or any other thing. I hope this bill will pass.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I want to say in conclusion that I have no desire to deny anybody the right of appeal in any case, but it is the hope and best thought of this court absolutely backed up by these associations that I refer, to that at the end of their mission there will develop a condition in Philadelphia that court proceedings so far as they pertain to disputes between parents over children will be eliminated from the docket not only of the Municipal Court but other courts and if they are working on that problem is it not a proper thing for them to do and is it not what we are trying to accomplish by the establishment of such courts as these? And if it has been found that these folks have been trying to work out the problem, is there any harm done by an extension of this work? That is all. Nobody recognizes more than I do the right of appeal, but we are hoping that the disputes between parents over children will be eliminated as a feature not only in the Municipal Courts, but all courts.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, from the remarks that have been made here by the gentlemen from Philadelphia, I think that some of the Senators may be led to believe that this bill only applies to the Municipal Court of Philadelphia. As I understand it is a general one, and applies to all the courts of Pennsylvania alike and it is not a matter for Philadelphia alone. With the exception of Philadelphia we have no knowledge of what has happened in other courts and my reason for desiring this act to become a law is not based upon anything that happened there. It is a law that merely gives the right of appeal, and if a judge has made an error he should be reversed, and if he has meted out exact justice he should be complimented and the higher courts will affirm what he has done. And we have personal experience, those of us who are attorneys, that where cases of this kind have been brought into court, and the judges are not personally acquainted with either party to the action, they do not know their family history; there is no investigation made, and they make decisions solely upon the facts, and sometimes they are very meagre, brought out in the hearing of the case, and there have been errors, there have been cases where they have set the dollar above a mother's love. This is an act that means much to exact justice in Pennsylvania, and it is an act that should be upon our statute books. As attorneys engaged in litigation, you must not appeal in every action in which you are concerned, but if you feel that you have not been dealt with according to exact justice, you should have the right to appeal. This gives you the right, and it is a right that has been denied, and we should not wait until specific cases are brought before the attention of the public, and the public has been unjustly dealt with by unscrupulous judges, and they are only human beings, and are liable to err the same as any others.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, in view of the statement from the Senator, confirmed by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Daix, that this bill does apply to all the counties of the State, I withdraw my motion to refer this bill back to committee. At the time I made the motion I was informed that it applied simply to cities of the first class.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Daix, withdraw his second to the motion.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I do.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 689 (House Bill No. 447), on second reading, entitled

An Act to amend the first section of "An Act approved the eighth day of April Domini one thousand nine hundred and five entitled 'An Act for the better regulation of public pool rooms billiard rooms bowling and tenpin alleys in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania'" and to regulate the time for closing the same be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I hope this motion will not prevail. This bill has been amended to meet all the objections that were raised to it.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

The aforementioned provisions of this section however shall only apply to such non-resident for such time and to such extent that under the laws of the foreign country state territory or Federal district of his residence similar exemptions are granted to the residents of this State. Provided however that this section shall not apply to motor vehicles permanently kept in this State and owned by foreign corporations or non-residents nor to the drivers of such vehicles.

Section 7 Upon the transfer of ownership or destruction of any motor vehicle its registration shall expire. The original owner may however by proper affidavit accompanying his application register another motor vehicle upon payment of a fee of one dollar ($1) provided such motor vehicle be of equal or less horse power or classification than that originally registered or upon payment of a fee of one dollar ($1) and the difference between the fee paid originally and that due if the motor vehicle be properly registerable in a higher class and such owner shall be assigned the number previously issued to him unless the original registration tags have been destroyed.

In the event of change of tires (only) from pneumatic to solid or vice versa the owner shall make affidavit to that effect upon a blank furnished by the State Highway Department and shall forward a fee of one dollar ($1) to pay for a set of license tags under the new classification together with additional fee required for increased horse power or weight where transfer to new car of opposite classification is made transfer application to be executed and forwarded to the State Highway Department together with one dollar ($1) transfer fee one dollar ($1) for set of new tags and added horse power or weight fee of new vehicle if any and the return of tags previously issued.

Section 8 The Highway Commissioner may at his discretion revoke or suspend the registration of any motor vehicle or the license of any driver for improper conduct in operating a motor vehicle upon hearing after due notice in writing of the proposed action and the grounds therefor has been mailed to the owner thereof or to the licensee at the address given in his application and may also refuse to issue a license to any applicant who in his estimation is an improper person to operate a motor vehicle.

Section 9 No person under sixteen years of age whether the owner of a motor vehicle or not shall drive or operate a motor vehicle upon any public street or highway in this Commonwealth nor shall any person owning or having charge of any motor vehicle permit any person under sixteen years of age to operate such vehicle.

No person who is mentally or physically incapacitated shall be permitted to operate a motor vehicle on the public highways of the State. Any person who has lost one hand or both or who has lost the use of one hand or both or who has lost both feet or who has lost the use of both feet or whose eyesight is so impaired that with the aid of glasses he cannot distinguish objects clearly at a distance of one hundred and fifty (150) feet or who shall have less than twenty (20) per centum of normal vision or who shall have lost within two (2) per centum of normal hearing shall be considered physically incapacitated and if any such person shall have obtained a license it shall be void. Provided That the Highway Commissioner may at his discretion issue special licenses to persons otherwise disqualified under the terms of this act to operate specially constructed motor vehicles.

Section 10 Every person desiring to operate a motor vehicle as a paid operator or who is an employee of the owner or custodian thereof shall first obtain a paid driver's license. Application for such license shall be made upon a blank furnished by the Highway Department and shall be signed by the applicant and be verified by oath or affirmation. It shall contain the full name of the applicant with his place of residence and shall state that said applicant is eighteen years of age or over has had at least ten days experience in the operation of a motor vehicle and is not mentally or physically incapacitated and shall clearly set forth any physical defect or disability which might disqualify the applicant from operating a motor vehicle.

Upon receipt of the application and fee of three dollars ($3) the State Highway Department shall if the applicant fulfills the requirements issue to the applicant a paid driver's license and a badge. The license shall show the licensee's name and residence and the date and number of the license but shall not be valid until the licensee's signature is attached thereto. It shall be carried by the licensee at all times when operating a motor vehicle.

Upon the badge shall be the words "Penna. Licensed Driver" the year and the number of the license which it accompanies. It shall not be less than one and one-half inches and not more than two and one-half inches in its greatest diameter and shall be conspicuously worn on the front of the outer garment of the licensee at all times when said licensee is operating a motor vehicle. All such licenses shall expire December thirty-first of the year issued.

Every person other than a paid operator desiring to operate a motor vehicle shall make application for a license to the State Highway Department upon a blank furnished by the Department. Such application shall be signed by the applicant and be verified by oath or affirmation. It shall set forth the name and residence of the applicant who must be sixteen years of age or over and must have had at least ten days experience in the operation of a motor vehicle and be not mentally or physically incapacitated and shall clearly set forth any physical defect or disability which might disqualify the applicant from operating a motor vehicle.

Upon receipt of the application the State Highway Department shall if the applicant fulfills the requirements issue to such applicant a license which shall be carried by the licensee at all times when operating a motor vehicle. Such license shall be numbered and shall set forth the licensee's name and residence but shall not be valid until the licensee's signature is attached thereto. All such licenses shall expire December thirty-first of the year issued.

The Highway Commissioner shall issue Learners Permits to persons sixteen years of age or over not mentally or physically incapacitated desiring to learn to operate a motor vehicle. Such permits shall be issued for a period of thirty days but shall be valid only while such person is accompanied by a licensed driver. The charge for such permit shall be fifty cents (50c).

The Highway Commissioner may refuse to issue a license to any applicant who in the estimation of the Commissioner is an improper person to operate a motor vehicle.

Section 11 No person shall operate any motor vehicle the registration of which has been suspended or revoked.

No person whose license has been suspended or revoked or the registration of whose motor vehicle has been suspended or revoked shall operate any motor vehicle upon any public street or highway of this Commonwealth nor shall any person owning or having charge of any motor vehicle knowingly permit any person whose license or registration has been suspended or revoked to operate any such motor vehicle.

No person whether an employee of the owner or custodian of any motor vehicle or not shall operate any motor vehicle without the knowledge or consent of the owner or custodian thereof and such owner shall be responsible in an action for damage caused to person or property by the negligent operation thereof upon any public highway whether such vehicle be operated or in charge of the owner thereof or any other person with the knowledge permission or consent of said owner.

No person shall display upon any motor vehicle altered or false registration tags or operate any motor vehicle under any other number than that of its own registration.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than three hundred dollars ($300) or imprisonment not exceeding one year or both at the discretion of the court and upon certification of such conviction by the clerk of the court to the State Highway Commissioner he may revoke the license of any licensee so convicted and refuse to issue to such person another license during a period not exceeding one year.

Section 12 Any person operating a motor vehicle when under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any narcotic or habit producing drug or any person taking part in any race or speed contest for a prize or wager or otherwise upon any public highway or attempting to establish or lower any speed record upon any public highway shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than three hundred dollars ($300) or imprisonment for not more than one year or both at the discretion of the court and upon the certification of such conviction by the clerk of the court to the State Highway Commissioner he shall revoke the license of any person so convicted or the registration of the motor vehicle owned by him and no license or registration shall be again issued such person until after the expiration of one year from the date of such conviction.

Section 13 The moneys derived from registration and license fees under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the State Highway Department into the State Treasury for safe keeping and shall by the State Treasurer be placed in a separate fund to be available for the use of the State Highway Department upon requisition of the State Highway Commissioner. All such moneys hereafter paid into the State Treasury are hereby specifically appropriated to the State Highway Department for the purpose of assisting in the maintenance improvement and repair of the State Highways and State-aid Highways of Pennsylvania. The Auditor General shall upon requisition from time to time of the State Highway Commissioner draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer for the amount specified in such requisition not exceeding however the amount in such fund at the time of making such requisition.

Section 14 On no motor vehicle owned by a resident of this Commonwealth while operated or driven upon any public street or highway in this Commonwealth shall there be displayed number tags issued by any other state territory federal district or foreign country.

Only one set of number tags shall be displayed upon any motor vehicle and except as provided in this act for non-residents no number tags shall be displayed other than those issued by the State Highway Department.

No motor vehicle shall be operated upon any public street or highway in this Commonwealth unless the registration tags are rigidly attached thereto parallel to the axles of the motor vehicle so that they cannot swing or oscillate one on the front the other on the rear of such motor vehicle. The lower edge of the tags shall be not less than fifteen (15) inches above the ground. They shall be entirely unobscured and be kept free from oil grease dirt or other substance likely to impair their legibility and shall not be bent or defaced in any manner and between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise the rear number tag shall be illuminated so that the number can be plainly distinguished provided however that motor cycles need display but one registration tag which shall be attached to the rear thereof in such manner as to fully comply with the provisions of this section.

Should a tag or tags be so defaced that the number thereon becomes illegible it shall be the duty of the owner of the motor vehicle for which same have been issued to apply promptly for new tags.

In case of the loss or defacing of one or both number tags or of a badge a new pair of tags or a badge of another number than that of the lost or defaced tag or badge shall be supplied by the State Highway Department. Upon the receipt of the new tags the applicant shall return to the Highway Department for cancellation the tag or tags in his possession which were originally issued him. A new pair of tags or badge may be obtained by filing with the State Highway Department upon a blank furnished by said Department an affidavit reciting the loss defacing or destruction of said tag or badge accompanied by a fee of one dollar ($1).

No owner or operator of a motor vehicle shall be subject to fine by reason of one number tag or his badge being missing provided that he make affidavit that the same has been lost destroyed or removed without his knowledge or consent within a period of one week and that application for new tags or badge be promptly made.

Section 15 Every motor vehicle shall be provided when in use with good and sufficient brakes and with a horn bell or other signal device and where such vehicle is so constructed or so covered as to prevent the driver or operator thereof from having a sufficient view of the traffic following it shall be equipped with some device that will show the operator the road to the rear.

Every motor vehicle whether standing or in motion upon any public highway shall from one hour after sunset until one hour before sunrise and whenever it is impossible to see clearly for a distance of two hundred (200) feet show at least two white lights on the front of such vehicle provided however that motor cycles to which no side car is attached need display only one such light.

Every motor vehicle including motor cycles shall also display one red light visible from the rear but if a trailer or trailers is attached to such motor vehicle a red light shall be displayed on such trailer or on the last trailer if more than one shall be clearly illuminated tag on the rear of every motor vehicle and trailer or last trailer if more than one shall be clearly illuminated from one hour after sunset until one hour before sunrise.

Whenever there is not sufficient light within the limits of the highway to clearly reveal persons vehicles or substantial objects within the limit of one hundred and fifty (150) feet the front lights on every motor vehicle shall when the vehicle is in motion clearly illuminate the road for a distance of at least one hundred and fifty (150) feet in front of such motor vehicle and for five (5) feet to the side of such vehicle at a point ten (10) feet ahead of the lamps.

On no motor vehicle shall there be displayed more than two stationary lights equipped with reflectors in which lights of more than forty (40) candle power are used and such lights shall be so arranged designed or deflected that no portion of the beam of reflected light when measured seventy-five (75) feet or more ahead of the lamps shall rise more than forty-two (42) inches above the level surface on which the vehicle stands.

The focused rays of light from any movable search light or spot light used on any motor vehicle shall not extend to the left of the center of the highway and shall not illuminate the roadway for a greater distance than seventy-five (75) feet ahead of the vehicle to which it is attached.

The term "beam of reflected light" as used in this section shall be construed to mean the approximately parallel focalized rays gathered and projected by a reflector lens or other device.

Every operator of a motor vehicle shall sound his horn bell or signal device giving reasonable warning of his approach whenever necessary to insure the safety of other users of the highways and also when approaching any street or road crossing or dangerous curve where the proper authorities shall have erected signs easily readable from the highway and at right angles thereto bearing thereon in letters at least five (5) inches in height the words "Danger Blow Horn" provided that such signs may not be erected at street or road crossings where a full view to the right and the left is unobstructed.

The unnecessary sounding of horns bells or other signal devices and the use of muffler cutouts upon any public highway is prohibited and no motor vehicle of any description shall be operated or driven on the public highways unless the engine be muffled so that the explosions of the engine shall not constitute a nuisance to the public.

Section 16 No person shall drive or operate a motor vehicle on the public highways in this Commonwealth recklessly or at a speed that is greater than is reasonable and proper having regard to the width traffic and use of the highway or so as to endanger property or the life or limb of any person.

No person shall drive or operate a motor vehicle at a rate of speed exceeding one (1) mile in two and one-half (2½) minutes and no person shall drive a motor vehicle having solid tires and weighing more than five thousand (5,000) pounds gross maximum weight of vehicle and load combined at a greater rate of speed than one (1) mile in four (4) minutes and no person shall drive a motor vehicle having solid tires and weighing over ten thousand (10,000) pounds gross maximum weight of vehicle and load combined at a greater rate of speed than one (1) mile in five (5) minutes and no person shall drive a motor vehicle having solid tires and weighing over fifteen thousand (15,000) pounds gross maximum weight of vehicle and load combined at a greater rate of speed than one (1) mile in six (6) minutes.

The local authorities having charge of any of the highways may however by formal action erect or cause to be erected at dangerous places or in closely built-up sections or at school houses and public play grounds signs having thereon in letters not less than five (5) inches in height the words "Danger Run Slow". Such signs to be placed at right angles to and plainly legible from the highway facing the traffic the speed of which is to be controlled. After passing such a sign a rate of speed of one (1) mile in four (4) minutes shall not be exceeded for a distance of one quarter (¼) of a mile beyond such sign and if such dangerous conditions still exist or if such closely built-up section still continues a second sign similar to the above described may be erected and the speed limit shall not exceed the rate of a mile in four (4) minutes for not more than a quarter (¼) of a mile beyond such sign and as many such signs as may be necessary may be erected. At the end of such dangerous place or closely built-up section there shall be erected a sign reading "End of fifteen mile limit" in letters not less than five (5) inches in height all such signs to be placed at right angles to the highway on the right side thereof and facing the traffic to be controlled. Provided however that on streets or highways where traffic is divided by poles or other permanent fixtures and the said signs may be located in the centre of such streets or highways.

No person shall drive or operate a motor vehicle upon any public street or highway in this Commonwealth having metal spurs or lugs or other metal projections more than three-fourth (¾) of an inch in length upon the tires thereof except upon natural earth roads or where the streets or highways are covered with ice or snow so that the safety of other users of the highway makes such devices necessary.

Section 17 When a motor vehicle meets or overtakes a street passenger car which has stopped for the purpose of taking on or discharging passengers the motor vehicle shall not pass said car on the side on which passengers get on or off until the car has started or until any passenger who may have alighted shall have reached the side of the road or any passenger who may be about to board the car shall have done so.

When signaled to do so by the driver of any horse or other animal of draft or burden the operator of a motor vehicle shall stop until the danger has been avoided.

When meeting or when overtaken by any other motor vehicle legally traveling at a greater speed the operator or driver of any motor vehicle shall turn reasonably to the right of the center of the highway allowing the other vehicle free passage to the left.

No driver or operator of any motor vehicle overtaking another vehicle shall pass such vehicle at a sharp turn or curve or where a full view of the highway ahead is obstructed.

No person shall hang on to or ride on the rear end of any motor vehicle and no person on a bicycle roller skates or any similar device shall hold fast to or hitch on to any moving motor vehicle. No unauthorized person shall blow the horn handle the levers or in any way tamper with or deface any motor vehicle standing upon any public highway.

Section 18 Any person or persons removing altering or obliterating the manufacturers plate or number on any motor vehicle for the purpose of destroying the identity of such motor vehicle or any person or persons aiding or abetting in such removing altering or obliterating or any person or persons receiving or purchasing any motor vehicle upon which the manufacturers plate or number has been removed altered or obliterated without being in possession of evidence that the said manufacturers plate or number was not removed altered or obliterated with the intent of destroying the identity of said motor vehicle shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than three hundred dollars ($300.00) or imprisonment not exceeding one year or both at the discretion of the court and the clerk of the court in which such conviction is had shall certify such conviction to the State Highway Commissioner of Pennsylvania who shall forthwith revoke the license of any licensee so convicted.

Section 19 The proprietor of every public garage shall cause a record to be kept after the manner to be prescribed by the State Highway Commissioner of the names of any and all persons owning or having charge of any motor vehicle stored or left for repair or other purposes at any such public garage together with the make manufacture number name of the State of registration and the registration number of such motor vehicles. Such record shall be kept in ink or indelible pencil and shall be open to the inspection of police officers or the proper authorities. Such records shall be retained and be available for a period of one year after entry but not thereafter.

Section 20 The State Highway Commissioner shall issue printed monthly bulletins giving the name address and number of each licensee and the name and address of the owner of each motor vehicle registered together with the registration number and the make and manufacturer's number of such vehicle which shall be furnished free of charge to each member and principal officer of the General Assembly mayors burgesses chiefs of police aldermen and justices of the peace and shall be sold at a nominal fee to all other applicants for the same.

He shall also cause such records to be compiled and made available in his department as will reveal the identity of the owner of each motor vehicle registered.

It shall be the duty of the Highway Commissioner to cause the original applications for registration and for license to be destroyed three years after the same have been received.

Section 21 All operators of motor vehicles shall upon request or signal of any constable police officer or member of the State police force who shall be in uniform or shall exhibit his badge or other sign of authority stop and exhibit their registration certificate or license and shall write their names in the presence of such officer if so required and shall furnish to any legally constituted authority all information in their possession as to the identity of the operator or owner of any motor vehicle.

Section 22 All informations for offences as defined in this act committed by motor vehicle owners or users in connection with the operation or use of such motor vehicles shall be brought under this act and not under any local ordinance rule or regulation and all such informations shall be made before a burgess magistrate alderman or justice of the peace in the county wherein such offence is alleged to have occurred excepting that in counties having a population in excess of one hundred thousand (100,000) according to the last preceding federal census such information shall be made before a burgess magistrate alderman or justice of the peace within the city borough incorporated town or township wherein such offense is alleged to have occurred.

No city county borough incorporated town or township shall adopt enforce or maintain any ordinance rule or regulation contrary to or inconsistent with the terms of this act or fix a rate of speed, lower than that permitted by this act or retain any fine for violation of the provisions of this act except as provided in section twenty-seven or require of any person any license tax upon or registration fee for any motor vehicle or any permit or license to operate motor vehicles upon the public highways except that in parks the proper authorities may restrict the speed of motor vehicles to such a rate as may seem reasonable provided said rate of speed shall not be less than that allowed other vehicles and that legible signs shall be conspicuously placed indicating the rate of speed permitted. Operators of motor vehicles shall have the same rights upon the public streets and highways as the drivers of any other vehicles and no public road open to horse-drawn vehicles shall be closed to motor vehicles. Provided however That each city may regulate the transportation by motor vehicles (not operated on tracks) of passengers or property for pay within the limits of the city or from points in the city to points beyond the limits of the city. In such regulation the city may impose reasonable license fees make regulations for the operation of vehicles the rates to be charged for transportation and may designate certain streets upon which such vehicles if operated must be operated.

Section 23 In any proceeding for the violation of provisions of this act the registered number displayed on the motor vehicle shall be prima facie evidence that the owner of said vehicle was then operating the same provided however that if at any hearing or proceeding the owner shall testify under oath or affirmation that he was not operating the said motor vehicle at the time of the alleged violation of this act and shall submit himself to an examination as to who at that time was operating such motor vehicle and reveal the name of the person if known or shall forward to the magistrate or justice of the peace an affidavit setting forth these facts then the prima facie evidence arising from the registered number shall be overcome and removed and the burden of proof shifted.

Section 24 The constables and police officers of the State and of the counties cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships of this Commonwealth may arrest upon view and without warrant any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this act but such officer shall forthwith make and file with the burgess magistrate alderman or justice of the peace before whom the person arrested is taken an affidavit setting forth in detail the alleged violation of the act complained of and furnish a copy at once to the person arrested. In the event of an arrest as aforesaid if the defendant is unable to give sufficient bail for a hearing or for his appearance at court the burgess magistrate alderman or justice of the peace before whom he is first taken shall accept as bail any article of sufficient value or provided he is the owner thereof hold in custody the motor vehicle found in the possession of the defendant and the court burgess magistrate alderman or justice of the peace after the trial of the defendant or if in the meantime sufficient bail according to law has been given shall make such order as to the disposition of such motor vehicle or other articles accepted as bail as shall seem just and proper.

Section 25 Proceedings under this act may be commenced by warrant issued in the name of the Commonwealth which warrant may be served by a constable policeman or other officer having authority to serve warrants in any part of the county in which the violation is alleged to have been committed unless the person who is so charged voluntarily responds to the notice mailed by the burgess magistrate alderman or justice of the peace as is hereinafter provided for in this section but if the person charged cannot be served within the county then the constable policeman or officer to whom said warrant is directed shall deputize a constable policeman or other officer having legal authority to serve warrants of the county wherein the person charged resides or may be found who shall serve such warrant and for such service shall receive the usual fees and expenses therefor as allowed by law for such service. A copy of the information shall be served with such warrant and the officer serving such warrant shall take the defendant before the nearest magistrate alderman or justice of the peace of the county in which the defendant is found who shall take bail either for the defendant's appearance before the burgess magistrate alderman or justice of the peace who issued the warrant or for the defendant's appearance for trial in the proper court if a summary hearing is waived.

REPORT OF COMMISSION APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE THE ADVISABILITY OF PURCHASING CERTAIN PROPERTY OPPOSITE INDEPENDENCE HALL.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I desire to present at this time the report of the Commission appointed by the last Legislature to investigate the advisability of the purchase by the Commonwealth of a certain property in Philadelphia opposite Independence Hall, as a public park, and request that the same be printed in the Legislative Journal.

The report is as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The undersigned, a commission appointed to investigate the advisability of the purchase by the Commonwealth of certain property in Philadelphia opposite Independence Hall, as a public park, in accordance with the joint resolution approved the 9th day of April, 1915, copy of which is hereto attached, do make the following report:

In Accordance with the terms of the resolution and authority therein contained, the President Pro tem of the Senate appointed William C. Sproul, the Speaker of the House of Representatives appointed William H. Wilson, and the Governor of the Commonwealth appointed Dr. George Woodward as members of the commission. The commission, in pursuance of its duty held a public meeting in the City Hall of Philadelphia on the first day of May, 1915, having sent notices in writing to parties who had expressed an interest in the subject under investigation. All the members of the commission were in attendance and testimony was taken, first upon the desirability of the acquisition by the Commonwealth of the property on Chestnut Street in the Square limited by the western side of Fifth street and the eastern side of Sixth street, being directly opposite Independence Hall.

Justice Robert Von Moschzisker of the Supreme Court, Harvey M. Watts, one of the editors of the "Philadelphia Public Ledger," a student of civics and art; Representative Isadore Stern, Mr. Medary, president of the Philadelphia Chapter American Institute of Architects; Judge Norris S. Barratt; Mr. Eli K. Price, vice-president of the Fairmount Park Commission, and others were heard on this phase of the question. The consensus of opinion was that it would be a very desirable thing for the Commonwealth to acquire the property from Chestnut to Ludlow Streets and that the setting of Independence Hall would be improved thereby. No testimony was adduced however, which would indicate that the fire risks due to the presence of the buildings now occupying the site were in any way extraordinary or that Independence Hall was greatly imperiled thereby. Some of those speaking on the question stated that the properties on the west side of Sixth Street and east side of Fifth Street and the American Philosophical Society building were equally dangerous in their relation to Independence Hall.

The testimony was then taken regarding the probable cost of acquiring the property in the block contemplated by the resolution. Mr. Emil Rosenberger, president of the Real Estate Title and Trust Company; William H. Brooks, E. Lawrence Fell, Mr. Saul, representing the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities, and others, were among those called upon for their testimony. It appeared from these witnesses that the entire assessment of the block was $2,460,000, and that the probable cost of condemnation, or otherwise, would be from $3,500,000 to $4,000,000, which amount might be increased by damages awarded for the value of locations in the cases of some of the financial and business institutions involved and the cost of moving to other places.

After considering the matter thoroughly the commission is of the opinion that while the acquisition of the ground might be very desirable the cost to the State would be out of proportion to the advantages gained and that the plan is not practicable at the present time.

WILLIAM C. SPROUL,
W. H. WILSON,
GEORGE WOODWARD, Md.

Whereas, the patriotic heart of this nation lies in Independence Hall, Philadelphia; and

Whereas, This Hall should be preserved as a memorial forever to the citizens of our land and safeguarded from fire; and

Whereas, Its proximity to old buildings in its immediate vicinity materially enhances the hazard of destruction by fire; and

Whereas, such hazard could be approximately removed by enlarging the open space surrounding the hall; therefore:

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, That a commission consisting of a member of the House, chosen by the Speaker; a member of the Senate, chosen by the President, pro tempore, and one citizen of Philadelphia, chosen by the Governor, shall investigate the advisability of purchasing certain land in Philadelphia by the Commonwealth, to be hereafter maintained as a State park. Said land is bounded on the south by the property line on the north side of Chestnut Street; on the east by the property line on the western side of Fifth Street; on the west, by the property line on the eastern side of Sixth Street; and on the north, by the property line on the southern side of Minor street. The commission shall ascertain the assessed value of the various pieces of realty comprising said tract, and the approximate values of said pieces and shall ascertain the best method of acquiring said tract. The commission shall report in writing to this session of the General Assembly; setting forth its findings, and such recommendations, as it shall consider proper to include. It shall serve without compensation."

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, June 27, 1917.

The House met at 11.00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Richard J. Baldwin) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. S. G. Zerfass, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father in Heaven, we thank Thee for this bright morning. We would catch something of the gladness which everywhere abounds in the realm of nature, as all Thy works praise Thee.

We would praise Thee not simply with our lips, but also with our hearts. Breathe into our souls Thy spirit, that we may go and live cheerfully all day, so that we lose not the brightness out of our faces, and the joy out of our hearts.

Keep us from worry and anxiety, and teach us to cast our cares upon Him who careth for us.

Prepare us for all the duties, tasks and cares of life, forgive all our sins, and finally save us all. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Lanius, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 1415

An Act to amend parts of section six of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled "An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority of the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act as amended"

with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1415 and appoint a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee), on the subject of the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2113 (Senate Bill No. 1738), as follows:

An Act making an appropriation for the payment of the principal interest and costs of judgments obtained against the Commonwealth in suits authorized by Acts of Assembly

Whereas During the present session of the Legislature many statutes have been passed authorizing suits against the Commonwealth and

Whereas Judgments obtained in any of such suits cannot be paid without an appropriation therefor and

Whereas It is but right and proper that judgments so obtained should be paid when secured and the judgment plaintiff not be compelled to await a subsequent session of the General Assembly therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated and set apart for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and nineteen as a fund for the payment of the principal interest and costs of any judgment obtained against the Commonwealth in a suit authorized by an act of Assembly

The principal interest and costs of any such judgment shall be paid by the State Treasurer to the judgment plaintiff on the warrant of the Auditor General No warrant shall be drawn until the amount to which the judgment plaintiff is entitled has been approved by the Attorney General

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2114 (Senate Bill No. 1639), entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the estate of Harry N Grubbs deceased late of Breckenridge Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,
Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered. That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the Third Reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2106 (Senate Bill No. 713), entitled

An act to authorize the purchase of the collection of books antique pottery pewter linen pictures letters autographs tools implements foreschriften et cetera of the late Samuel W. Pennypacker deceased for the State Library and the Museum of the State Library and making an appropriation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on Third Reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, this appropriation bill authorizes the purchase of antique pottery, pewter, pictures, tools, implements and furniture from the estate of the late Samuel W. Pennypacker. I believe that an appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars is asked for it. I don't believe it would be wise to make a purchase of this kind at this time. Therefore, I hope this bill will be voted down.

Mr. CHESTNUT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia, who has just spoken, give us his reasons why this bill should be voted down.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, to my mind there are various reasons why this bill should be voted down. In the first place, I am reliably informed that this entire collection of antiques can be well described as a lot of junk. In the next place, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has use for its appropriations in other directions. The Legislature here yesterday refused to give us money in Philadelphia for good roads. In the third place, Mr. Speaker, I am told that a similar bill to this one was before the Appropriations Committee and that the sponsor of that bill was promised that neither this bill or the other bill would come out and as this promise was broken and inasmuch as that was held up by the Committee I think this bill should be defeated.

Mr. CHESTNUT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia for explaining the reason, and I believe he was absolutely truthful, because his bill was defeated yesterday.

Mr. HALDEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I was the sponsor for a bill similar to this one. It was for taking over the property of the late Samuel W. Pennypacker. Not that I am opposed to this bill of Mr. Sproul's, but it was decided by the Appropriations Committee that at this time neither one or the other of these bills should come out, and since this bill took a preference over my own I am opposed to it because I think the two, or neither, should have come out of Committee.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz.:

An Act to fix the salaries of the supervising inspectors of the second grade and of the Chief of the Bureau of Mediation and Arbitration in the Department of Labor and Industry

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the salaries of the four supervising inspectors of the second grade in the Department of Labor and Industry are hereby fixed at three thousand five hundred dollars per annum each The salary of the chief of the Bureau of Mediation and Arbitration in the Department of Labor and Industry is hereby fixed at four thousand dollars per annum

Section 2 All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on Third Reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I think this bill is out of place in the position it occupies on the calendar, not being an appropriation bill.

The SPEAKER. Unless there is some answer the gentleman can rise to a point of order.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the House consider this bill at this time and move that the House proceed to the consideration of the bill.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and the House will proceed to the consideration of this bill.

An Act validating proceedings by town councils in boroughs for the paving and curbing of public highways and validating municipal liens filed therefor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever in any borough in this Commonwealth prior to the passage of this act a highway or part thereof has been improved by being paved or paved and curbed with brick or other paving and curbing material in pursuance of authority of an act of assembly and an ordinance passed and enacted in pursuance thereof and the costs and expenses or part thereof of the improvement assessed on the abutting property owners as provided by the ordinance and act of Assembly authorizing and directing such improvement and a municipal lien has been filed against the property owner therefor but by reason of some defect in the service of or because of the omission to give or serve any notice required by law the proceedings by the town council authorizing and directing the improvement or any municipal lien filed therefor is defective or invalid such proceedings authorizing the improvement and any municipal lien filed therefor is hereby validated and made binding for the amount justly and equitably due and payable on account of such paving and curbing. Provided That this act shall not apply to any proceeding suit or lien wherein a final order or judgment of any court of record has already been made or entered

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, if there is any person in the House that has a special interest in this bill, I would like to have him explain the purpose of it and why it is necessary to come into the Legislature for the purpose of validating the Act of a borough council right along. If there is not, it seems to me, without any further information upon it, that this is a very drastic piece of legislation, for it is legislation that may affect a great many pieces of property that ought not to be affected. The borough councils certainly ought to be able to pass such legislation within the borough as would necessarily make all of the liens for paving and validating claims without coming into the Legislature of the State and asking them to validate these claims, if they are there neglected, or on some other inadvertency on the part of the borough council. I would ask the members outside of boroughs to assist us in trying to defeat legislation such as this.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this is a validating act and it has been some weeks since I have examined it. I do not know what particular circumstances surround this case or what it is intended to cover. I take it that with respect to validating acts, making liens valid at some request that it don't apply always or relate to some cases where the public money has been expended and by reason of inadvertence on the part of the borough solicitor. I am always in favor of validating acts unless they work extraordinary hardship and where as would seem in this case they get away from the property owners and improvement by reason of some technicality. I believe they ought to be made to pay for it if this body can give them the power to do so.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1866 (Senate Bill No. 834), as follows:

An Act making it a misdemeanor for a parent wilfully to neglect to support a child born out of lawful wedlock whether such child shall have been begotten or shall have been born within or without this Commonwealth providing punishment therefor and empowering the court to make an order for support and to enforce the same And declaring persons making false statements in certain cases guilty of perjury

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any parent who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to contribute reasonably to the support and maintenance of a child born out of lawful wedlock shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or imprisonment not exceeding six months or both with or without hard labor in the discretion of the court

Section 2 Proceedings under this act may be instituted upon complaint made under oath or affirmation by the parent of such child

Section 3 This act shall apply whether such child shall have been begotten or shall have been born within or without this Commonwealth

Section 4 Before the trial with the consent of the defendant endorsed on the bill of indictment as now provided by law or at the trial on entry of a plea of guilty or after conviction instead of imposing the fine herein provided or in addition thereto the court in its discretion having regard to the circumstances and to the financial ability and earning capacity of the defendant shall have the power to make an order which shall be subject to change by the court from time to time as circumstances may require directing the defendant to pay a certain sum periodically for such time and to such person as the court may direct and the court shall have the power to suspend the sentence herein provided and release the defendants from custody on probation in manner provided by "An Act for relief of wives and children deserted by their husbands and fathers within this Commonwealth" approved the thirteenth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven and the supplements thereto provided that the defendant has entered into a recognizance in such sum with or without surety as the court shall direct for compliance with such order

Section 5 Whenever a parent is paying for the support of a child under an order of court made in any other proceeding civil criminal or quasi-criminal said parent shall not be subject to proceedings for support for the same child under this act Provided however That if said parent as defendant in such other proceedings has failed to obey such order of court said parent shall be subject to all the provisions of this act

Section 6 Any person who shall at any stage of the proceedings under this act knowingly make false statements as to who is the parent of a child shall be guilty of the crime of perjury

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

MR. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire again to call your attention briefly to the provisions of this bill with respect to a parent being responsible for the care of an illegitimate child. The first section provides "that any parent who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to contribute reasonably to the support and maintenance of a child born out of lawful wedlock shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisonment not exceeding six months." This act has been very much improved by the amendments made to it in the House, but the big thing in it is that it places no time limit on when the prosecution for non-support may be started nor does it provide that the needs of the child shall be fixed according to law, as now in force, namely by prosecution for fornication and bastardy, but it permits the parent of a child—the mother to bring proceedings against the father at any time.

One might be called upon to disprove the parentage of a child ten or fifteen years after the child was born. If that is not the effect of the Act I am woefully misinformed. I can see nothing in it to impose the Statute of Limitations during the period in which the child is dependent upon the parent for support. It would be only after the child became independent and could support itself that proceedings under this Act would not lie. I sympathize with the object of the bill, but it is too dangerous to pass legislation of this kind.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was last on the calendar, Mr. Walker raised certain objections to it and these objections, I believe, have been covered by amendments. The first amendment was one which restricts testimony as to the paternity of the child by the mother, and the last amendment was one which changed the imprisonment from six months—the usual punishment in case of perjury, when false statements are made as to the paternity of the child. As to this bill itself, it is hard for me to understand why the father, if he is the father of an illegitimate child, should not be made to support it when the child is ten years old or eleven years old or even twelve years old, but that he should only support the child when it is six years old. This bill simply separates two crimes that now are punishable; One is fornication and bastardy and it accomplishes two things. It permits a prosecution for the failure to support an illegitimate child. Whether the act of fornication and bastardy itself occurs outside of the State of Pennsylvania or within the limits of the State of Pennsylvania. The reason why the bill is presented is because those who handle cases of this kind have experienced great difficulty in the abuse by fathers of illegitimate children under the protection of the present Statute of Limitations and because of them. It seems to me under all the circumstances and particularly because it will help every county in the State of Pennsylvania in the prosecution of cases where otherwise they would become cases of destitution, that this bill should be supported by every member of the House.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, claims that the bill needs further amendment. His requirements and requests remind me of the story of the old fellow whose wife was taken to the hospital and was operated on. After cutting away a good many of her substantially good parts, the old fellow went back and asked the nurse how his wife was. He was told that the operation was successful, she was improving and she was getting along nicely. The next day he went back and was told that his wife was improving every day and this went on for ten days, with reports of her improvement and one day he went weeping down the street upon hearing of the death of his wife, he met his friend and his friend said to him "Johnny, what is the matter?" He answered, "Mary is dead." The friend asked, "What did she die of?" And Johnny answered, "Improvements." I am afraid if the gentleman from Franklin would further improve this bill it would kill it. This bill provides, as the gentleman from Philadelphia has said, for the taking off relief of destitution and the burden on people in many counties by providing that the actual father of a child shall support it; but the main objection I see in the remarks by the gentleman from Franklin lie in this fact, that he claims that no limitation has been provided for in this Statute. On that I think he is in error, because under the law it is required that there shall be a limitation to every action except that for murder, and we are, therefore, bound to go back to the Act of 1860 which provides for a two-year limitation from the beginning and before action under this Act and the only difference between this Act and the Act provides for fornication and bastardy and lies in this, that, in this, action may begin two years after the birth of the child, rather than two years from the conception. I think that this Act ought to be passed and that every man who believes that a natural father should take care of his natural progeny should vote for it.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, one gentleman from Philadelphia says the child is dependent for a certain time and the other gentleman says it is two years. I am speaking of the difference between what the two gentlemen from Philadelphia say. Now I hope I may be pardoned for thinking that the liminary period may be a long time when one gentleman says it is a long time and the other gentleman says it is a short time. I want to say this that if the gentleman from Philadelphia who has just addressed the House had recalled what has been said about the bill with the same facility that he recalls entertaining stories, he would have known that the main objection was the liminary period rather than anything else that is contained in it.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to call the attention of the House to the fact that there are two bills on the final passage postponed calendar. If they are passed by at this time, it will be out of order to call them up.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up on page 4 today's calendar, House Bill No. 1227 (Senate Bill No. 513), File Folio 4429, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage on House Bill No. 1227 (Senate Bill No. 513), entitled

An Act regulating the collection of county taxes in counties containing over one hundred thirty-five thousand and less than one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants creating the office of receiver of taxes in such counties and prescribing the powers and duties of said office

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill has been before you before and was thoroughly discussed by the members of Dauphin and York Counties. I shall therefore not burden you with any further talk on the bill more than to ask you to support it.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Swartz.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Swartz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Dauphin the purposes of this bill.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is a little different than I stated last week. It was—

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman say that so that the members can understand the answer.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am not through. If the gentleman will wait until I am through,—

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from York will kindly wait until the gentleman from Dauphin is through, I understand he is answering the question.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, it was that the purposes of this bill would save to the taxpayers of Dauphin County some money, I thought it would save them about $3,000. Since then I looked up the matter and find that instead of saving the taxpayers $3,000 it will save them about $7,500.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, since this bill applies to York County, I would like to know how much it saves York County.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I can best answer that question by asking the gentleman from York to make a calculation of the expenses of the collection of county taxes under the present law.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill has been on the postponed calendar for nearly two months. Evidently there is a snake in the bill. I want to say from an economical standpoint gentlemen, that it costs us about $11,000, and a little bit over to collect the state and county taxes of York County. If this bill is passed, it will cost the officials only $9,000. Now the sending out of tax notices gentlemen, to every voter in York County will cost about $1,000 without any traveling expenses, without any other necessary expenses, and according to the report of the York County Commissioners, gentlemen, this bill, if passed, will cost York County from $1,000 to $1,500 more to collect the state and county taxes than under the present system. I want to say, gentlemen, that this bill may suit Dauphin County from a political standpoint. I do not want to say anything on that, but I want to be frank with you gentlemen of the House when I say that this bill as introduced, and I do not say it because my Democratic friends across over there are Democrats, if I were a Democrat I would say the same thing, I want to say to you now, that since York County is Democratic by about thirty-five hundred, it will knock the legs from under the Republican boys in the Republican circle in York County. It will be unfair legislation. There is not a fair minded man here this morning who would want to put anything unfair on York County or on any other county. Listen, gentlemen, if your sister county was trying to institute or place upon the statute books some law that your people did not want, to a man would you believe it to be a fair or unfair piece of legislation? In one county it may be good and in the other county it would knock the legs from under their political chair. That is not the only purpose, or the main purpose, that I am taking this stand against the bill. It will be something like the post office business years ago. Gentlemen, we went to the post office and got our mail. Today the rural carriers carry it to our doors. If this bill is passed, if we are not just financially able to pay when these men come around for their collections, we must travel twenty of thirty miles to pay our taxes. Gentlemen, it will work a hardship on the man who just does not always have money, and I am aware of the fact that I do not always have it. So it will be a matter of inconvenience to the general public. There is not a man in York County who is interested in the general welfare of York County, that wants this damnable bill. I want to say further, gentlemen, that the thing will only work a hardship on York County. That is not the only thing, those $9,000 that those five men are to get will be taken to the city of York. I do not blame York for getting that. There are in York County about one hundred tax collectors today. If those $9,000 would be given to those one hundred tax collectors, ninety dollars to the man in your borough, and ninety dollars to the other fellow, out in the township, those men having those ninety dollars in their pockets would pay the bills around in the country stores and the blacksmith shop and so on, otherwise it will monopolize business. It certainly is not fair to the country districts. I want to say to the gentleman in all fairness not to entertain this vicious piece of legislation. I thank you.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I may say in all frankness that my interest in this bill is not of a political nature. In the first place, this bill would give our county commissioners, who are both Democratic, the power to make these five appointments, one tax receiver at a salary of thirty-six hundred dollars per annum, two deputies at fifteen hundred dollars each per annum, and two clerks at twelve hundred dollars. My interest in this bill is with the man who tills, the man of the soil, the farmer. As the case now is, the tax collectors collect the county taxes, the road taxes, and the school taxes, in the boroughs and townships. Those tax collectors are elected by the people. This bill would provide a tax collector who would come into the townships and boroughs on one day and collect the county and state taxes, and then after that the man who would not be able to pay on that particular day would have to go to the county seat to pay those taxes, leaving the road and school taxes to be collected by the regularly elected collectors. Thus you see we would have two sets of collectors, which would cause confusion in the minds of the tax payers. There is surely no efficiency in that system. I maintain, Mr. Speaker, that if there was to be a receiver of taxes, that he should receive all the taxes, the road, school and county taxes. Mr. Speaker, in these days where everybody is so patriotic, I cannot understand why the farmer should be asked to be put to a disadvantage and to go to a considerable distance to the county seat, on a particular day, to pay his taxes, and to leave their farms and be put to the expense of this trip. My friend from York on the other side said that York and Dauphin Counties only would be affected. I say that is true at this time, but if the members of the House will turn to Smull's Hand Book, there they will find ten counties of the State that will be affected by this bill within the next few years, or when the next census is taken. In addition to York County, there would be Lehigh County, Northampton, Delaware, Washington, Erie and Clearfield. There will be a number of these counties that will come under this one hundred and thirty-five thousand class when the next census is taken, and this act, which now will apply to Dauphin and York counties, will then also apply to them. The considering it from the standpoint of economy, this bill does not save York County a single penny, and I cannot understand how Dauphin county can save anything under it. I do not refute the statement made by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Swartz, but I know this, that it is not going to save our county a single penny, and it is going to put our farmers to a distinct disadvantage. If it were political, then I would vote for this bill heartily. I am a son of the soil, and I am not ashamed of it, but I would be ashamed to go back home and say that I voted for a bill that would put all of the farmers in the small boroughs and townships at a disadvantage, that would provide for two sets of tax collectors, and which would cause confusion at a time like this. We preach of efficiency and economy, but the records do not show that. I will say this in conclusion, that I am but asking for a fair and square deal. I do not want to be slapped because I am a small man, but if you are going to do it, I will say, amen.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I want to call attention to a further fact that has not been known. About two months ago when this bill first came up, the commissioners of York County were to work against the bill. Two of them are Democrats and one is Republican. They have been trying, together with the people back of them, to see that this bill is not passed. I simply want to show you that the commissioners of York County are opposed to the passage of this bill.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not intend, as I said in the beginning, to burden you with talk on this bill, but I simply want to call your attention to the fact that this bill was held up at the request of two of the members from York County, and at their request was amended so that it shall not become effective until January 1, 1918.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, last night Senate Bill No. 816, on page 6 of yesterday's calendar, was postponed. I presume that because of the confusion and through inadvertence the bill was not placed upon to-day's calendar. I do not want the bill to be prejudiced and desire to call the bill up for consideration at this time.

Agreeably to order.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1828 (Senate Bill No. 816), entitled

An Act providing for the formation and regulation of stock corporations having either or both preferred or common shares without nominal or par value and authorizing such corporations to issue shares without par value upon formation reorganization merger or consolidation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, last night I was without information with respect to this bill and its objects. I have been informed that this bill was drawn by Congressman Graham, of the second district of Philadelphia, and that a similar act was in force in thirty-five States of the Union. The last section of the bill provides that all laws of the Commonwealth relating to corporations, excepting those requiring a nominal par value to be stated in the certificate of incorporation, shall apply to corporations under this act. My information, while not exhaustive, is sufficient to lead me to believe that no harm could come from the passage of this bill, and I think that it is only fair to the sponsor to make this statement. I see no reason why the bill should not pass, and therefore would ask the members to vote for it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Baldwin,
Speaker.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1915 (Senate Bill No. 1131), entitled

An Act to amend and revise an act, entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation, regulation, and government of cities of the third class; regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein; and repealing, consolidating, and extending existing laws in relation thereto," approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, changing and modifying the qualifications of commissioners to be appointed by the court of quarter sessions for the division or creation of wards in cities of the third class.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1892 (Senate Bill No. 1106), entitled

An Act to supplement an act, entitled "An Act providing when, how, upon what property, and to what extent, liens shall be allowed for taxes, and for municipal improvements, and for the removal of nuisances, the procedure upon claims filed therefor; the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims; the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened, and the manner of distributing the proceeds of such sales," approved the fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and one, providing an additional method for the enforcement and collection of county, poor, school, borough, town or township taxes against seated lands, authorizing the return of taxes on seated lands in counties, poor districts, school districts, boroughs, incorporated towns and townships for county, poor, school, borough, town or township taxes, respectively, and providing for the sale of such lands for such taxes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I believe every session of the Legislature since 1901 has been passing legislation concerning the collection of taxes. This matter has been in a very much confused condition. In 1913 we passed an act which I believe very few of us ever thought would have the consequences and far-reaching effects it had; namely, it repealed the Act of 1901 so far as the returning of taxes on seated land was concerned. In 1915 that Act of 1913 was amended, providing that all returns on seated lands shall be made by the first of February succeeding the year in which the taxes were assessed. This Act is practically a re-enactment of the Act of 1915. It would simply add uncertainty to pass this piece of legislation.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there were two bills introduced by Senator Kline in regard to this subject.

One of them was referred to one of the Judiciary committees, which is this bill, No. 1106; the other bill was referred to the Committee on Counties and Townships, which is Senate Bill No. 1105, which is on page fifteen of today's calendar. This act, No. 1105, repeals the Act of 1913. Prior to 1901 unseated lands were sold for taxes under the Act of 1815, and seated lands were sold for taxes under the Act of 1844. The Act of 1901 contained the express repeal of some two hundred and forty acts but did not mention the Act of 1844. Most of the counties disregarded the Act of 1901 and proceeded to sell their unseated lands under the Act of 1844. About 1911 there was a case in the supreme court in which I attempted to convince the supreme court that the Act of 1844 was not repealed by the Act of 1901. The supreme court decided otherwise and required that liens should be filed for the recovery of said seated lands. In 1903 an act was passed which took unseated lands out of the operation of the Act of 1901. In 1913 an act was passed which placed the collection of taxes on seated lands back similar to the proceedings had under the Act of 1844, and the Act of 1915 amended the Act of 1913 and completed the procedure whereby the proceedings are similar to the Act of 1844.

In your rural districts and counties it is absolutely impossible to collect taxes under the procedure set forth in the Act of 1901, consequently that is what gave rise to the Act of 1913 and the Act of 1915 and Senate Bill No. 1105 repealed the Act of 1913 but did not mention the Act of 1915, consequently it did not seem complete to me but in order to be fair to the sponsor of the bill I had the other bill reported out so that they are both on the calendar at the present time. It seems to me that this act and the other act are not properly drawn and that at the present time the counties should be left alone because of the inconvenience and the uncertainty with which this subject has been held. It has been held for some time by a great many of the county authorities that there should be two separate modes of procedure, one for cities where the property is improved and the other for the rural districts where the property is not improved and metes and bounds are hard to obtain. Such an act was drawn and presented but has not left the committee's hands up to the present time. It is absolutely impossible for the small counties to work under the Act of 1901 on account of the amount of expense. The procedure under the Act of 1901 was to file a lien in the prothonotary's office, issue a scire facias, reduce it to judgment and have a sale by the sheriff under the Act of 1844. By the Acts of 1913 and 1915 the procedure is to certify to the county treasurer's office and sell by county treasurer's land sale. The difference in expense is just this: That under the Act of 1901 the expense of selling a piece of land would run in the neighborhood of fifty or sixty dollars while under the Act of 1844, as seated lands are now sold, they can be sold for four dollars twelve and a half cents. I can point out to you as to why rural counties cannot operate under this act. Your city properties have large value; your county taxes and other taxes are large. Your rural properties have low valuations, sometimes being a dollar an acre and on one hundred acres the value would be but one hundred dollars. Take and figure six or seven mills on that, which is your county tax, and your tax is so small that the expense is entirely too much. Consequently, gentlemen, I hope that you will vote this bill down and also the other bill when we reach it in order that the system of collection of these taxes in Pennsylvania as now in force may be maintained in force.

Shall the bill pass finally?

COMMUNICATION TO MEMBERS AND EMPLOYEES OF THE HOUSE.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read a communication to the members and employees of the House.

The Clerk then read the communication as follows:

Temple, Pa., June 27th 1917.
Representatives, Harrisburg, Pa.

Gentlemen:—Accept my sincere thanks and hearty appreciation of the many courtesies and kindnesses shown to me by your honorable body during the session which is now about to close.

I had hoped against hope to the last minute that I might be present in person on the closing day.

But an unkind fate appears to have decreed otherwise. Nevertheless I am with you in spirit if not in body.

And I take this opportunity to extend to you all my warmest hand shake and my parting Good Bye.

Sincerely Yours,

WILSON G. SARIG.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication be printed in the Legislative Journal.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. GLASS, from the Committee on Labor and Industry, re-reported as committed House Bill No. 1896 (Senate Bill No. 1022), entitled

An Act to authorize and require the improvement of streets, roads and highways in all cities of the Commonwealth where owners of land abutting thereon desire to improve and build upon said land

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that a limit for discussion by each speaker upon the question now to be considered by the House be placed at five minutes.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope that the gentlemen of the House will vote down this bill. This bill is the most vicious measure ever proposed to a lawmaking body, and when we learn that the mayor of the great City of Philadelphia is behind it, the offense becomes still worse.

This bill was introduced into the Senate on April 9th, almost three months ago, and did not come into this House until last Thursday. Now, gentlemen, why was it that this bill remained so long in the Senate? The truth is, Mr. Speaker, that the political leaders of Philadelphia were opposed to this measure. It is also a matter of fact that His Honor, the Mayor, said that he would not attempt to drive this bill through the Legislature, and so nothing was done until the sudden change of his attitude two or three weeks ago. I cannot understand the change of attitude upon the part of the mayor. There may be some ulterior motive which I have not been able to ascertain, but I leave it to your common sense and your judgment. This bill, Mr. Speaker, is not only immoral, but it is dishonest.

In 1907 the City of Philadelphia entered into a contract with the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, and this contract is still in force and in operation. Under this contract the company has the right to lease all newly constructed lines from time to time, upon terms to be agreed upon by the City of Philadelphia and the Rapid Transit Company. Now that is a distinct stipulation in the contract of 1907. Now it so happens that the City of Philadelphia is about to spend one hundred million dollars in the construction of elevated and subway lines, and because the mayor has not up to this time been able to agree upon terms with the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, he introduces this bill into the Legislature, which is a direct attempt to abrogate and violate the contract of 1907. Because the company refuses a lease under which it would be driven to bankruptcy, the mayor is of the opinion that he cannot break a proper, legal and legitimate contract. True, the situation is peculiar. He says and he said before the sub-committee that we have only one customer for our wares, and if this bill passes we will be able to deal with independent companies. I admit, Mr. Speaker, that the City of Philadelphia has only one customer for its wares, but the situation was occasioned only by the City of Philadelphia at the time it entered into the contract of 1907; and if the City of Philadelphia is responsible for this situation, it is too late, after operating for ten years, to come to this Legislature and cry about it. If, Mr. Mayor—you are sitting in the chair here—if you had a contract with the City of Philadelphia to supply bonds for the employees of Philadelphia, after operating under this contract the city came to this Legislature and asked that that contract be violated—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's time has expired, and the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware yields his time to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, who will proceed.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Delaware County. I was about to say, Mr. Mayor, that if you had a contract with the City of Philadelphia to supply bonds for the employees, and after operating under that contract the City came to this Legislature and asked that this contract be violated, I am sure that you would say that the city is trying to abrogate its contract, violate its obligation, and I would not like to put in print what epithets you would use about the City of Philadelphia. This bill is clearly an attempt to impair the obligation of a contract. And another point: if this bill passes, and I direct myself particularly to the patriotic representatives from Philadelphia, if this bill passes the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company would be unable to pay its charges to the underlying lines, and that would mean that the underlying companies, under this agreement of the Rapid Transit Company would be entitled to all the stock, the franchise, tracks and equipment of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company.

This is a bold attempt to cheat the City of Philadelphia out of its own property and handing it over to the underlying lines, because, gentlemen of the House, the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company is a property of the city and if this bill passes and it destroys the power of the P. R. T. to pay its carrying charges it will be swallowed up by the underlying companies. Such an act of destruction on the part of the mayor of Philadelphia is nothing short of criminal. The mayor of Philadelphia has said that he fights this measure as the agent of the people. My answer is that if the people of Philadelphia had the power to express their views with regard to this measure they would quickly dispense with that agency, for I cannot conceive that the people of Philadelphia want to lose a public utility which belongs to them; I cannot conceive that the people of Philadelphia will stand for a bill which aims at the impairment of a solemn obligation; I cannot conceive that the people of Philadelphia would support a bill which tends toward the destruction and ruination of public property; and I appeal to you men to put your stamp of disapproval upon this vicious bill and vote it down.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it is not my purpose to indulge in any personalities nor to accuse any man of wrongdoing. I only want to say in a few words that the measure now before you is not only endorsed by the Mayor of the city of Philadelphia, but by the United Business Men's Association in the north and the south and the east and west parts of Philadelphia, by the United press of Philadelphia and by the thought of the people of the city of Philadelphia; and yesterday, last evening, in confirmation of what I am saying you had read to you a telegram from the United Business Men's Association of Philadelphia, asking you gentlemen of the Legislature to enact this Transit bill into a law. Then why, why should my good friend, Mr. Aron, with his unjust and most uncalled for remarks on a measure affecting the people of Philadelphia, why should he launch a tirade that is not only unnecessary but wholly untruthful against the municipal authorities of the city of Philadelphia?

This bill, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, is a measure which is almost identical with the measure that as we as the members of this body passed on the twenty-first of March of this session, known as House Bill No. 414 and introduced by our good friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Gans. That bill passed this House by a vote of one hundred and seventy-one against one; and now this bill takes the place of that bill and is before you for the same consideration as you gave that one. And what is this bill? Without regard to personalities but wholly diverting our attention to the very question that is before us, it is either a good piece of legislation; it is either beneficial to the people of the city of Philadelphia or it is not beneficial to the people of the city of Philadelphia; and if it is beneficial for the people of the city of Philadelphia you have the answer in their united cry to enact this bill into law.

Why talk about the delay in the Senate and then not be in favor of this bill? Why bring such untruthful statements before an intelligent body like this legislative branch of the municipal government? Why, as a matter of fact, the delay on this bill was caused wholly and solely because of the opponents to the measure desiring various hearings. I want to tell you that they demanded a hearing on this bill and it was granted to them; but on the day that the hearing was held no one appeared except proponents for the bill and those who asked for the hearing were not present but asked for some time and it was for the Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee of the Senate, who desired to expedite this important piece of legislation, that he said, "I will grant that hearing but it must be held within a week." There was a week's delay, and at whose door should that delay be laid? At the door of the men who are opposed to the measure. Then what happened? Another hearing was held. I want to say to you gentlemen, that every effort that the proponents of the bill could make to expedite this important piece of legislation from the time it was introduced until the present moment has been made by them and if there has been any delay it was because of the dilatory and obstructive tactics of those men who are interested solely from selfish interests. He laid it at the door of this Legislature preventing the enactment of this legislation. Gentlemen, this bill—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's time has expired.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I want to concede my time to Mr. Hecht.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cox, concedes his time to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht, who will proceed.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cox. This bill, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, provides simply this: That it puts it up to the Public Service Commission of this Commonwealth to decide certain differences between the Rapid Transit Company and the municipality in the through routing and joint rates. It says, not that any man's invested capital shall be taken from him but, it says that where a municipality, such as the city of Philadelphia, is unable to agree with the railways system, those two shall come before the Public Service Commission and under just and reasonable regulations shall become united in the performance of a duty that is owed the people. In this bill are the words "just and reasonable," and in this bill it is made a fundamental standpoint that the city of Philadelphia cannot, of its own volition, take anything away from the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company because the only power that has the right to do that is the power which this State has created for just such an emergency. This is simply a supplement to the Public Service Act and it gives the Public Service Commission those powers which should have been and would have been written into that Act had such an emergency arisen at the time of the passage of this act.

Now, to you gentlemen who reside outside of the City of Philadelphia, I want to say that this bill while State-wide in its wording does not affect your municipalities. I believe I am correct in saying that there is not another county in the State of Pennsylvania outside of Philadelphia with a municipally owned street railway system. It would have been made applicable to cities of the first class to wit, Philadelphia alone, had it not been absolutely and directly against the decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in Alsworth vs. Pittsburgh Railways, decided in 231 Pennsylvania Supreme Court Reports, which says that "in cases like this rail rate regulation is applicable only to them," and as it is not an act to give any particular city this special legal legislation and must be made applicable to no other city, but even for this the purpose of it, the effect of it, will be that it will affect no other county of the State except Philadelphia, because similar conditions do not exist in any other county in the State of Pennsylvania. When it is called confiscatory and when it is called robbery by all these enemies they are simply thrown as a blanket over this measure, and we come down to this foundation that there exists in the City of Philadelphia a condition which demands correction. There has been a contract between the Philadelphia Transit Company and the City of Philadelphia made in 1907, and without going into that I will say this to you, that the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, either under the contract of 1907 or under any other contract which it may have made with the City of Philadelphia under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, or under any other condition, is protected in this bill, No. 786, now before you, because through it the State Public Service Commission cannot act unless the proposition is a just and reasonable one.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's time has expired.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I concede my five minutes to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, and will very briefly say this: It is for no commission to say that any act can come in and take the property of either an individual or a street railway system. Under such legislation as is proposed here because the City of Philadelphia has no power to do it and would not have any other power to do it than by asking this Legislature to give us a chance to go before the properly constituted commission in this State regulating the public service utility and let them see the nature of the differences between these men. The facts are that here is a dispute to be settled and we ask you to rectify it, and give to the people of Philadelphia, the City of Philadelphia, that which they deserve. No dust is to be thrown into the eyes of you gentlemen. I only want to say in conclusion to you men, that this bill is endorsed by all the civic and business associations of the City of Philadelphia, and if you will take the vote of the members, the vote of the delegation of the City of Philadelphia in this House on this measure as your criterion you ought to know whether or not the measure is desired by the City of Philadelphia. If you will do that you will have a decisive answer to the statement of my friend, Mr. Aron, when he says that the City of Philadelphia is against it. I hope, gentlemen, that you will give this measure consideration and I wish to assure you that in passing it you will be giving to the City of Philadelphia that which it needs and that which the honored mayor of the City of Philadelphia is trying to secure for its citizens and as the organizations of Philadelphia have asked him to do that he has a right to come here and do what he can to uphold the honor of the City of Philadelphia, and this solution, this question can be solved only according to our laws.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hecht,—if the City of Philadelphia has no authority, as you state, is it not because of this contract with the Rapid Transit Company of 1907?

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I say in answer to that, is that the City of Philadelphia cannot go into that because there are two elements to be considered and the object is to get them together.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that any gentleman who has had the floor and has used his time is not entitled to any further time, and the Chair so rules.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to take but a few moments of your time. I wish to clear up, first, something that has been said here during the last few days, and it is this: It has been said that the delegation from Philadelphia is not in favor of this legislation. I wish to say to you, gentlemen, that the statement is absolutely untrue. Every man, except one, of the delegation from Philadelphia is anxious to see this bill enacted into a law and for what reason? Because in the City of Philadelphia we are expending at the present time one hundred million dollars for the transportation of our population and that benefit is to be derived by every citizen, every workingman and his family throughout the City of Philadelphia, and the only cry that you hear that comes in response is from some few gentlemen, some of the gentlemen who have money invested in this company, and they are afraid that possibly they will not get the returns in the future which they have been getting heretofore. Let me tell you that one and a half million of the people in the City of Philadelphia are asking for this legislation so that they may be transported from their places of business to their homes and they are asking the mayor of Philadelphia to represent them that they may have better transportation facilities, and the legislation is given that power to do it, and the mayor has a right to come here and ask that the lines should be constructed along the lines that the citizens of Philadelphia desire. Should he not have the right to come here and do everything that his people want done in their own city? Why of course you will say, "Yes." I want to say to you that this act does not and cannot interfere with any other transit company in the State of Pennsylvania. Why? Because there is no other city in the State of Pennsylvania that is constructing its own roads and we are doing that out of the moneys from the City of Philadelphia. Therefore, this act should be passed and, gentlemen, the impression should not go out that has been endeavored to be put out, that it may affect other counties and towns in the State. This act if it passes will simply have the effect of giving that to Philadelphia which we have struggled for for years, namely: that our people can go to and from their work and to their various places of employment in good and proper time, and it should have the unanimous support of every member of this House.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. I want to speak to the rural members of this House on this very important question, because we have mingled together during this session in the interests of our people. The rural members outside of Philadelphia are legislating for the interests of the rural people. I as an humble representative of the rural district of Philadelphia, ask you now at this closing of the Legislature to join with me to help the people of my district who are rural people, who are farmers, to receive the benefits that they have been praying for and pleading for for twenty years or more from the City of Philadelphia. The opportunity came to the Legislature to give to the City of Philadelphia the right to increase its borrowing capacity. The people of Philadelphia have taken advantage of that opportunity and went before the polls and voted that we bond ourselves for $100,000,000 if we see fit for the purpose of rapid transit. What did that do? My friends, it started an elevated road from the central part of the city to the suburbs, the district in which I am located, the farming interests that have been sacrificed for years and years and unprotected and neglected. The elevated road has been authorized, the contract has been let, and almost three-quarters of the elevated road now is constructed. What is the result of that? If you gentlemen give us this power under this act the elevated road will lead from the rural districts of Philadelphia County down into the central part at the Delaware, almost at Market Street, and there stop. Then, if it is necessary for the people to come from the rural district on the elevated road they must pay another fare in order to reach Broad and Market Streets. The prayer of my people is that this power be given to us for the privilege of enjoying the transportation from the rural districts to the central part of the city which the other two-thirds of our county has been enjoying for years. The purpose of this bill is only to give the rural people the privilege of receiving the same benefit and cheaper transportation that two-thirds of our county have received before. My district, the taxable property in my district is city property, is taxed at $23,000,000; the suburban property at $17,000,000; the farm lands at $8,000,000, making a total in my district alone of over $47,000,000 of taxable property, and that is neglected by rapid transit. What does it represent, my friends? In that district alone there was in the census of 1910 a population of 60,000. Do you know what that represents? Only thirty-five counties in the whole State of Pennsylvania out of the sixty-seven counties have above that amount. So you see that district alone is larger than thirty-five counties, the population of thirty-five counties in this great Commonwealth of ours. We are only pleading to-day for the farming interest which I represent, to give them cheaper transportation that you are giving to the city population. I thank you.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, had Philadelphia introduced a special act into this Legislature requesting legislation which would assist them in their rapid transit difficulties, and the delegation had desired that act, I would have considered it my duty as a country member to have gone along with Philadelphia and give them what they desired. But, when they come into this House with an act which is general in its application, and which is as apt to affect any county in the state of Pennsylvania as it is the county of Philadelphia, then it becomes my privilege to consider, and duty to discuss the merits of this bill on the floor of this House.

Gentlemen of the House, this bill is a bad piece of legislation. The purposes of this act evidently are good. The act contemplates first two different types of railroad facilities, one operated by a private corporation and the other operated by a municipality. A slip was passed around which I found on my desk, which states that it only applies to municipalities which have the power to construct railroads, but the act does not so state. The act gives this power to any municipality which uses by lease or otherwise a railroad. The act evidently intended that the Public Service Commission should have jurisdiction over the railroads in a municipality when one was leased by a municipality, and the other owned by a private corporation. Were that true, I would be heartily in accord with the bill; but this act does not provide for that contingency. Even if this act is passed the rapid transit facilities of Philadelphia will not be under the jurisdiction of the public Service Commission. It first takes an act of the board of control or board of managers of that railroad controlled or operated by the municipality. In other words, you will have in a municipality this condition: You will have a railroad owned we will say by a private corporation, and you will have a railroad operated by a municipality. The municipality can force that private railroad under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission at any time it wants to. But the private corporation cannot force the municipal corporation, the corporation controlled by the municipal authorities, under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission. This is set forth in section 3 of this act which provides that "nothing in this act shall give the commission power to regulate the joint facilities, services or rates of a street railway corporation and a street railway line operated by a municipal corporation unless the official board or commission in charge of the operation of the line of the municipal corporation being duly authorized thereto by the governing body of such municipal corporation shall have filed with the commission a written statement to the effect that the municipality will abide by any order of the commission." Now gentlemen the private corporation cannot force the municipal corporation under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission, but the municipal corporation can force the private corporation under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission. What is the result? The result is, that such an order has been made that will simply be binding for one year. That is all. The last section, clause 3, on page 8, of this bill provides the loophole. That is, at any time that the municipal corporation wants to get out of the jurisdiction of the public service corporation, all they have to do is to say so. In other words, a municipal corporation has a private corporation organized or existing under the laws of this state, at the end of the whip. They could whip them under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission and they can whip them from under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission, and a private corporation has no say. Gentleman, I contend that this is not fair play. What is sauce for the goose, is sauce for the gander. If the municipal corporation of Philadelphia, or any other corporation, desires to be under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission, let them present a bona-fide act, placing both under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission, and give them jurisdiction—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's five minutes have expired.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield my time to the gentleman from Warren.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Luzerne, yields his time to the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Siggins. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SIGGINS. Let them present a bona-fide act which would place both municipal controlled corporations and private corporations under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission.

Do not let them present an act which would give them the right to-day. "We will go under the operation of this act," and then after a year get out. Do not pass an act in such shape that it is general in its application to all of the counties of this Commonwealth. The City of Philadelphia, if they have been affected, could have presented a special act by the proper advertisement. We have been passing special acts here. Gentlemen, I do not believe that the rest of the counties of this State and the rest of the municipalities of this State desire to take any such unfair advantage of a private corporation organized and existing under the laws of this State.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Albee, Arthur, Baldrige, Benninger, Burnett, Chestnut, Cox, Dunn, Flynn, Golder, Graham, Hecht, Heyburn, Hough, Lewis, McCurdy, McNichol, McVicar, Murphy, Rininger and numerous others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I would ask consent at this time to call up from page 1 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading, House Bill No. 2073 (Senate Bill No. 1604), File Folio 4671. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the only reason for calling up this bill at the present time is the fact that we have thousands of acres of State land that is suitable for agricultural purposes. Under the present law the Forestry Department cannot lease this land. The only reason we are asking that this bill be passed at the present time is so that the Forestry Department may have the right to lease this land for agricultural and pastoral purposes. It is something that the Governor of the Commonwealth and the President of the United States are interested in, having all the land possible farmed to raise agricultural material and so on.

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I object to the consideration of the bill at this time. Let us have the bills in regular order.

Mr. GEORGE A. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, during the last two weeks this House has yielded a number of times to the consideration of bills out of order, that were termed war measures. This in every sense of the word is a war measure. As Mr. Albee has well said, the Federal and State governments have urged an increased acreage of crops for this year. The State of Pennsylvania owns upward of one million two hundred thousand acres of land for forestry purposes. Of that amount there are several thousand acres of land better adapted to the growth of agricultural crops than to timber, and if this bill is passed at this time and the authority given to the Forestry Department for leasing such land, that will be put into crops this year, the wishes of the Federal and State governments for increased crops will be realized.

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my objections.

The SPEAKER. Are there any further objections? The Chair hears none, and the bill will be considered at this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2073 (Senate Bill No. 1604), entitled

An Act permitting the Department of Forestry to lease for agricultural purposes small areas of land which from time to time it may acquire in the purchase of lands for State forests and which areas shall be determined to be more useful for the growing of agricultural crops than for forest trees.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1443 (Senate Bill No. 749), entitled

An Act amending section three of an act, approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, entitled "An Act to amend section three of an act, entitled 'An Act to protect the public health and welfare, by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments, with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment; by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work; by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others; by prescribing penalties for violations thereof; by defining the procedure in prosecutions; and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof' approved the twenty-fifth day of July, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen; by providing that the Industrial Board of the Department of Labor and Industry may subdivide the one day of rest in seven into two half days" by providing that the restrictions as to hours shall not apply to females engaged at State and charitable institutions, hotels and boarding houses.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I do not see the sense in passing this bill. About five or six weeks ago we passed a bill covering the subject that this bill has in view. We passed the Showalter Bill. Mr. Showalter's bill gave the relief that this bill aims to give and I therefore hope that this bill will be defeated. I can see no sense in passing two similar bills. This bill provides for exempting hotels and restaurants from the provisions of the Woman's Labor Law and the Showalter Bill passed a few weeks ago made provision to relieve them of any inconvenience that they may be put to. I think this bill should either be stricken from the calendar or be defeated.

BILL STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2068 (Senate Bill No. 1188), entitled

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, if there is any person in the House who has a sufficient interest in this bill to explain it I would like to have some explanation on it. It seems to me that it is a subterfuge and not a bill.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am not particularly interested in this bill but if you remember, in 1915, as brother Simpson can remember, we passed an act to prohibit aliens and people who are not citizens of Pennsylvania from hunting, unless they procure a license; and the same act provided that the shot-guns and the rifles were to be confiscated, taken from them and sold, which the Game Commission has done under similar circumstances. This bill has added an amendment which includes pistols and firearms. I think they are the only two words added to the bill. It is just an amendment to the Alien Hunter's bill.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, if that statement be correct then this amendment is clearly a subterfuge. It is not only ridiculous but preposterous to talk about a man going into the woods for the express purpose of hunting game—and that is what the original act is for, for the protection of game—for the purpose of killing off game with a revolver; and here we place in the hands of these men another weapon by which they can go into a man's house, be he ever so good a citizen, who has not had opportunity before to be naturalized, and search him for the express purpose of finding some weapon that he may have to protect his own home and then take him before an alderman or justice of the peace and fine him and make a criminal out of him. Fine him under this original act. This amendment does not do what it purports to do, amending the act for the purpose of protecting the game in the Commonwealth, and is nothing more or less than a subterfuge for the sole and express purpose of allowing a crowd of men to prey on the aliens located in Pennsylvania who are trying to protect their homes and have never had an opportunity to become naturalized citizens and I therefore ask this House to vote it down.

Mr. STOFFLET. The Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I just want to call your attention to the fact that a few years ago the Legislature of New York State passed an act known as the Sherman Act. Under that act it is not only unlawful for a foreigner but unlawful for a native born citizen to have any pistols or revolvers. This is a very good bill. It is the pistol or the revolver that the foreigner has in his hip pocket that he uses to kill game warden that go to arrest him for illegal hunting. I believe that every man in this House who has any sporting blood in him should vote for this bill and it should become a law. Eighty per cent. of our criminal cases in Northampton County are brought by foreigners. It is about time we do something in this matter whether the gentleman from Allegheny calls it subterfuge or not. If it is a subterfuge it is a mighty good one and it ought to become a law.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1429 (Senate Bill No. 53), entitled

An Act authorizing trustees guardians and other fiduciaries to sell assign alter modify or supplement coal mining leases with the approval of the court having jurisdiction of their accounts.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 7, by striking out the letter "s" in "thes".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. This amendment being merely a strike-out, the House can proceed to the consideration of the bill on final passage.

Simpson,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1919 (Senate Bill No. 99), entitled

A Supplement to an act entitled "An Act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in domestic and foreign corporations co-partnership associations and joint-stock associations providing the manner of collecting such tax and prescribing penalties" approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen providing compensation to be paid to agents appointed by the Auditor General for the sale of stamps for paying the State tax provided for by said act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2.

Campbell, J. O., Williams, G. W.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1891 (Senate Bill No. 928), entitled

An Act to authorize county commissioners to appropriate from moneys received from dog taxes certain sums to societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, as the law now stands the money collected as dog taxes is used for the payment of damages done by dogs either for the killing of sheep or cattle. The surplus is divided among in the school districts in the county in which it is collected. This act provides that the county commissioners in the several counties may appropriate certain sums to the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, which I believe is not right. I move, therefore, that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. MARVIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced the "nays" appeared to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for, and thirty-five gentlemen having voted in the affirmative, and one hundred and four in the negative, the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I would like to know what legality there is for taking the money derived from the dog taxes and giving it to the societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals. However, Mr. Speaker, I am willing to yield the floor to the incurables.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz.:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1886 (Senate Bill No. 39), entitled

An Act giving preference to claims for rent in cases of bankruptcy and insolvency proceedings against tenants.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to inform the House that the change that this bill makes in the existing law is to give rent a preference over wages, otherwise, it is merely declarative of the law. If the House wants to pass the bill, I have no particular objection, but I thought that they might want to know that.

SPEAKER BALDWIN IN THE CHAIR.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE THE ADVISABILITY OF THE PURCHASE OF CERTAIN PROPERTY IN PHILADELPHIA OPPOSITE INDEPENDENCE HALL.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the Commission appointed to investigate the purchase by the Commonwealth of certain property in Philadelphia opposite Independence Hall as a public park, which was read as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The undersigned, a commission appointed to investigate the advisability of the purchase by the Commonwealth of certain property in Philadelphia opposite Independence Hall as a public park, in accordance with the joint resolution approved the 9th day of April, 1915, copy of which is hereto attached, do make the following report:

In accordance with the terms of the resolution and the authority therein contained, the President Pro Tem. of the Senate appointed William C. Sproul, the Speaker of the House of Representatives appointed William H. Wilson, and the Governor of the Commonwealth appointed Dr. George Woodward as members of the commission. The commission, in pursuance of its duty held a public meeting in the City Hall of Philadelphia on the first day of May, 1915, having sent notices in writing to parties who had expressed an interest in the subject under investigation. All of the members of the commission were in attendance and testimony was taken, first upon the desirability of the acquisition by the Commonwealth of the property on Chestnut street in the square limited by the western side of Fifth street and the eastern side of Sixth street, being directly opposite Independence Hall.

Justice Robert Von Moschzisker of the Supreme Court, Harvey M. Watts, one of the editors of the "Philadelphia Public Ledger", a student of civics and art, Representative Isadore Stern, Mr. Medary, president of the Philadelphia Chapter American Institute of Architects, Judge Norris S. Barratt, Mr. Eli K. Price, vice president of the Fairmount Park Commission, and others were heard upon this phase of the question. The consensus of opinion was that it would be a very desirable thing for the Commonwealth to acquire the property from Chestnut to Ludlow streets and that the setting of Independence Hall would be improved thereby. No testimony was adduced, however, which would indicate that the fire risks due to the presence of the buildings now occupying the site were in any extraordinary or that Independence Hall was greatly imperiled thereby. Some of those speaking upon the question stated that the properties on the west side of Sixth street and east side of Fifth street and the American Philosophical Society Building were equally dangerous in their relation to Independence Hall.

The testimony was then taken regarding the probable cost of acquiring the property in the block contemplated by the resolution. Mr. Emil Rosenberger, president of the Real Estate Title and Trust Company, William H. Brooks, E. Lawrence Fell, Mr. Saul, representing the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities, and others among those called upon for their testimony. It appears from these witnesses that the entire assessment of the block was $2,460,000, and that the probable cost by condemnation or otherwise would be $3,500,000 to $4,000,000, which amount might be increased by damages awarded for the value of locations in the cases of some of the financial and business institutions involved and the cost of moving to other places.

After considering the matter thoroughly the commission is of the opinion that while the acquisition of the ground might be very desirable, the cost to the State would be out of proportion to the advantages gained and that the plan is not practicable at the present time.

WILLIAM C. SPROUL,
W. H. WILSON,
GEO. WOODWARD, Md.

Whereas, the patriotic heart of this nation lies in Independence Hall, Philadelphia; and

Whereas, This Hall should be preserved as a memorial forever to the citizens of our land and safeguarded from fire; and

Whereas, Its proximity to old buildings in its immediate vicinity materially enhances the hazard of destruction by fire; and

Whereas, such hazard could be approximately removed by enlarging the open space surrounding the hall; therefore:

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, That a commission consisting of a member of the House, chosen by the Speaker; a member of the Senate, chosen by the President pro tempore, and one citizen of Philadelphia, chosen by the Governor, shall investigate the advisability of purchasing certain land in Philadelphia by the Commonwealth, to be hereafter maintained as a State Park. Said land is bounded on the south by the property line on the north side of Chestnut street; on the east by the property line on the western side of Fifth street; on the west, by the property line on the eastern side of Sixth street; and on the north, by the property line on the southern side of Minor street. The commission shall ascertain the assessed value of the various pieces of realty comprising the best method of acquiring said tract. The commission shall report in writing to this session of the General Assembly; setting forth its findings, and such recommendations, as it shall consider proper to include. It shall serve without compensation."

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON SENATE BILL NO. 786.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 786, File Folio 5245, entitled

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-eighth day of July, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, entitled "An Act defining public service companies and providing for their regulation by prescribing and defining their duties and liabilities, prescribing defining and limiting their powers and regulating their incorporation and to a limited extent regulating municipal corporations engaged or about to engage in the business of public service companies; creating and establishing a Public Service Commission for the regulation aforesaid; prescribing and defining the powers and duties of such Commission and its officers, including the exclusive power to regulate the construction, alteration, relocation, or abolition of the crossings of railroad corporations, street railway corporations, or other public service companies, and of public highways by the tracks or other facilities of said companies; providing for the ascertainment by the Commission of the expense and damages resulting from such construction, alteration, relocation or abolition, and for the payment of such expense and damages, severally or proportionately, by the public service companies interested, the State or municipal corporation concerned and giving persons whose property is thereby taken, injured or destroyed, authority to sue the Commonwealth for damages in such cases; providing for the terms, salaries, and compensation of the members of the Commission, its officers, counsel and employees; prescribing and regulating the practice and procedure before such Commission, and upon appeal and judicial review of its orders and determinations by the courts of common pleas; and giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive jurisdiction of such appeals in certain cases; and of all injunctions, mandamus, or other appropriate proceedings to enforce the provisions of this act and the orders of the Commission, and to restrain such orders, subject to an appeal to the Supreme Court; prescribing penalties, fines and imprisonment for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the violation of the orders of said Commission; making it the duty of the Public Service Commission to enforce the provisions of the act approved the nineteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled "An Act to promote the safety of travelers and employees on railroads, by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains," by amending section nine thereof; repealing the act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seven, which provided for the appointment of the Pennsylvania State Railroad Commission; and sections one and two of the act approved the fourth day of June, 1883, entitled "An Act to enforce the provisions of the seventeenth article of the Constitution relative to railroads and canals;" and an act entitled "To provide the maximum car service charges, including car storage charges, that railroad companies and corporations, or associations may charge and collect on each car loading, and not unloaded within the free time for unloading cars, and fixing the free time that shall be allowed for unloading cars," approved the twenty-fourth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven; and the proviso of clause three and the provisos of clause seven of section thirty-four of the act, entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and all other legislation inconsistent with or supplied by this act," requiring street railway corporations whose facilities cross or are adjacent to the facilities of street railway lines owned, leased or operated by municipal corporations, under certain circumstances, to establish transfer points and switch or other connections at points of crossing or adjacency and through routes and service and joint rates for the conveyance of passengers over two or more lines connected at transfer points; giving the Public Service Commission jurisdiction in the premises; and prescribing the conditions upon which the Commission shall have jurisdiction to regulate the joint facilities, services or rates of a street railway corporation and a street railway line owned leased or operated by a municipal corporation on page 26 of today's calendar, was defeated this afternoon on final passage, be reconsidered.

Mr. ADAM C. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope that this motion will not prevail. Only a few hours ago, probably two hours, we debated this bill, the pros and cons. We went into a minute consideration of it and the House decided to defeat the measure. Now, I cannot see what could have transpired between the hours of five and nine thirty o'clock. I hope that the membership of the House has not changed its mind with regard to this vicious measure. There is no use of my repeating the arguments. They are fresh in every man's mind and I certainly do hope that the House will stand by its action of this afternoon and vote this motion down.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I might vote for this measure if this proposition were confined to the City of Philadelphia. I think we all sympathize with the City of Philadelphia in its efforts to have proper transit facilities, and I believe probably that this bill might answer the purpose, but I do not feel that the rest of the State of Pennsylvania should be sacrificed in the interest of the City of Philadelphia. If this bill should become a law it would compel track connections, through routing, joint fares and transfers between an existing street railway system and a street railway line owned, leased or operated by a municipal corporation. Section 1, paragraph 1, provides for transfers between such lines. If this means a free transfer, it means that it is proposed to compel the existing street railway to give the use of its entire system free to passengers from the municipal line. This in principle would be confiscation. A municipal corporation owning or leasing a quarter of a mile of track could under this act demand that transfers be interchanged with an existing system with many miles of distribution and costly facilities, thus receiving half of the revenue for an insignificant portion of the service. Paragraph B provides that it shall be the duty of the street railway corporation to furnish and maintain transfer points, stations, platforms and other facilities. And so I might go on through the entire bill and take up the defects that exist in this proposition. Under the present act, the present bill, we give to the Public Service Commission which they should not have. We permit them practically to come into any municipality that now has an established corporation operating street railways and tell it what it shall do in respect to these railways or any municipal railroad that might in the future be organized in competition with them, and therefore I feel that this is not fair to the present railroad companies operating outside of the City of Philadelphia to pass a measure of this kind that has the possibilities of danger that this measure has. I therefore trust that the opinion of the House as expressed by the vote this afternoon will prevail, and that this bill in its present condition, in its present form, will be defeated.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion be laid on the table.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Reynolds and Mr. McNichol and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

MR. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1549 (Senate Bill No. 665), entitled

An Act providing that every advertisement and notice required by authority of law or rules of court to be published in any county in the Commonwealth or in any city coincident to the boundaries of a county may in addition to the publication of such advertisements or notices required to be made in newspapers published and printed in the English language be also published by the public officer body or court directed by law or rules of court to publish such advertisement or notice in newspapers printed in the English language in one or more daily newspapers printed in a foreign language or languages such newspapers printed in a foreign language or languages to be printed in and have general circulation in the county or the city coincident to the boundaries of said county for at least three years continuously before the publication of such advertisements or notices and further providing for the prices to be charged for publishing such advertisements or notices in any such foreign newspapers how often the same shall be published and the stipulations and regulations under which the same shall be published

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there was a bill similar to this proposed act before this Legislature two years ago. At that time, Mr. Speaker, I spoke for and supported the bill. The Act was passed, was signed by the Governor and later declared unconstitutional by Common Pleas Court No. 4 of Philadelphia County. This bill is similar to the bill of 1915 and permits advertising of legal matters in newspapers printed in a foreign language. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, in the last two years many changes have occurred and sufficient changes have occurred, to my mind, to make me change my attitude on this question. Two years ago the maelstrom in which the world finds itself at the present time was confined to the other side of the Atlantic ocean. At this time unfortunately, Mr. Speaker, this country is involved in that warfare. It seems to me that as a piece of true patriotic Americanism every man should see that no act is passed by this Legislature which would in any way diminish our American spirit or constitution.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, if we in anywise encourage the publication of foreign newspapers at this time, who is there here that can say that by a shade of meaning, by some language in a foreign tongue that we do not understand, people may be encouraged not to enlist in the army. Who is there here that can say that these foreign newspapers do not encourage slackers. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it would be most unwise to pass a measure of this kind at this time. We are in the midst of a war. Everything that is done in this country at this time should be done free and open in the American language. Mr. Speaker, when I sit in the street car and I see a man holding a paper in his hand that may be in some foreign language I immediately have some distrust for that man. I do not know who he is and I do not know what he may be reading. Some of these papers, Mr. Speaker, are pro-German; others of them are printed in languages that never come before us; we never see them; we don't know what they say, and we know the extremes to which the National Government is now going about restricting the actions of foreigners and aliens in this country at this time. I hope that the House will vote down this bill.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERN. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Stern whether it is not a fact that the only publications that would go into foreign newspapers would be such as are required by an order of court?

Mr. STERN. It is, Mr. Speaker; but that order of court carries with it the payment of money and will encourage the publication of those foreign newspapers and I think they ought to be discouraged in this country.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I haven't any desire to get into this discussion but the objections of Mr. Stern seem to be that the publication of these notices in the foreign newspapers might be so twisted that from a mere order of the court there will be a proclamation which would practically advise the Germans in America that they should become slackers. Mr. Speaker, I have the very good fortune to have been born in this good old United States of America but I do say that the last five or six months has proved to the United States that the foreign-born but now American citizen is not a slacker. There are none that have shown more loyalty to the flag than the Italian, the Russian, if you please and the American Germans, if you please and those who are born across the water and come here and begin to love the American institutions. Now this act—my colleagues suggest the Irish too—I thought, Mr. Speaker, that everybody understood that the Irish would go along without my mentioning them.

Now, this act is not mandatory. It simply says that the court may in its discretion have these notices required by law published in foreign newspapers. It is the least we can do to teach the foreigner what American institutions are, what our laws are, because it is only by teaching these men what we have that they can begin to love them, love them as I do, although my parents were not born abroad.

Mr. THEODORE MORGAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to say a few words as to my personal experience in regard to this matter. In the town in which I live the steel plants and mills are filled up with foreign labor. They are a non-English speaking class and they live in settlements by themselves and they have their own papers printed and it is totally impossible to Americanize those people unless we can get them to understand the good old American United States Stars and Stripes language, and I think we should vote this measure down because if we get these people here it is the home of the down-trodden from Europe. You cannot get any paper in Germany or Russia or any of these other foreign countries that are published in the American language. These people come here to become Americanized and the only thing to do is to publish our business in the English language and teach them to read it and to speak it.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, to refute the argument of Mr. Stern, I beg leave to read a communication to the President of the Jewish World in connection with the Liberty Loan.

The communication was read as follows:

"TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Washington, June 18, 1917.

Bureau of Publicity.

Liberty Loan of 1917.

Secretary McAdoo, in expressing to the press of the United States the appreciation of the Government for the splendid co-operation of the newspapers, magazines and other publications for their invaluable contribution to the success of the Liberty Loan, referred to the services of the foreign language press. It is my desire to add to the Secretary's general statement a direct and personal acknowledgment of your generous and thoroughly patriotic co-operation.

It is patent to all of us that apart from the raising of a stupendous sum of money, in a brief campaign, there was something deeper in the oversubscription of the bond issue than a contribution of dollars. It was primarily an emphatic and convincing demonstration of the unity of purpose among all of the people of the United States, in this war for the defense of American rights and the re-establishment of the peace and liberty of the world. We know that America is without a single selfish purpose in this war, and the Liberty Loan showed us that we are equally unselfish in giving the Government the support that is so vitally essential for the success of our armed forces.

The manner in which our foreign language press fought for the success of the Liberty Loan every step of the way was a rebuke of inestimable force to those who have sought to have it appear that unity of purpose was lacking in America's participation in the war. The response of Americans of foreign birth or descent in subscriptions to the Loan justified in every respect the patriotic support of their papers.

It would be useless to tell you that the great mass of our population of foreign origin never could have been reached except for the manner in which the foreign language press through their news, editorial and advertising columns gave space to the Liberty Loan.

The success of the Loan is a victory for America and all its people—the first great blow we have struck in the war. Through our foreign language press, America has sent to all the peoples of the world a message of hope; an assurance that the greatest democracy of the world has thrown the weight of its power and resources into the struggle in their behalf.

R. W. WOOLEY,

Director of Publicity."

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Benninger, Burnett, Christman, Gans, Hough, Jack, Jones, Lanius, Lauer, Luppert, McArdle, McKinney, Mearkle, Mehring, Mervine, Miller, Conrad G., Milner, Murphy, Palmer, Perry, Schaeffer, Adam C., Shunk, Siggins, Smith, Edgar R., Sones, Stern, Stofflet, and Wynne.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Accordingly to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 4 Upon approval of this act a board of trustees shall be created for each of said districts which shall be composed of one county commissioner from each county of the district to be appointed by the president judge of the court of quarter sessions of each county The trustees shall serve without compensation but all of their expenses actually and necessarily incurred shall be paid by the several counties represented in any district in proportion to their population as shown by the last preceding United States census Each of said board of trustees shall be a body corporate under the name of the trustees of the county industrial farm work-house and reformatory of the District and shall have the right to sue and may be sued

Each board of trustees is hereby authorized by a majority vote to select a suitable site for the county industrial farm work house and reformatory in the district Such site may be selected from suitable lands already held by any county of the district for county purposes or from lands donated to the commission for such purposes or any quantity of land within their respective districts not exceeding five hundred (500) acres either with or without buildings erected thereon may be purchased for such site Whenever lands are purchased the board of trustees is authorized to give a mortgage for any part of the cost thereof and to make provision for the payment thereof The titles to said site shall be approved by the county commissioners representing the counties of each district Title thereto shall be taken in the name of the corporation to hold said property for the use of the counties in said district in common in proportion to the contributions thereto made by the several counties comprising said district

Section 5 In the selection of a site the board of trustees shall take into consideration the objects and purposes of the institutions and all or as many as practicable of the following enumerated advantages and resources The land selected and purchased shall be of varied topography with natural resources and advantages for many forms of husbandry fruit growing and stock raising for brick making and for the preparation of all other road and paving material and shall have good railroad drainage sewage and water facilities

Section 6 The members of the first board of trustees shall be appointed to serve until the expiration of their respective terms of office as county commissioners Thereafter all appointments shall be made for a term of four years respectively In case of a vacancy from any cause the appointment to fill such vacancy shall be made by the president judge of the court of quarter sessions for the unexpired term The president judge of the court of quarter sessions may remove any of the trustees for misconduct incompetency or neglect of duty after opportunity has been given him or them to be heard upon written charges

Section 7 All buildings constructed in pursuance of this act shall be plain and inexpensive in character The labor in constructing such buildings and improvements and facilities shall be supplied by the persons committed to the institutions or transferred thereto from any county penal and reformatory institutions so far as found practicable

The board of trustees shall procure such necessary materials erect and equip such buildings or repair buildings already erected employ such skilled labor as cannot be furnished by the prisoners committed thereto or by prisoners transferred thereto from other county penal and reformatory institutions and provide all proper facilities for their use and for the practical use of the institution

Section 8 When the conditions necessary for carrying out the intentions of this act in any district have been provided a superintendent and matron and such other officers as may be deemed necessary shall be appointed by the trustees The duties of such officers shall be prescribed by the rules and regulations of such industrial farm work house and reformatory and they shall hold their offices respectively during the pleasure of said trustees Said appointees shall be bona fide citizens of the district and their compensation shall be fixed by the board of trustees

Section 9 When in any district the arrangements are complete for the reception of inmates the court of quarter sessions of every county embraced in such district may in its discretion transfer from the county prisons and jails respectively to the industrial farm workhouse and reformatory all persons who have been sentenced to any of said county prisons and jails for any crime misdemeanor or felony murder and voluntary manslaughter excepted or who have been committed to any of such county prisons and jails in default of non-payment of any fine or penalty or for non-payment of costs or for default in complying with any order of court entered in any prosecution for desertion or non-support or any other person legally confined in any of said county jails or prisons except those only that are confined awaiting trial.

Thereafter when any person is convicted in any of said courts in any county of any offense crime misdemeanor or felony murder and voluntary manslaughter excepted the punishment of which is or may hereafter be imprisonment in any county jail or prison or other penal institution for a period of ten days or more said court may in its discretion sentence such person to either the county prison or jail of the county or to any other penal institution to which said court may lawfully commit or the court may commit such person to the industrial farm workhouse and reformatory of the district in which said court may have jurisdiction. Courts of record and courts not of record of the counties comprising any such district may hereafter commit to the industrial farm workhouse and reformatory of the district all persons who might be lawfully committed to the county jail or prison on charges of vagrancy drunkenness or disorderly conduct or for default of non-payment of any costs fine or penalty or for default in complying with any order of court entered in any prosecution for desertion or non-support where in any such case the commitment will be for a period of ten days or more. All inmates shall be clothed and treated as provided for in this act and in the rules and regulations of the industrial farm work house and reformatory. The superintendent may under the directions of the court of quarter sessions remove any inmate to the county jail for the unexpired portion of his or her term of commitment or to the poor house of the proper city or county or to any hospital or lunatic asylum in such county as circumstances may require.

Section 10 Every person committed to an industrial farm work house and reformatory under the provisions of this act unless disqualified by sickness or otherwise shall be kept at some useful employment such as may be suited to his or her age and capacity and such as may be most profitable to the institution and tend to promote the best interest of the inmate. If any person refuses to perform the work assigned to him or her or guilty of other acts of insubordination the superintendent shall punish such person by close confinement and a diet of bread and water only or in such other manner as the rules and regulations hereinbefore provided for may prescribe. The superintendent shall keep a record and report to the trustees all such offenses and punishments.

Section 11 A separate apartment in the institution shall be appropriated to the class of inebriates and drug users hereinafter described to be called the inebriate home the inmates of which shall be subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the trustees.

The superintendent may receive under such regulations as may be prescribed any person or persons who are habitual drunkards or habitually addicted to the use of narcotic drugs who may make application for admittance. All expenses shall be paid weekly in advance by the party making the application.

Whenever any person shall hereafter be found by due course of law to be habitually addicted to the use of alcoholic drink or narcotic drugs it shall be lawful for the court to commit such person to the inebriate home hereinbefore provided for.

Section 12 If any person committed under section eleven of this act is of sufficient ability to pay the expense of his or her keeping the court committing said person is hereby authorized to make an order directing the amount to be paid by such person at such times and in such manner as shall be deemed just and equitable. Such order shall be entered of record in the court and thenceforth shall have all the force and effect of a judgment obtained in that court and its payment may be enforced by execution as in other cases.

If at any time any county industrial farm workhouse and reformatory shall become filled the superintendent shall notify all courts of record and not of record of the several counties comprising such district accordingly and no further commitments thereto shall be made. The superintendent shall thereafter notify all such courts when further commitments to said institution may be made and such commitments shall be made from the several counties in the ratio of their population as ascertained from the last preceding decennial census of the United States.

Section 13 The cost of transporting prisoners committed to the county industrial farms and work houses shall be paid except where otherwise provided in this act by the counties respectively from which the prisoners are committed. The sheriff of the county on prisoners committed by the court and constables or prisoners committed by magistrates shall receive for such prisoners committed to the industrial farm work house and reformatory no mileage or traveling expenses on writs except the actual cost of transporting said prisoners so committed to the industrial farm work house and reformatory together with any other fees for their services now allowed by law.

When any prisoner is discharged from a county industrial farm work house and reformatory the superintendent thereof shall procure for him a railroad ticket to any point to which said prisoner may desire to go not further from said county industrial farm work house and reformatory than the point from which he was sentenced. The superintendent or his duly authorized agent shall convey the prisoner to the railroad station deliver the ticket to the proper railroad conductor and formally release the prisoner on the train which he takes to his destination.

Section 14 It shall be the purpose of the county industrial farm work house and reformatory to employ the prisoners committed or transferred thereto in work on or about the buildings and farm and in growing produce raising stock et cetera for supplies for its own use or for the use of the several county institutions in said district or for any political division thereof or for any public or charitable institution owned or managed and directed by said counties constituting said district or any political division thereof. Such prisoners may also be employed in the preparation of road material and in making brick tile and concrete or other road building material and in the manufacture of other products and materials as may be found practicable for the use of the several counties constituting said district and for the proper and healthful employment of such prisoners.

Section 15 All road material brick tile and concrete prepared or made at any industrial farm work house and reformatory not needed for the purposes of such institution shall be offered for sale at a price to be fixed by the board of trustees. In offering such material for sale preference shall be given to the counties forming the district of such institution and to the cities boroughs and townships therein. All monies so received shall be applied towards paying the overhead expenses of the institution.

Section 16 A detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures by any county constituting a part of said district for any industrial farm work house and reformatory erected under the provisions of this act shall be published by the county commissioners of each county or by the controller in said district. Where such report is published by the controller it shall be in the annual statement of the fiscal affairs of such county.

Section 17 The original cost of the site and buildings of the industrial farm work house and reformatory and all additions thereto and all fixed overhead charges in conducting the institution shall be paid by the counties constituting the district in the ratio of their population according to the last preceding United States census.

The cost of the care and maintenance of the inmates shall be certified monthly to the counties from which inmates have been committed. Such cost shall be paid by the counties in proportion to the number of inmates committed from each county except when an inmate pays for his or her own maintenance as hereinbefore provided.

All payments shall be on requisition of the board of trustees and on warrants of the county commissioners countersigned by the county controller.

Section 18 All the property real and personal authorized to be held by virtue of this act shall be exempt from taxation.

Section 19 No county industrial farm work house and reformatory shall be subject to any of the restrictions or limitations imposed by any of the following acts or parts of acts nor shall any of said acts apply to such institutions nor to the inmates thereof nor to the work therein. Section four of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred twelve number ninety-nine) entitled "An Act to abolish the contract system in the prisons and reformatory institutions of the State of Pennsylvania and to regulate the wages of the inmates" the act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy) entitled "An act limiting the number of inmates of State prisons penitentiaries State reformatories and other penal institutions within the State of Pennsylvania to be employed in manufacturing goods therein and prohibiting the use of machinery in manufacturing said goods" or any of its amendments.

It is the purpose of this act to fully prescribe all regulations for all county industrial farms work houses and reformatories and no existing laws shall apply thereto.

Section 20 All acts general special or local inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed excepting from the operation of this act any county that has already established a county work house under special acts of Assembly.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am not familiar with all the provisions of this act, but this Act has been carefully prepared.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know why the gentleman from Warren is not familiar with the bill.

The SPEAKER. If you will listen to what the gentleman has to say he will tell you about it.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, a great many of the counties of this State, in order that the prisoners may be employed on industrial farms have been taken into consideration, and it is not a project which has to be supported by the State, but it is to be supported by the counties from which these prisoners are sent. I believe it to be a very meritorious bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to strike the bill from the calendar?

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1982 (Senate Bill No. 1230), entitled

An Act empowering certain corporations societies and voluntary associations having subordinate lodges or branches within this Commonwealth to change the location of their principal office or place of business and providing for the approval by the court of common pleas and the filing of notice of such changes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, a bill similar to this one was introduced into the Legislature and passed by both the House and Senate and was vetoed by the Governor this session.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, the objectionable features of that bill were changed to suit the Governor and I think this will meet with the Governor's approval.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baldrige, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. PALMER. How does the gentleman from Allegheny know whether or not the Governor is in favor of the bill?

Mr. BALDRIGE. I got that from the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. PALMER. Is he here?

Mr. BALDRIGE. He was here a half an hour ago.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this bill authorizes corporations organized not for profit, being beneficiary to conduct business that is satisfactory and is approved by the Common Pleas of proper counties. It is true that a bill similar to this one was vetoed by the Governor at this session, but that bill contained this important difference,—that it did not require the approval of a majority of the subordinate lodges. The Governor and the Attorney General thought that should be in the bill and consequently this bill was presented to meet that objection.

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1893 (Senate Bill No. 1105), entitled

An Act to repeal an act entitled "An Act providing for the return of taxes on seated lands in counties poor districts boroughs incorporated towns and townships for county poor borough town or township taxes respectively and providing for the sale of such lands for taxes" approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL STRICKEN FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as a companion bill to this bill, Senate Bill No. 1105, was defeated this afternoon, I move that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. RICH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, 98 gentlemen voting in the affirmative, and 26 in the negative, and the motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2013 (Senate Bill No. 1173), entitled

An Act relating to and regulating the operation of motor vehicles and vehicles propelled by or trailing after motor vehicles on the public highways and the storing of the same requiring the registration of the same and the licensing of all operators providing fees methods and qualifications for all registrations or licenses and the disposition of such fees prohibiting the tampering with motor vehicles by unauthorized persons, prohibiting the enactment of any law or ordinance by any city, borough, incorporated town, township or county requiring any taxes registration or license other than herein provided or the regulation of motor vehicles providing procedure and penalties for any violation thereof and the disposition of the fines collected for said violations and regulating the services of process and proceedings in actions for damages arising from the use of any motor vehicles.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL STRICKEN FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, with the consent of the sponsor of this bill, I move that it be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I want to say in regard to this bill that there was a similar bill introduced here by Mr. Mearkle which is now in the Senate. This bill came over from the Senate and an agreement has been reached whereby the Mearkle bill will be passed. It is for that reason that the motion has been made by Mr. Mearkle to drop this bill from the calendar. It is entirely agreeable to Senator Buckman, the sponsor of this bill.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mearkle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mearkle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MEARKLE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know whether or not the Mearkle Bill as amended, will contain the same obnoxious features as this bill?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I have not recognized any obnoxious features in this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2051 (Senate Bill No. 1024), entitled

An Act providing for the payment of consequential damages arising from the taking injury or destruction of private property by municipal corporations in the construction or enlargement of their works highways or improvements.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL STRICKEN FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill makes a radical change in the law of eminent domain as it affects municipalities. It would make it almost impossible for an ordinary municipality to make extensive improvements without enormous cost, and I therefore move that it be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, as I understand this bill, it provides that in addition to the damages that persons are entitled to by reason of the taking of their property, on their real estate, they should be entitled to consequential damages. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, in Philadelphia at the present time the city has taken by right of eminent domain several properties in various parts of the city. The occupants of those houses, many of them dwellings, and more of them business houses, are losing the rents, and are losing the business that they would be doing if they were in those houses. This bill aims to make provision so that they will be paid those damages in the addition to the damages for the real estate. I think this is a meritorious bill, and that this motion should not prevail.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Franklin press his motion?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I press the motion, and I want to say this: That Philadelphia may be rich enough to pay damages for dirt and dust and all sorts of foolish things that are included in this bill, but the other municipalities in the State are not.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "ayes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, 95 gentlemen voting in the affirmative, and 27 in the negative, and the question was determined in the affirmative, and the motion was agreed to.

BIELS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2069 (Senate Bill No. 1714), entitled

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the 7th day of June 1917, entitled "An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act to provide for retirement of State employees permanently disqualified by reason of physical or mental disability to perform their official functions and duties, with half pay under certain conditions during the remainder of their lives except State employees whose retirement has been or shall be otherwise provided for, and the filling of vacancies caused by such retirement,' approved the 14th day of June, A. D., 1915, so as to extend the operation thereof to all employees in penitentiaries and other institutions operated by the Commonwealth as well as those more directly in the service thereof," by extending its provisions so as to include all employees of the executive, and legislative branches of the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL STRICKEN FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill, Senate Bill No. 1135, makes a radical change in the law. As it now stands a man who has a suit in court cannot remove it from one county to another unless he shows that there is prejudice against him and satisfies the court of that fact. This bill permits any person having a suit in a municipality, that is a borough or city—he may have the cause moved to an adjoining county by a mere affidavit to request the court to change the venue. It would cause great expense to all persons having suits against municipalities, and would create confusion. I therefore move that the bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SPEAKER BALDWIN IN THE CHAIR.

MOTION TO TAKE MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON SENATE BILL NO 786 FROM THE TABLE.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion of Mr. Lewis, to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 786, File Folio 5245, was defeated, be now taken from the table for consideration.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion. The motion was not agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2072 (Senate Bill No. 589), entitled

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved the twenty-ninth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four providing for the incorporation and regulation of electric light heat and power companies" approved the eighth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine by giving to electric light heat and power companies the right of eminent domain.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the purpose of this bill is to grant to electric light, heat and power companies the right of eminent domain. This Commonwealth has given that power or right of eminent domain to the public utilities companies, such as railroad companies, water companies, gas companies, and the Commonwealth has later withdrawn from water companies the right of eminent domain. Surely this House, which has refused to give the right of eminent domain to its Highway Department, will not extend that power to companies, utilities companies, that are outside the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth. I move, therefore, Mr. Speaker, that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. ALLAN D. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether we are now voting upon the bill or upon the motion to strike the bill from the calendar.

The SPEAKER. The question is now upon the final passage of the bill, the motion to strike the bill from the calendar having been lost.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1937 (Senate Bill No. 1079), entitled

An Act empowering boroughs to levy and collect annually a tax for the purpose of creating and maintaining a sinking fund to aid in permanent street improvements.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I move this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I simply desire to say a word in support of this bill. It provides that a borough may be assessed to accumulate a surplus for permanent road improvements. In most of our boroughs they are taxed almost to the limit and yet by accumulating a small fund each year they can gradually acquire enough money to pay the municipalities' share for improvement. This bill merely provides that that may be done, that a sinking fund may be established for that purpose and I say that it is a very good bill.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion to strike the bill from the calendar.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, as the seconder, I will withdraw my second.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1862 (Senate Bill No. 809), entitled

An Act to provide for the regulation of rag shops second hand paper shops and junk shops in cities of the first class and providing a penalty for the violation of this act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL STRICKEN FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, as this is a duplicate of a bill that is now in the hands of the Governor, I move that it be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. THEODORE CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2038 (Senate Bill No. 1643), entitled

An Act to amend an act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen entitled "An Act authorizing the State Highway Commissioner to take over the rights of way of canal companies and of railroad and railway companies that have been abandoned or that have not been built upon for the use of the State Highway Department for the purpose of locating and constructing State Highways and providing a method of condemnation procedure."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 3, by inserting after the word "procedure" the following:

"Section 1 Be it enacted &c., That the State Highway Commissioner be and is hereby authorized to take over in his discretion for the use of the State Highway Department any abandoned canal, or any part thereof that is no longer used for the purpose for which it was intended, except where such abandoned canal is used or occupied by a railroad or railway in actual operation; or any abandoned right of way of a railroad or railway, and rights of way or railways that have not been used, occupied or built upon for a period of not less than five years; for the purpose of relocating public highways, constructing them as State Highways, when such abandoned canals and rights of way extend in the general direction as that of the State Highway originally projected."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1938 (Senate Bill No. 494), entitled

An Act authorizing the courts of common pleas to order the sale in certain cases to transfer to remainder interests of real property devised by will to a person or persons for life with a vested remainder to others.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL STRICKEN FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. J. O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The duties hereinabove prescribed to be performed by the said assistant may be limited by the State Fire Commissioner at his discretion when requested in writing so to do

Any of the aforesaid assistants who shall neglect or refuse to report to the State Fire Commissioner or to make reports or investigations of fires as provided in this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding fifty dollars or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding thirty days or both at the discretion of the court

"Section 5. The State Fire Marshal his deputies or assistants upon the complaint of any person or whenever he or they shall deem it necessary shall inspect the buildings and premises within their jurisdiction. Whenever any of the said officers shall find any building or structure which for want of repairs or by reason of age or dilapidated condition or for any other cause is especially liable to fire and so situated as to endanger other property he or they shall order the same to be removed or remedied if the same is reasonably practicable thereby lessening the danger from fire. Whenever such officer shall find in any building combustible or explosive matter of inflammable conditions which are in violation of any law or ordinance applicable thereto or are dangerous to the safety of such buildings thereby endangering other property he or they shall order the same to be removed or remedied and such order shall forthwith be complied with by the owner or occupant of such premises or building. If such order is made by a deputy or assistant of the State Fire Marshal such owner or occupant may within five days appeal to the State Fire Marshal who shall within ten days review such order and file his decision thereof and unless by his authority the order is revoked or modified it shall remain in full force and be obeyed by such owner or occupant. Provided however That any such owner or occupant who feels himself aggrieved by such order may within five days after the same has been affirmed by the State Fire Marshal file his petition with the court of common pleas of the proper county praying a review of such order and it shall be the duty of the court to hear the same at the first convenient day and to make such order in the premises as right and justice may require

"Any owner or occupant failing to comply with such order within ten days after said appeal shall have been determined or if no appeal is taken then within twenty days after the service of said order shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each day neglect thereafter. The service of any such order shall be made upon the occupant of the premises to whom it is directed by either delivering a true copy of same to such occupant personally or by delivering the same to and leaving it with any person in charge of the premises or in case no such person is found upon the premises by affixing a copy thereof in a conspicuous place on the door to the entrance of the said premises. Whenever it may be necessary to serve such an order upon the owner of premises such order may be served either by delivering to and leaving with the said person a true copy of the said order or if such owner is absent from the jurisdiction of the officer making the order by mailing such copy to the owners last known post office address. The penalties herein provided may be recovered as debts are by law collectible in any courts having jurisdiction of the parties. Such action shall be brought in the name of the Commonwealth under the direction of the State Fire Marshal or any of his deputies or assistants by the Attorney General or by any district attorney or legally constituted law officer of any county city borough township or other municipality who may be designated by the Attorney General or at the option of the Attorney General he may designate any attorney to bring such action" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 5 The State Fire Commissioner on his own motion or upon complaint in writing shall inspect any buildings premises or property which in his judgment require inspection. The other officers named in this act shall likewise upon their own motion or upon complaint in writing inspect any buildings premises or property within their respective territories which in their judgment may require inspection and shall make such other inspections as are required by the State Fire Commissioner

Whenever the State Fire Commissioner or any of his deputies marshals or assistants shall find any building premises or property which for any cause or reason are especially liable to fire or in any way a menace to human life or shall find that any building premises or property are so situate as to endanger any other building premises or property or is so occupied that in the event of fire it would endanger human life or property therein the State Fire Commissioner his deputies or marshals shall order such building or buildings premises or property to be repaired and placed in a safe condition within such reasonable time as may be specified in said order

If the State Fire Commissioner or any of his deputies marshals or assistants shall find in any building or upon any premises any unnecessary accumulation of rubbish rags waste paper boxes shavings or any other inflammable material or any oil naphtha gasoline kerosene blasting powder gunpowder dynamite or any other explosive or highly inflammable or combustible material or shall find any other condition whatsoever which is a menace to human life or endangers the safety of any such building premises or property or shall find any obstruction on or about fire escapes stairs passageways doors or windows which would be liable to interfere with the free ingress or egress he or they shall order the same removed and conditions remedied within a reasonable time to be specified in said order

Whenever the State Fire Commissioner his deputies marshals or assistants shall find any building or buildings or any part thereof which for any cause or reason jeopardizes human life or constitute a fire menace and which cannot be removed by making repairs the State Fire Commissioner his deputies or marshals shall order said building or buildings or any part thereof to be demolished specifying in said order the reason or reasons therefor and also specifying a reasonable time within which said building or buildings or parts thereof shall be demolished and removed

All such orders shall be in writing and shall be made and served upon the owner life tenant lessee or occupant of such building premises or property or upon the agent of the owner life tenant lessee or occupant in the manner following

(a) By handing a true copy thereof to such owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent thereof or

(b) By posting a copy thereof in a conspicuous place on the said building premises or property and mailing a copy thereof to the said owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent thereof to their last known address. In case no address is known or cannot be ascertained then in lieu of such mailing a copy of said order there shall in addition to the above mentioned posting thereof be handed a copy of said order to an adult occupant or to a person if any there be in charge of said building premises or property or to an adult member of the family

Any owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent upon whom any such order may be made or served by any of the deputies marshals or assistants may within five days from the service of said initial order appeal to the State Fire Commissioner by petition in writing setting forth succinctly under oath or affirmation the facts and reasons upon which said appeal is based whereupon the State Fire Commissioner shall review the facts upon which such order was made and the grounds or reason for such appeal and make his final order in writing within ten (10) days from the date of receipt of appeal by affirming revoking or modifying the original order. The final order in such case shall be served upon the owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent in the same manner as the order hereinbefore provided. The entire record in any such case shall be filed in the office of the State Fire Commissioner and shall be open to the inspection of the appellant or any person against whom the same may have been made

If the said initial order is affirmed or modified the same shall be complied with by such owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent named therein within the time therein specified

Any owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent aggrieved by any initial or final order of the State Fire Commissioner may appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas of the county in which the real or personal property in question is situate within five days after the service of any such order of the State Fire Commissioner. Such owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent shall as a condition precedent to such right of appeal give notice in writing to the State Fire Commissioner of his intention to take such appeal. Such notice of intention to appeal shall be given by mailing the same by registered mail to the office of the State Fire Commissioner in the City of Harrisburg. The appeal to the court shall be by petition under oath or affirmation setting forth succinctly the reasons for said appeal and there shall be filed with said appeal proof of service upon the State Fire Commissioner in the manner aforesaid of the said notice of intention to take such appeal. A certified copy of such petition shall be mailed by registered mail to the State Fire Commissioner at his office in the City of Harrisburg on the same day upon which the said petition is presented and filed in court.

Upon the presentation of such petition the court shall summarily hear and determine the reasonableness and lawfulness of the final order of the State Fire Commissioner. The appellant shall give immediate notice of the day fixed for hearing in writing by registered mail to the State Fire Commissioner at his office in the City of Harrisburg. The date of hearing as fixed by the court shall not be earlier than five days nor later than twenty days after the presentation of such petition. Upon the presentation of such petition the court may suspend the order of the State Fire Commissioner pending the final hearing and order of the court upon the appellant filing a bond with surety approved by the court in an amount not less than one hundred dollars ($100) conditioned as the court may deem proper including however the condition that the appellant shall pay all the costs of such appeal in the event that the appeal is dismissed.

The appellant at the time of the presentation of the petition shall have the right to demand by writing presented and filed with his appeal a trial by jury. If the order of the State Fire Commissioner appealed from shall be of such a character that its enforcement would affect any rights of the petitioner concerning the determination of which a trial by jury is secured by the Constitution of the Commonwealth the court shall direct an issue to be framed to determine such matters and shall advance such case to the head of the next trial list of said court. Pending any trial by jury and the final judgment thereon the court may enter an order suspending the order of the State Fire Commissioner in the manner hereinbefore provided in cases where no trial by jury is demanded.

The judgment of the court of common pleas upon appeal affirming modifying or revoking the order of the State Fire Commissioner appealed from shall be final. If the judgment is against the appellant or if the appeal is dismissed judgment for costs shall be entered against the appellant.

Any owner life tenant lessee or occupant upon whom or upon whose agent any initial or final order of the State Fire Commissioner or any order of the deputies or assistants aforesaid shall have been served as aforesaid who shall neglect fail or refuse to comply with the terms of such order within thirty days after the service thereof or in the event of an appeal as hereinbefore provided then within thirty days after the final order of the State Fire Commissioner or the final judgment of the court as the case may be shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each day's neglect or be imprisoned in the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days or both at the discretion of the court.

In case any initial or final order shall direct the repair or removal of any building or part thereof and the owner shall fail neglect or refuse to comply with such order then the State Fire Commissioner may cause such building to be repaired or demolished and the materials removed as the case may be at the expense of the owner or owners. The initial expense of such repairs or removal shall be paid by the State Fire Commissioner out of funds appropriated for such purposes. If the owner or owners shall thereafter fail neglect or refuse to pay the costs and expense thus incurred into the State Treasury within ten days from the receipt of notice of the amount thereof the State Fire Commissioner shall within sixty days from the date at which such notice is sent certify said costs and expenses together with twenty-five per centum penalty thereon to the prothonotary of the county in which said real estate is situate for entry as a lien against the property in question. Such lien shall have priority to and be fully paid and satisfied out of the proceeds of any judicial sale of said property before any other obligation judgment claim lien or estate with which said property may become charged or for which it may become liable save only liens for taxes and municipal improvements and the costs of the sale and of the writ upon which it is made. Said lien shall be revived and collected as municipal liens are now by law revived and collected and when the amount of said lien penalty and costs has been paid to or collected by the State Fire Commissioner he shall cause such lien to be satisfied of record and pay the proceeds into the State Treasury. Provided however That no bona fide judgment claim or lien of record against such property prior to the date of approval of this act shall be affected by any lien filed pursuant to the provisions hereof.

Section 6. That the sixth section of said act which now reads as follows

"Section 6. The State Fire Marshal or his deputies in addition to the investigation made by any of the assistants may at any time investigate the origin or circumstances of any fire occurring in this Commonwealth. The State Fire Marshal his deputies and assistants shall have the power to summon witnesses and compel them to attend before them or either of them and to testify in relation to any matter which is by the provisions of this act a subject of inquiry and investigation and may require the production of any books papers or documents deemed pertinent or necessary to the inquiry and shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to any person appearing as a witness before them such examination may be public or private as the officers conducting the investigation may determine.

"No person shall be excused from attending before the said Fire Marshal or any of his deputies or assistants when summoned so to attend nor when ordered so to do shall he be excused from testifying or producing any books papers or documents before such officer upon any investigation proceeding or inquiry instituted under the provisions of this act upon the ground or for the reason that the testimony or the evidence documentary or otherwise required of him may tend to convict him of a crime or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture but no person shall be prosecuted or subjected to a penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction matter or thing concerning which he may have been required so to testify or produce evidence documentary or otherwise and no testimony so given or produced shall be received against him upon any criminal investigation or proceeding. If after any such examination the State Fire Marshal or any of his deputies or assistants is of the opinion that the facts in relation to such fire indicate that a crime has been committed he shall present the testimony taken on such examination together with any other data in his possession to the district attorney of the proper county with the request that he institute such criminal proceedings as such testimony or data may warrant.

Section 19 It is hereby declared that this act and the act to which this is an amendment is necessary for the public safety health peace and welfare is remedial in nature and shall be construed liberally If any section or portion thereof of this act is declared unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the remaining provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

"Amend Section 16 line five by striking out the word "city" and insert in lieu thereof the word "Counties" and by striking out the words "five hundred thousand" and insert in lieu thereof the words "seven hundred fifty thousand."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there an objection?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is a department measure, the Fire Marshal's Department. It applies to every county in the State. The bill under consideration is Senate Bill No. 315. As the bill is at present it covers all of the counties of Pennsylvania except the City of Pittsburgh and the City of Philadelphia. If the amendment that has been offered should carry, it would exempt the County of Allegheny. Now I ask you why one of the sixty-seven counties should be exempt from the provisions of this bill? This bill as drawn covers the State with the exception of first and second class cities and there is no reason why any single county should be exempt from its provisions. I trust that the House will vote this amendment down.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I simply want to say as a member of Allegheny County that a majority of the members of Allegheny County are opposed to this amendment exempting Allegheny County and a majority of the people of Allegheny County are opposed to it. I hope you will vote down the amendment offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vickerman.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection to the insertion of the amendment.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House resolve itself into a Committee of a Whole for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I regret most exceedingly at this time to take exception with the statement of my esteemed colleague from Allegheny. In my legislative career, and this is my third term.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman speaking on the bill?

Mr. STEEDLE. On the bill, yes sir.

It has been my honest conviction, and it has been my practice as a member of this House that any bill that was presented here and carried a gentleman's agreement should always stand and has always stood. On this bill my friends, I want to say and go on record, that the gentleman from Allegheny at no time canvassed the membership to ascertain our stand on this very important piece of legislation. He cannot speak for me and he cannot speak for the balance of its membership, because we have not at any time canvassed this proposition. If he bespeaks the voice of one man in this session who has come here to exercise his right as a citizen of the State, then he reserves that prerogative; but he cannot take me in blanket and have me sold upon the auction block of legislative career. Gentlemen, I ask you each and every one of you if my record as a member on the floor of this House has not been clean and fair? Now, in all fairness, I say that this bill was agreed upon by the Senator from Blair and it was agreed to by a gentleman's agreement and understanding that if that were the case that the amendments would be introduced. Now these amendments as introduced by the gentleman from Allegheny were introduced at the suggestion and recommendation of the sponsor of the bill, the Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, and I think, gentlemen, in all fairness, in all truthfulness and honesty and integrity, that I am sure my friend don't want any man here to violate a gentleman's agreement and I say that this amendment should be introduced.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to call the gentleman's attention to the fact that the amendment could not be introduced because of objection.

Mr. STEEDLE. I beg your pardon, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the amendment was lost be reconsidered.

The SPEAKER. The amendment has not been before the House. The House refused to go into committee of the whole to consider the amendment. The Chair just wanted to inform the gentleman that the amendment was not under consideration.

Mr. STEEDLE. I beg the Chair's pardon. Being true, as it is, this bill destroys the fire marshal of Allegheny County and behind the whole proposition, my friends, lies the one great secret of spite; and we are not here as members of the Legislature or as a part of this legislative body to destroy any one part of the Fire Marshal's functionary duty in the County of Allegheny. It destroys the Fire Marshal of Allegheny and that is one thing that we do not want as country members. If my friend who is my colleague and represents the same district as I do, feels that he wants to take the Fire Marshal in Allegheny County away from the field of his little town and my little town and a few more in the section, then he can do so and speak for its passage, but I, as one, my friends, ask you to vote down this bill because it has been agreed upon as a gentleman's agreement in the Legislature and I trust that you will vote it down.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn until 12.05 o'clock Thursday morning.

The motion was agreed to and (at 11.55 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until 12.05 o'clock Thursday morning.

SENATE.

THURSDAY, June 28, 1917.

The Senate met at 12.45 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Frank B. McClain) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Our Kind Heavenly Father, only a few hours stand between us and the final adjournment of this Senate. It is but natural that our minds should revert to the delightful experiences through which we have passed. We are all broader-minded and better men because of these experiences. Friendships have been formed here that will never be broken. We have now reached the parting of the ways and must say good bye. We pray thy blessing upon the President of these United States and his advisers; upon His Excellency, the Governor and his Cabinet; all the people of this great Commonwealth; this Senate and its President; the House and its Speaker; the employees of the Senate and the House; and all the members of our families. Help us always to "Do unto others as we would have others do unto us." With one accord we express our feelings in these words:

"Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts in Christian love;
The fellowship of kindred minds,
Is like to that above.

"When we asunder part,
It gives us inward pain,
But we shall still be joined in heart,
And hope to meet again."

This prayer we make in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. CROW, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

CHAPTER 1

Preliminary Provisions

ARTICLE 1

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this act shall be known and may be cited as "The General Township Act" This act shall take effect on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen

Section 2 This act does not include any provisions and shall not be construed to repeal any acts relating to

(a) The procedure for the collection of municipal claims by liens

(b) The amount and method of incurring or increasing bonded indebtedness

(c) Election officers and conduct of elections

(d) Poor districts

(e) Boards of health

(f) Common schools

(g) Constables

(h) Justices of the peace

(i) The giving of municipal consent to public service corporations

(j) State roads State-aid roads and private roads

(k) Validation of elections bonds ordinances and acts of corporate officers

Section 3 The provisions of this act so far as they are the same as those of existing laws are intended as a continuation of such laws and not as new enactments. The repeal by this act of any act of Assembly or part thereof shall not revive any act or part thereof heretofore repealed or superseded nor affect the existence or class of any township heretofore created. The provisions of this act shall not affect any act done liability incurred or right accrued or vested or affect any suit or prosecution pending or to be instituted to enforce any right or penalty or punish any offense under the authority of such repealed laws. All ordinances regulations and rules made pursuant to any Act of Assembly repealed by this act shall continue with the same force and effect as if such act had not been repealed. Any person holding office under any Act of Assembly repealed by this act shall continue to hold such office until the expiration of the term thereof subject to the conditions attached to such office prior to the passage of this act.

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of the provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of any of the remaining provisions of this act.

Section 5 Whenever in this act reference is made to any act by title such reference shall also apply to and include any codification wherein the provisions of the act referred to are substantially re-enacted.

Section 6 This act insofar as it relates to townships of the first class shall apply to all such townships within the Commonwealth and insofar as it relates to townships of the second class shall apply to all such townships within the Commonwealth.

Section 7 Whenever any township of the second class is designated a township of the first class or whenever any township of the first class is re-established as a township of the first class or whenever any township is divided all liabilities incurred rights accrued or vested obligations issued or contracted and all suits and prosecutions pending or to be instituted to enforce any right or penalty accrued or punish any offense committed prior to such change of class or division and all ordinances shall continue with the same force and effect as if no such change or division had been made.

Section 8 Except so far as modified by the provisions of this act all existing laws in force prior to the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine relating to townships shall continue in force as to either class of townships in the same manner as prior to the passage of this act. All laws adopted subsequent to said date not modified by this act shall remain in force in the same manner as prior to the passage of this act.

Section 9 This act does not provide a complete system for the assessment and collection of township taxes. All acts and parts of acts relating to taxation in townships in force prior to the passage of this act which are not re-enacted or specifically repealed by this act shall remain in force as to either class of townships in the same manner as prior to the passage of this act.

CHAPTER II

Classification of Townships

ARTICLE I

Section 15 The townships now in existence and those to be hereafter created are divided into two classes.
Those townships having a population of at least three hundred inhabitants to the square mile shall be townships of the first class. All other townships shall be townships of the second class.

Section 16 Townships of the first class shall include all townships heretofore designated as townships of the first class by the county commissioners of the several counties under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the classification of the townships of the Commonwealth with respect to their population into two classes and to prescribe the form of government for townships of each class" approved the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine and the several amendments thereto and which are now governed by such and also all townships having the requisite population as provided by section fifteen of this act which shall hereafter be designated as townships of the first class under the provisions of this act. All other townships now in existence or hereafter erected or created under the provisions of this act shall be townships of the second class.

CHAPTER III

Creation of Townships

ARTICLE I

Erection of Townships of the Second Class

Section 20 The courts of quarter sessions may upon the presentation of a petition erect new townships of the second class out of parts of two or more townships so as to suit the convenience of the inhabitants thereof.

Section 21 Upon application by petition to the court for the purpose of erecting a new township of the second class the court shall appoint three impartial men to inquire into the propriety of granting the prayer of the petition. The commissioners so appointed or any two of them shall make a plot or draft of the township proposed to be erected if the same cannot be fully designated by natural lines or boundaries all which they or any two of them shall report to the next court of quarter sessions together with their opinion of the same. At the term following the one at which the report was made the court shall make such order thereupon as shall be just and reasonable.

Section 22 Whenever commissioners appointed under the twenty-first section of this act shall report unfavorably to the erection of a new township the court shall direct a second commission or review for the same purposes on the petition of a majority of the voters of the townships affected by said proceedings. Such petition shall be presented to the court at or before the second term thereof after the final confirmation of the report of the first commission.

Section 23 When a return has been made by commissioners appointed under the twenty-first section of this act favorable to the erection of a new township the court shall order a vote of the qualified electors of the township from which the largest number of taxables to be embraced in the proposed new township is to be taken and also of the qualified electors outside of such township residing within the bounds of the proposed new township to be taken on the question of the erection of a new township.

Section 24 The court shall fix a day upon which the election officers of the township from which the largest number of taxables to be embraced in the proposed new township is to be taken shall hold an election at the place fixed by law for holding township elections in said township which election shall be governed by the laws of this Commonwealth relating to township elections. The ballots for said election shall be in the form prescribed by the general election laws. At such election all qualified electors residing within the districts mentioned in section twenty-three of this act may vote.

Section 25 The constable of the township in which the election is to be held or if there be no constable then one of the supervisors or commissioners designated by the court shall give at least fifteen days' notice of the time and place of holding said election by posting not less than six written or printed handbills in public places in each of the townships which are to be divided by the formation of the new township.

Section 26 The election officers after the polls have been closed shall count the ballots and certify before noon of the second day following such election the number of votes for and against a new township to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county. The clerk shall after filing the said returns in his office lay the same before the court at the next session. If it shall appear that a majority of the votes so taken are for a new township the court shall thereupon order and decree a new township agreeably to the lines marked out and returned by the commissioners. If a majority of the votes have been given against a new township no further action shall be had upon said proceedings.

Section 27 When any township of the second class is erected under the provision of this article the court of quarter sessions may authorize the citizens of the new township to hold an election for all township officers upon such notice and for such terms not inconsistent with this act as the court may direct.

Section 28 Whenever a new township is erected by uniting parts of two or more adjoining townships the court of common pleas of the county sitting in equity may upon the application of the proper authorities of such township or townships by a suit or suits in equity adjust all matters of indebtedness between the said old townships and the said new township. In the execution of any decree in any such suit or suits the proper officers of the township liable to pay may levy separate rates of taxation if necessary on the said parts of townships so erected into one.

CHAPTER III

Creation of Townships

ARTICLE II

Designation of Townships of the First Class

Section 30 At any time not less than one year before the time fixed for taking a decennial census of the United States whenever the owners of twenty-five per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of any township of the second class shall present their petition to the court of quarter sessions averring that the population of the township is at least three hundred to the square mile and shall give such security as the court may prescribe for the payment of all costs and expenses which may be incurred in any procedure had upon said petition the court shall appoint a commissioner to make an enrollment of the inhabitants of the township. The said commissioner shall make an enrollment of the inhabitants of such township and make report thereof to the court at the next ensuing term. Upon the filing of the report the same shall be confirmed nisi which confirmation shall become absolute unless excepted to within twenty days thereafter during which time notice of the said filing and confirmation shall be advertised in a newspaper published in the county once a week for three weeks. If exceptions are filed to the report within the said twenty days the court upon consideration thereof shall confirm the report or modify the said finding. After final confirmation the clerk of the court shall certify to the county commissioners the population of the township as shown by the said proceedings. The cost and expenses of the proceedings including a reasonable fee for the commissioner shall be paid by the petitioners or by the township or partly by each as the court shall direct.

Section 31 In addition to the procedure provided by section thirty of this act the county commissioners of each county shall following each decennial census of the United States ascertain from such census whether any township in the county has a population of three hundred inhabitants to the square mile. Before the first day of January following the ascertainment of the population by the decennial census of the United States the county commissioners shall by proclamation designate the townships of the first class if any have the required population. By proclamation to be issued prior to the first day of January of each of the intervening years the county commissioners of each county shall designate the townships if any which have been ascertained to come within the said conditions under the procedure provided in section thirty of this act and to be townships of the first class. All proclamations by the county commissioners shall be advertised in two newspapers published in the county. The cost of the advertisement of any such proclamation shall be paid by the township.

Section 32 In all townships designated as townships of the first class the officers provided for by this act for townships of the first class shall be chosen at the municipal election then next ensuing as provided in chapter five Article one of this act in such cases and the township government constituted by this act for townships of the first class shall go into force on the first Monday of January next ensuing said election. At such time all officers provided for townships of the second class shall cease to exist in such township and the term of the officers then in office shall expire.

Re-establishment of Townships of the Second Class

Section 35 At any time not less than two years before the time fixed for taking a decennial census of the United States whenever twenty or more freeholders residing in any township of the first class shall present their petition to the court of quarter sessions averring that the township no longer has a population of three hundred to the square mile and shall give such security as the court may prescribe for the payment of all costs and expenses which may be incurred in any proceedings had upon said petition the court shall appoint a commissioner to make an enrollment of the inhabitants of the township. The commissioner shall make an enrollment of the inhabitants of such township and make report thereof to the court at the next ensuing term. Upon the filing of the report the same shall be confirmed nisi. The confirmation shall become absolute unless excepted to within twenty days thereafter during which time notice of the said filing and confirmation shall be advertised once a week for three weeks in a newspaper published within the county in general circulation in the district to be affected. If exceptions are filed to the report within said twenty days the court upon consideration thereof shall confirm the report or modify the finding. After final confirmation the clerk of the court shall certify to the county commissioners and to the township commissioners the finding as shown by the proceedings. The costs and expenses of the proceedings including a reasonable fee for the commissioner shall be paid by the petitioners or by the township or partly by each as the court shall direct.

Section 36 The county commissioners in every county of the Commonwealth shall by proclamation issued prior to the first day of January of each year designate the townships if any which since the last preceding proclamation have been ascertained to have less than three hundred inhabitants to the square mile and to be townships of the second class. In all townships so designated the officers provided by this act for townships of the second class shall be chosen at the municipal election then next ensuing and the township government constituted by the act for townships of the second class shall go into force on the first Monday of December next ensuing such election.

CHAPTER III

Creation of Townships

ARTICLE IV

Division of Townships

(a) By Petition Appointment of Commissioners and Election

Section 40 The courts of quarter sessions may upon the presentation of a petition and the bond required by section fifty-five of this act divide any township of the first or second class so as to suit the convenience of the inhabitants thereof.

Section 41 Upon application by petition to the court for the purpose of dividing any township of the first or second class the said court shall appoint three impartial men to inquire into the propriety of granting the prayer of the petition. The commissioners so appointed or any two of them shall make a plot or draft of the township proposed to be divided and the division line proposed to be made therein if the same cannot be fully designated by natural therein or boundaries all which they or any two of them shall report to the next court of quarter sessions together with their opinion of the same. At the term following the one at which the report was made the court shall make such order thereupon as shall be just and reasonable.

Section 42 Whenever commissioners appointed under the forty-first section of this act shall report unfavorably to the division of any township the court shall direct a second commission or review for the same purposes on the petition of a majority of the voters of the township affected by said proceedings. Such petition shall be presented to the court at or before the second term thereof after the final confirmation of the report of the first commission.

Section 43 Whenever a return has been made by commissioners appointed under the provisions of section forty-one of this act favorable to a division the court shall order a vote of the qualified electors of said township to be taken on the question of a division thereof.

Section 44 The court shall fix a day upon which the election officers of the township proposed to be divided shall hold an election at the place fixed by law for holding township elections which election shall be governed by the laws of this Commonwealth relating to township elections. The ballots for said election shall be in the form prescribed by the general election laws.

Section 45 The constable of the townships or if there be no constable then one of the supervisors or commissioners designated by the court shall give at least fifteen days' notice of the time and place of holding said election by posting not less than six written or printed handbills in public places in said township.

Section 46 The election officers after the polls have been closed shall count the ballots and certify before noon of the second day following such election the number of votes for or against a division to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county. The clerk shall after filing the said returns in his office lay the same before the court at the next sessions. If it shall appear that a majority of the votes so taken are for a division the court shall thereupon order and decree a division of the township agreeably to the lines marked out and returned by the commissioners. If a majority of votes have been against a division no further action shall be had upon such proceedings.

(b) By Petition of Property Owners and Election

Section 50 Whenever the owners of twenty-five per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of any township of the first or second class shall make application by petition to the court of quarter sessions setting forth that the convenience of the inhabitants of such township will be promoted by a division thereof and shall in said petition accurately describe the proposed division line by courses and distances or natural marks and accompany the same with a plot or draft showing the existing lines of the township proposed to be divided and the proposed division line the court shall order a vote of the qualified electors of the township to be taken on the question of such division. The court shall fix a day upon which the election officers of the township proposed to be divided shall hold an election at the place fixed by law for the holding of township elections which election shall be governed by the laws relating to township elections.

Section 51 The constable of the township or if there be no constable then one of the supervisors or commissioners designated by the court shall give at least fifteen days' notice of the time and place of the holding of said election by posting not less than ten handbills written or printed in public places in said township.

Section 52 The ballots to be deposited by the electors shall be prepared in the form prescribed by the general election law. The officers after the polls have been closed shall count the ballots and certify within two days thereafter the number of votes for and against division to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions and shall file in the office of said clerk the ballots cast at said election. The clerk shall lay said returns and ballots before the court at the next session thereof. If it shall appear that the majority of the votes so taken are "for division" the court shall therefore order and decree a division of the township agreeably to the lines set forth in the petition. If a majority of votes are "against division" no further action shall be had upon such proceedings. If there is any difficulty in locating the division line described in the petition upon the ground the court may appoint commissioners for that purpose.

(c) Pay of Commissioners Surveyors Artists and Chain-Carriers

Section 55 The pay of the commissioners appointed to divide townships and to establish township division lines shall be three dollars ($3.00) the pay of surveyors or artists shall be five dollars ($5.00) and the pay of chain-carriers shall be one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) for each day necessarily employed and five cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in the discharge of their duties. The same shall be paid by the county at the time of the session or term of court to which their report is rendered and filed. The petitioners asking for their appointment shall pay the same amount into the county treasury in all such cases as the court by order may direct. The court shall require the petitioners to file a bond with their petition in a sufficient sum to secure the payment of the same.

(d) Adjustment of Indebtedness

Section 60 Whenever a township of the first or second class has been divided the court of common pleas of the county sitting in equity may upon the application of the proper authorities of said townships or either of them by a suit or suits in equity adjust all matters of indebtedness between the said new townships. In the execution of any decree in any such suit or suits the proper officers of the township liable to pay may levy separate rates of taxation if necessary on the said parts of townships so divided.

(e) Organization of Townships Formed by the Division of a Township

Section 65 All townships formed under the provisions of this article by the division of any township of the first or second class shall be townships of the second class. The part of the township of the first class or of the township of the second class as the case may be remaining after such division shall remain a township of the first class or second class as the case may be until determined otherwise. In all townships so formed the officers provided by this act for townships of the second class shall be chosen at the next municipal election occurring at least three months after such formation and the government constituted by this act for townships of the second class shall go into force on the first Monday of December next following such election.

CHAPTER IV

Township Lines and Boundaries

(a) Altering and Ascertaining Township Lines and Boundaries

Section 70 The courts of quarter sessions may upon the presentation of a petition alter the lines of any two or more adjoining townships of the first or second class so as to suit the convenience of the inhabitants thereof and cause the lines or boundaries of townships to be ascertained and established.

Section 71 Upon application by petition to the court for the purpose of altering the lines of any township or of ascertaining and establishing the lines or boundaries of any township the court shall appoint three impartial men to inquire into the propriety of granting the prayer of the petition. The commissioners so appointed or any two of them shall make a plot or draft of the lines of such adjoining townships proposed to be altered or of the lines proposed to be ascertained and established if the same cannot be fully designated by natural lines or boundaries all which they or any two of them shall report to the next court of quarter sessions together with their opinion of the same. At the term following the one at which the report was made the court shall make such order thereupon as shall be just and reasonable.

Section 72 In all cases where commissioners are appointed under the seventy-first section of this act the court shall direct a second commission or review for the same purposes on the petition of a majority of the voters of the township or townships affected by said proceedings. Such petition shall be presented to the court at or before the second term thereof after the final confirmation of the report of the first commission.

Section 73 Whenever the boundaries of any township or townships have been altered the court of common pleas sitting in equity may upon application of the supervisors commissioners poor authorities or school directors of any such township poor district or school district by a suit or suits in equity adjust the taxes debts and expenses for road school and poor purposes between the several townships affected. In the execution of any decree the officers of the township poor district or school district liable to pay may levy separate rates of taxation if necessary on the said parts of such townships so affected.

(b) Ascertaining and Establishing Disputed Lines and Boundaries Between Townships and Townships and Municipalities

Section 80 The courts of quarter sessions may upon the presentation of a petition ascertain and establish disputed lines and boundaries between two or more townships between townships and cities or between townships and boroughs.

Section 81 Upon application by petition to the court for the purpose of ascertaining and establishing any such disputed lines or boundaries the court shall appoint three impartial men one of whom shall be a surveyor. After having given notice to parties interested as directed by the court the commissioners shall view the said lines or boundaries. The commissioners or any two of them shall make a plot or draft of the lines and boundaries proposed to be ascertained and established if the same cannot be fully designated by natural lines or boundaries all of which they or any two of them shall report to the next court of quarter sessions together with their opinion of the same. At the term following the one at which the report was made the court shall make such order thereupon as shall be just and reasonable.

Section 82 Any person interested may petition the court for a review or may except to the report of the commissioners When matters of fact are in dispute the court may frame an issue and certify the same for trial to the court of common pleas

Section 83 Whenever any such line or boundary is established the court shall cause the same to be marked with stone monuments placed at intervals not exceeding fifteen hundred feet and the expense of establishing said line or boundary and placing of said monuments when approved by the court shall be borne equally by the municipalities and townships interested

(c) Pay of Commissioners Surveyors Artists and Chain Carriers

Section 90 The pay of commissioners appointed to run township lines shall be three dollars ($3.00) the pay of surveyors or artists shall be five dollars ($5.00) and the pay of chain carriers shall be one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) for each day necessarily employed and five cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in the discharge of their duties. The same shall be paid by the county at the time of the session or term of court to which their report is rendered and filed. The petitioners asking for their appointment shall pay the same amount into the county treasury in all such cases as the court by order may direct. The court shall require the petitioners to file a bond with their petition in a sufficient sum to secure the payment of the same

(d) Center Line of Navigable Stream as Boundary

Section 95 Whenever any township of the first or second class is bounded by the nearest margin of any navigable stream and the opposite township borough or city as the case may be is also bounded by the nearest margin of the same stream the middle of such stream shall be the boundary between such townships township and borough or township and city

CHAPTER V

Election of Officers Vacancies in Office

In Townships of the First Class

(a) General Provisions

Section 100 No person shall be eligible to any office in any township of the first class unless he is an elector of the township for which he is chosen

Section 101 Officers of townships of the first class shall hold their offices until their successors are elected and qualified

Section 102 The electors of each township of the first class shall elect (a) at least five township commissioners or where there are more than five election districts in any township then as many as there are election districts (b) one township treasurer (c) one township assessor and two assistant assessors and (d) three township auditors

Section 110. At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and every four years thereafter there shall be elected by the qualified voters of each even-numbered election district of townships of the first class one township commissioner who need not reside in the election district for which he is elected in townships of the first class having five or less election districts the number of commissioners of such township shall be five. The remaining number of commissioners to which the said township is entitled as aforesaid including the commissioners now holding office for the odd-numbered election districts of the said township shall hold over and continue in said office until the first Monday in January in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty. At the township election to be held on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November in the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen and every four years thereafter the qualified voters of each odd-numbered election district of every township of the first class shall elect one commissioner who need not reside in the election district for which he is elected and the remaining number of commissioners to which the said township is entitled as aforesaid shall at the same time be elected by the qualified voters of the whole township. All commissioners hereafter elected shall hold office for the term of four years

When any township of the first class is organized there shall be elected at the municipal election following one township commissioner from each election district who need not reside in the election district for which he is elected. In any such townships having less than five election districts the number of township commissioners shall be five and the number of commissioners equal to the difference between five and the number of election districts shall be elected at large. At such election the township commissioners elected in even-numbered districts shall be elected for a term of two years and the township commissioners elected at large and in odd-numbered districts shall be elected for a term of four years or vice versa as the case may be in order that the terms may harmonize with the elections in townships organized prior to the passage of this act

After the passage of this act upon application the court of common pleas of the proper county shall number all election districts not numbered in townships of the first class and cause the same to be certified to the county commissioners

Section 111 The notice of any primary election or nominating caucus convention or meeting held for the purpose of nominating candidates for the office of township commissioner and the notice of any election of township commissioners shall designate for what election district of the township each commissioner is to be nominated or elected as the case may be. In case any one or more of the township commissioners is to be elected by vote of the qualified electors of the township at large the notice shall so state. The ballots to be cast at any election for township commissioners shall designate under an appropriate heading the candidate for the office of township commissioner for whom the qualified electors of the election district are entitled to cast their ballots and under an appropriate heading the candidate or candidates for the office of township commissioner which are to be elected by the electors of the township at large

(c) Treasurer

Section 115 At the municipal election in the year preceding the expiration of the term of the treasurer now in office or at the municipal election following the designation of a township of the first class and at the municipal election every four years thereafter the qualified electors of each township of the first class shall elect a township treasurer. The township treasurer elected under this section shall hold office for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next following his election

The same person may hold the office of township treasurer and treasurer of the school board but no township treasurer shall hold the office of township auditor

(d) Assessor and Assistant Assessors

Section 120 At the municipal election in the year preceding the expiration of the term of the assessor now in office or at the municipal election following the designation of a township of the first class and at the municipal election every four years thereafter the qualified electors of each township of the first class shall elect a township assessor. The township assessor elected under this section shall hold office for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next following his election

Section 121 In all townships of the first class now organized the qualified electors shall at the municipal election preceding the expiration of the term of the assistant assessors now in office and at the municipal election every four years thereafter elect two citizens resident in said township to be assistant assessors to take the place of those whose terms expire on the first Monday of January next following such election

In all townships hereafter designated as townships of the first class the qualified electors of such township shall at the municipal election next following such designation elect two citizens resident in said township to be assistant assessors

All assessors elected under the provisions of this section shall hold their office for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next following their election

The election of assistant assessors provided for in this section shall extend only to the election of assistant assessors for the valuation of property for taxation and shall not repeal or affect the provisions of any statute providing for the election of assistant assessors for the performance of duties relating to elections. The assistant assessors elected under this section shall aid the township assessor only in making any triennial assessment of property made during their respective terms of office

(e) Auditors

Section 125 In every township of the first class there shall be three auditors who shall hold their office for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next following their election. These auditors shall be elected as follows

In townships now organized at the municipal election preceding the expiration of the term of any of the auditors now in office and at the municipal election every two years thereafter the qualified electors of each township of the first classes shall elect one or two auditors as the case may be to take the place of those whose terms expire on the first Monday of January next following such election

In all townships hereafter designated as townships of the first class the qualified electors of such townships shall at the municipal election next following such designation elect three auditors. Two of the auditors so elected shall hold office for a term of four years and one for a term of two years. The ballots at any such election shall designate the term for which each auditor is elected. At each municipal election following the electors of such township shall elect one or two auditors as the case may be to take the place of those whose terms expire on the first Monday of January next following such election

(f) Vacancies in Office

Section 130 When a vacancy occurs in the office of township commissioner in any township of the first class by reason of death resignation removal from the township or otherwise the court of quarter sessions upon the petition of ten qualified voters of the district in which the vacancy occurs may appoint a qualified voter of the township to fill such vacancy. If such petition is not presented to the court within thirty days after such vacancy occurs the board of township commissioners of the township may appoint a qualified voter of the township to fill the vacancy. In either event the person so appointed shall hold office for the unexpired term of the person whose place he is appointed to fill

Section 131 The board of township commissioners of townships of the first class may fill any vacancy occurring in the office of township treasurer by death resignation reremoval from the township or otherwise. The person so appointed shall hold office for the unexpired term of the person whose place he is appointed to fill.

Section 132 When a vacancy occurs in the office of township auditor in any township of the first class by reason of the death resignation removal from the township or otherwise the court of quarter sessions shall appoint a suitable person to fill such vacancy for the unexpired term of the person whose place he is appointed to fill.

Section 133 Vacancies in the office of assessor or assistant assessors in townships of the first class shall be filled in the manner now provided by law.

CHAPTER V

Election of Officers Vacancies in Office

In Townships of the Second Class

(a) General Provisions

Section 140 No person shall be eligible to any office in any township of the second class unless he is an elector of the township for which he is chosen.

Section 141 The electors of each township of the second class shall elect (a) three township supervisors (b) one township assessor (c) three township auditors and (d) one tax collector.

(b) Supervisors

Section 145 At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and at the municipal election every two years thereafter the qualified electors of each township of the second class shall elect one township supervisor. All township supervisors elected under this section shall hold their office for a term of six years from the first Monday of December next following their election.

Section 146 Whenever a township of the second class is created by the division of a township of the first or second class under the provisions of Chapter three Article four of this act or whenever a township of the second class is created by re-establishment from a township of the first class as provided in Chapter three Article three of this act or when a township of the second class is erected under the provisions of Chapter three Article one of this act and in the latter case the court so orders the qualified electors of such township shall at the next ensuing municipal election elect three township supervisors one for a term of two years one for a term of four years and one for a term of six years. The ballot shall designate the term for which each township supervisor is elected. The township supervisors so elected shall hold office from the first Monday of December next following their election.

Biennially thereafter at each succeeding municipal election the electors of such township of the second class shall elect one township supervisor for a term of six years to serve from the first Monday of December next following such election.

(c) Auditors

Section 150 At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and at the municipal election every two years thereafter the qualified electors of each township of the second class shall elect one township auditor. All township auditors elected under this section shall hold office for a term of six years from the first Monday of December next following their election.

No auditor shall at the same time hold the office of constable.

Section 151 In all townships of the second class now organized which have been electing township auditors for four year terms an auditor shall be elected at the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen for a term of six years commencing on the first Monday of December next succeeding his election. At every biennial municipal election thereafter an auditor shall be elected in each of such townships for a term of six years from the first Monday of December next succeeding his election.

If at any time any of such townships shall be without the required number of auditors provided by this act for townships of the second class vacancies shall exist and the court of quarter sessions shall appoint an auditor or auditors to fill such vacancies the auditors so appointed shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified under the provisions of this section.

Section 152 Whenever a township of the second class is created by the division of a township of the first or second class under the provisions of chapter three article four of this act or whenever a township of the second class is created by re-establishment from a township of the first class as provided in chapter three article three of this act or when a township of the second class is erected under the provisions of chapter three article one of this act and in the latter case the court so orders the qualified electors of such township shall at the next ensuing municipal election elect three township auditors one for a term of two years one for a term of four years and one for a term of six years. The ballot shall designate the term for which each township auditor is elected. The township auditors so elected shall hold office from the first Monday of December next following their election.

Biennially thereafter at each succeeding municipal election the electors of such township of the second class shall elect one township auditor for a term of six years to serve from the first Monday of December next following such election.

(d) Assessor

Section 160 At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and at the municipal election every four years thereafter the qualified electors of each township of the second class shall elect one township assessor. The township assessor elected under this section shall hold his office for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next following his election.

Section 161 Whenever a township of the second class is created by the division of a township of the first or second class under the provisions of chapter three article four of this act or whenever a township of the second class is created by re-establishment from a township of the first class as provided by chapter three article three of this act or whenever a township of the second class is erected under the provisions of chapter three article one of this act and in the latter case the court so orders the qualified electors of any such township shall at the next municipal election elect one township assessor for either of the following terms to-wit: If such election occurs in the year in which an election for assessor is held under the provisions of section one hundred and seven of this act then such assessor shall be elected for a term of four years. If such election occurs in a year when no assessor is elected under the provisions of said section one hundred and sixty then such assessor shall be elected for a term of two years.

All assessors elected under this section shall hold their office for a term of two or four years as the case may be from the first Monday of January next following their election.

At the municipal election preceding the expiration of the term of any of the aforesaid assessors and at the municipal election every four years thereafter an assessor shall be elected for a term of four years to hold office from the first Monday of January next succeeding such election.

Section 162 The provisions of section one hundred and sixty and one hundred and sixty-one relating to the election of assessors in townships of the second class shall not repeal nor affect the provisions of any statute providing for the election of assistant assessors for the performance of duties relating to elections.

(e) Tax Collector

Section 170 At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and at the municipal election every four years thereafter the qualified electors of each township of the second class shall elect one tax collector to serve for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next succeeding such election.

Section 171 Whenever a township of the second class is created by the division of a township of the first or second class under the provisions of chapter three article four of this act or whenever a township of the second class is created by re-establishment from a township of the first class as provided by chapter three article three of this act whenever a township of the second class is erected under the provisions of chapter three article one of this act and in the latter case the court so orders the qualified electors of such township shall at the next municipal election elect one tax collector for either of the following terms to-wit: If such election occurs in the year in which an election for tax collector is held under the provisions of section one hundred and seventy of this act then such tax collector shall be elected for a term of four years. If such election occurs in a year when no tax collector is elected under the provisions of said section one hundred and seventy then such tax collector shall be elected for a term of two years.

All tax collectors elected under this section shall hold their office for a term of two or four years as the case may be from the first Monday of January next following their election.

At the municipal election preceding the expiration of the term of any of the aforesaid tax collectors and at the municipal election every four years thereafter a tax collector shall be elected for a term of four years to hold office from the first Monday of January next succeeding such election.

(f) Vacancies in Office

Section 180 If the electors of any township of the second class shall fail to choose a township supervisor or if any person elected to such office shall neglect or refuse to serve therein or if a vacancy shall occur in the office by death resignation or otherwise the court of quarter sessions shall upon the presentation of a petition signed by a supervisor and not less than ten voters who are owners of real estate in the township appoint a person to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term of the person whose place he is appointed to fill.

In all cases where a vacancy occurs in the board of township supervisors from any cause and within a reasonable time thereafter no petition for the appointment of a person to fill such vacancy has been presented to the court the two remaining supervisors may appoint a successor to fill the office for the unexpired term. When a vacancy is filled by the remaining supervisors they shall within fifteen days thereafter certify such appointment to the clerk of quarter sessions.

Section 181 When a vacancy occurs in the office of township auditor in any township of the second class by reason of death resignation removal from the township or otherwise the court of quarter sessions shall appoint a suitable person to fill such vacancy for the unexpired term of the person whose place he is appointed to fill.

Section 182 Vacancies in the office of assessor in townships of the second class shall be filled in the manner now provided by law.

Section 183 If the electors of any township of the second class shall fail to choose a tax collector or if any person elected to such office shall fail to qualify or if a vacancy shall occur in the office by death resignation or otherwise the court of quarter sessions shall upon presentation of a petition of any citizen who is a resident of the township setting forth the facts appoint a person to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term of the person whose place he is appointed to fill

In cases when the person elected to the office shall fail to qualify the court before making the appointment shall declare the office vacant

Whenever a vacancy exists in the office of tax collector in any township of the second class and no person resident within the township is willing to accept the appointment to fill such vacancy the authorities authorized to levy and assess taxes in the township may petition the court of quarter sessions for the appointment of a tax collector whereupon the court may appoint any citizen of the county to collect such taxes

Clause one of this act and of defraying the cost charges and expenses thereof.

An annual tax so long as necessary not exceeding fifty per centum of the rate of assessment for road purposes for the purpose of procuring a lot and erecting a building thereon for a town house and for the payment of indebtedness incurred in connection therewith.

The taxes authorized to be levied by this section shall be levied upon the last adjusted valuation for county purposes which valuation shall be furnished to the township supervisors by the county commissioners. If any further adjustment of valuation is made by the county commissioners after any tax is so levied and before said tax is payable such adjusted valuation shall be certified to the township supervisors and to the township collector of taxes by the commissioners and the tax shall be collected on the basis of such adjusted valuation.

This article does not include the levy of any taxes upon particular districts or parts of any township for particular purposes.

Section 422 In addition to the levies provided for in the preceding section when it is shown to the court of quarter sessions that the debts due by any township exceed the amount which the supervisors may collect in any year by taxation the court after ascertaining the amount of indebtedness of any such township may by a writ of mandamus direct the township supervisors by special taxation to collect an amount sufficient to pay the same. If the amount of such indebtedness is so large as to render it unadvisable to collect the same in any one year taking into consideration other necessary taxation the court may direct the same to be levied and collected by annual instalments any may order such special taxes to be levied and collected during such successive years as may be required for payment of the same.

Section 423 The township supervisors shall make or cause a duplicate to be made designating the amount of road tax levied against each taxpayer of the township and also duplicates for all other taxes levied and assessed under the provisions of this article and shall deliver the same to the township collector together with a warrant for the collection of the same which taxes shall be collected as follows namely: To all taxpayers who pay their taxes to the collector before June first of each year an abatement of five per centum shall be made all road taxes paid to the collector between June first and October first of each year shall be paid in full and to all road taxes remaining unpaid on the first of October in each year the collector shall add five per centum as penalty for such delinquency and shall collect said penalty in addition to the tax levied said penalty to be his compensation for collecting said delinquent taxes.

Section 424 Where any duplicate of taxes assessed is issued and delivered to the collector of taxes he shall give public notice as soon thereafter as conveniently can be done by at least ten written or printed notices to be posted in as many public places in different parts of the township. Such notice shall state that the duplicate has been issued and delivered to him.

Section 425 Each tax collector of the several townships of this Commonwealth within thirty days after receiving the tax duplicate shall notify every taxable whose name shall appear on such duplicate. Such notice shall contain the rate of taxation the valuation of the property of such taxable the occupation of such taxable and the full amount of taxes for which said taxable shall be liable for the current year. Such notice shall further state that such taxes are payable shall designate a place and time when they shall be paid and shall further state the time within which an abatement of tax will be allowed when full amount of tax will be collected and when an additional percentage will be added as a penalty. Such notice shall be mailed to the last known post office address of each of said taxables.

Before any allowance is made by the boards of supervisors for commissions due the collector of taxes he shall make an affidavit setting forth that he has complied with the provisions of this section.

Section 426 The collector of taxes shall collect the taxes charged in said duplicates and pay over the same to the treasurer or authorities entitled thereto after deducting his commission for the collection thereof. All taxes collected before the first day of June shall be paid over within fifteen days thereafter by the collector. All taxes thereafter collected during his term of office shall be paid over at regular intervals of one month. A complete settlement of all taxes collected shall be made by the collector of taxes with the treasurer not later than three months after the expiration of his term of office.

Section 427 The compensation of the tax collector shall be two per centum on all general road taxes collected prior to the first day of June of each year and five per centum on all such taxes collected between the first day of June and the first day of October. For the collection of road taxes collected after the first day of October the collector shall receive the penalty added to such taxes as provided in section four hundred and twenty-three of this act. For the collection of special road taxes and all township taxes other than general road taxes his compensation shall be five per centum of the amount collected.

Section 428 The tax collector shall keep correct accounts of all moneys collected marking "paid" on his duplicate each taxable with the amount of tax and the date on which paid. The collector shall on the first day of each month make a true statement in writing to the secretary of the board of supervisors of all taxes collected during the previous month giving names of taxables and amount collected from each and the total amount received. The collector shall pay over on the first day of each month to the treasurer all moneys collected during the previous month and take his receipt for same. Any tax collector who neglects or refuses to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or to be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year or both.

Section 429 The tax collector may retain out of the taxes collected by them such actual printing and postage expenses as shall be incurred by him in performing his duties. Such amount shall be adjusted by the boards of supervisors.

Section 430 The supervisors shall at all times make abatements or exonerations for mistakes indigent persons unseated lands et cetera as to them shall appear just and reasonable. The township secretary shall enter in a book or books to be kept for that purpose the names of all persons abated or exonerated together with the reason why the amount of the tax and date when made and give to the collector a certificate directed to the treasurer stating the nature of the tax and the amount exonerated in order to make settlement accordingly.

Section 431 The accounts of the collector of taxes shall be settled by the township auditors. The tax collector shall state a separate account for each different tax collected by him.

Section 432 Each township of the second class shall receive annually from the State fifty per centum of the total amount of road tax collected by such township as shown by the sworn statement of the board of township supervisors contained in the annual report furnished to the State Highway Commissioner on or before the first day of January in each year. No township shall receive in any one year more than twenty dollars for each mile of township road in said township. Such distribution shall be made on a basis of an average amount to each mile of township road.

Section 433 Upon receipt of the sworn statement from the board of township supervisors the State Highway Commissioner shall certify to the Auditor General the amount due the respective townships. The Auditor General shall draw a warrant upon the State Treasurer for the payment of the amount due such township payable to the treasurer of the board of township supervisors which shall be paid out of the money appropriated for that purpose. No such payment shall be made until the township treasurer has filed with the State Highway Commissioner a certified copy of his bond nor until the agreement for the expenditure of such State money together with the township's money has been made and approved as hereinafter provided for.

Section 434 Whenever the township highway funds together with funds appropriated by the General Assembly for State aid to township roads have been exhausted the board of supervisors may issue a certificate of indebtedness and borrow on the credit of the township money in anticipation of taxes to be collected to the end that work may be performed in proper season and in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed.

Section 435 Upon the neglect or refusal of the supervisors of any township to carry out the instructions rules and regulations of the State Highway Commissioner then the State Highway Commissioner may withhold from such township the amount to which it would otherwise be entitled for the year in which said neglect or refusal occurred.

Section 436 The State Highway Department shall furnish blanks to the supervisors in which said supervisors or a majority of them shall make a sworn statement that the money has been expended in building repairing maintaining dragging and improving the township roads according to the instructions standards and specifications or the rules and regulations prescribed by the State Highway Department so far as the available funds and local conditions make it possible.

Section 437 The provisions of sections four hundred and thirty-three to four hundred and thirty-seven inclusive in so far as they provide that each township of the second class shall receive annually from the State fifty per centum of the total amount of road tax collected by such township but not to exceed twenty dollars per mile are hereby suspended until the following conditions have been fulfilled.

Instead of fifty per centum of such road tax being paid by the State to the township in the manner provided by said sections such township shall be entitled to receive annually from the State such fifty per centum but not exceeding twenty dollars per mile which however shall be first applied to the payment and satisfaction of any deficiency due the township under the provisions of an act approved the twelfth day of April one thousand nine hundred five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred forty-two) entitled "An Act providing for the election and appointment for road supervisors in the several townships of the second class of this Commonwealth defining their duties authorizing them to make repair and maintain roads and bridges let contracts for the same levy and collect taxes employ labor divide townships into districts appoint roadmasters and treasurer purchase road-making implements and machines prescribing penalties for violation of this act and requiring the road supervisors to report to township auditors and to the State Highway Commissioner from time to time and for the payment of a percentage of road tax to townships that abolish the work tax and for the repeal of all laws general local or special inconsistent herewith or supplied hereby" as amended and of an act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred forty-two) entitled "An Act relating to roads providing for the election and appointment of township supervisors in second class townships defining their powers duties and limitations relating to road tax and the expenditures thereof abolishing the work tax defining certain duties of the clerk of court fixing penalties for violation of this act and making an appropriation to carry out its provisions" and of an act approved the twenty-second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred fifteen) entitled "An Act relating to roads providing for the supervision construction maintenance and repair of township roads relating to road tax and providing penalties for the violation thereof" until such deficiencies have been paid.

All moneys so appropriated and paid by the Commonwealth in payment and satisfaction of said deficiency if any shall be paid out and expended in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Section 438 Moneys levied and collected by the township authorities or received from the State as aid for township roads shall be expended at such place and in such manner as may be agreed upon by the board of supervisors. Such agreement which shall be upon a blank furnished by the State Highway Commissioner shall be written and signed in triplicate by a majority or all of the members of the board and shall be approved by the superintendent in charge of such county or district and the State Highway Commissioner before the same shall take effect and before the States' money shall be paid to the township treasurer. One of such triplicate copies shall be filed with the township treasurer one in the office of the superintendent of the county or district and one with the State Highway Commissioner.

Section 439 The fiscal year in townships of the second class shall expire on the day before the first Monday in December in each year. All receipts disbursements contracts or purchases subsequent to that date shall be chargeable to and entered as of record in the fiscal year following.

Section 535 Any township of the first class may pave curb or macadamize with brick stone or other suitable materials any public street or thoroughfare or part thereof laid out and opened in the township. No street or thoroughfare or any part thereof shall be paved under the provisions of this section except upon the petition of two-thirds of the owners of property representing not less than two-thirds in number of feet front of the properties abutting on the street or thoroughfare or the part thereof proposed to be paved.

Section 536 Two-thirds of the cost and expenses of any such improvement may be collected from the owners of the real estate abutting on such street or thoroughfare or part thereof by an equal assessment on the feet front. Such assessment shall be estimated by the person in charge of the work or by other competent authority designated by the township commissioners.

Section 537 All assessments for paving curbing or macadamizing under section five hundred and thirty-six of this act shall be filed with the township secretary. The secretary shall give thirty days' written or printed notice that the assessments are due and payable to each party assessed either by service on the owner or agent or left on the assessed premises. If the assessments or any of them remain unpaid at the expiration of said thirty days they shall be placed in the hands of the township solicitor for collection. The solicitor shall collect the same together with five per centum additional as attorney's commission and interest from the completion of the improvement by a municipal claim filed against the delinquent owner in like manner as municipal claims are now collected. When an owner has two or more lots against which there is an assessment for the same improvement all such lots shall be embraced in one claim.

Section 538 The term "owner" means all individual corporations public or private co-partnerships and associations having any title or interest in the property assessed. If the owner to whom notice is required to be given is a non-resident of the township and his or her or their place of residence is unknown or if the ownership of the property cannot be ascertained the notice shall be posted on the premises and a copy left with the occupant if there be one.

(d) Grading Paving Curbing Macadamizing or Otherwise Improving Streets etc. Upon Petition of a Majority of Property Owners and Assessment of Costs Damages and Expenses According to Benefits.

Section 550 Townships of the first class may upon petition of a majority of property owners in interest based upon the number of feet abutting on the line of the proposed improvement verified by affidavit of one of the parties to the petition grade pave curb macadamize or otherwise improve any street or public alley or part thereof within its limits or which may be in whole or in part boundaries thereof.

Section 551 The majority in interest required for a petition to the township commissioners shall be fixed as of the date of the presentation of the petition. After the passage or approval of any ordinance for the grading paving macadamizing or otherwise improving any street lane or alley notice shall within ten days be given by hand-bills posted in conspicuous places along the line of the proposed improvement. Such notice shall state the fact of the passage or approval of the ordinance the date of the passage or approval that the petition for the improvement was signed by a majority in interest and number of owners of property abutting on the line of the proposed improvement and that any person interested denying the fact that the petition was so signed may appeal to the court of common pleas within sixty days from the passage or approval of the ordinance.

Section 552 The court shall determine whether the improvement was petitioned for by the requisite majority. If the court finds that it was not so petitioned for it shall quash the ordinance. If said court finds that it was so petitioned for it shall approve the ordinance. If no appeal is taken or if the court on appeal approves the ordinance the township may proceed with the improvement. Thereafter all parties interested shall be estopped from denying the fact that the petition was signed by the requisite majority of property owners as required by this act.

Section 553 The township or any person or persons interested may at any time after such work or labor has been done or material furnished or damage done present a petition in the court of common pleas or to any law judge thereof in vacation. The court shall appoint three viewers from the county board of viewers and appoint a time not less than twenty or more than thirty days thereafter when the viewers shall meet upon the line of the proposed improvement and view the same and the premises affected thereby. The viewers shall give at least ten days' notice of the time of their first meeting by publication in one or more newspapers published in the township or of general circulation therein and by handbills posted upon the premises or otherwise as the court shall direct.

Section 554 The viewers having been sworn or affirmed faithfully justly and impartially to decide and a true report to make concerning all matters and things to be submitted to them or in relation to which they are authorized to inquire and having viewed the premises and examined the property shall hear all parties interested and their witnesses. They shall estimate and determine the value of property taken injured or destroyed and to whom the same is payable and shall assess the costs and expenses of the grading paving curbing macadamizing or otherwise improving said street lane or alley and the damages for property taken injured or destroyed upon the property benefited according to benefits.

Section 555 The viewers shall prepare a schedule of the damages and benefits as determined in the preceding section and shall give notice to all parties to whom damages are allowed or upon whom assessments for benefits are made of a time not less than ten days after the date of such notice and of a place where said viewers shall meet and exhibit said schedule and hear all exceptions thereto and evidence thereon. Notice of the time and place of such meeting shall be given in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons in personal actions upon all parties allowed damages or assessed benefits as shown by said schedule if the parties can be found in the township or upon an adult person residing on the property affected by the assessment in case the owner or reputed owner cannot be found and to all other persons by publication in the newspaper in which the first notice of the view was published. When no service is made upon the owner reputed owner or upon an adult person residing on the property affected the notice where publication thereof has been made shall be properly served if tacked or conspicuously posted upon the premises.

Section 556 After making whatever changes are necessary the viewers shall make report to the court showing damages and benefits allowed and assessed in each case and shall file therewith a plan showing the improvement the properties taken injured or destroyed thereby and the properties benefited.

Section 557 The damages sustained and the costs and expenses incurred by making the improvements may be paid either in whole or in part by the township or in whole or in part by assessments upon the property benefited as the viewers may determine and the court approved.

If assessments are made on the property benefited the viewers shall first estimate and determine the damages apart from the benefits and shall then assess the damages or so much thereof as they deem just and reasonable upon the properties peculiarly benefited by the improvements. All property for which damages have been allowed may be included in the assessment. If in the judgment of the viewers such properties will be benefited by the improvements the viewers shall report the assessments to the court. The total assessment for benefits shall not exceed the total costs damages and expenses awarded and agreed upon.

Section 558 When said report is filed notice shall be given by publication once in the newspaper or newspapers publishing the notice provided for in section five hundred and fifty-three of this act the notice shall state the date of the filing of the report and shall contain a schedule of the damages and benefits as shown therein. The notice shall further state that unless exceptions to the report are filed or an appeal for a jury trial is demanded within thirty days from the date of its filing the report will be confirmed absolutely.

Section 559 The viewers may be appointed at any time before or after the entry taking appropriation or injury of any property or materials for constructing said improvements or before or after the commencement of the improvements. All court costs incurred in the proceedings shall be defrayed by the township.

Section 560 Upon the filing of the report of the viewers or any two of them in the court any party interested may within thirty days thereafter file exceptions thereto. The court may confirm the report or modify change or otherwise correct the same or change the assessments made therein or refer the report back to the same or new viewers with like power as to their report. When the report is first filed in court the prothonotary thereof shall mark it confirmed nisi and in case no exceptions are filed thereto within thirty days he shall enter a decree as of course that the report is confirmed absolutely.

Section 561 Within thirty days after the report is filed any party whose property is taken injured or destroyed or who is assessed benefits may appeal to the court of common pleas and demand a trial by jury. Upon the trial of any such appeal in court the report of the viewers as finally approved confirmed modified or changed by the court shall be prima facie evidence of the benefits therein mentioned. In case the party appellant does not obtain a verdict more favorable than the report of the viewers as finally confirmed modified or changed the appellant shall not recover any costs on the appeal.

Section 562 Within six months after the confirmation modification changing or correction of any report or after the verdict of the jury and final judgment any interested party may appeal to the Superior or Supreme Court.

Section 563 No such appeals shall prevent the filing of liens by any township of the first class for any assessment made by said report. Upon the final determination of the issue the court shall make such order as to liens filed as shall appear right and proper.

Section 564 The report as finally confirmed shall be conclusive as to any assessments made therein to pay the costs damages an expenses of the improvement.

All assessments for benefits to pay damages costs and expenses shall bear interest at the expiration of thirty days after they are finally ascertained and fixed and shall be payable to the treasurer or proper officer of the township.

Section 565 The right of petition for appointment of the board of viewers the right of exception thereto and of appeal to the Superior and Supreme Court is hereby conferred upon any taxpayer of such township who would be affected by the portion of the cost damages and expenses imposed upon the township if the township authorities shall fail within six months after final decree of confirmation absolute of any report of viewers to file a municipal lien for the amount of assessment against any owner or reputed owner any taxpayers of the township may within six months thereafter file such lien on behalf of the township within said period of six months and may take any necessary steps for collection and revival thereof no appeal from the assessment in said report of damages for property taken injured or destroyed or from any assessment of such damages upon properties taken injured or destroyed shall have the effect of delaying the absolute confirmation of the report as to all assessments unappealed from or from which no appeal shall lie and in any proceeding to enforce collection of any lien no defense shall be permitted to be imposed which might have been set up on exception to or appeal from the report of said viewers
